

PUBLIC SCHOOL CRICKET IN 1936.

By A. PODMORE.

The Cricket Season of 1936 will go down in history as the worst in the memory of nearly two generations and one has to turn back to 1879 to find a parallel. Match after match had to be scratched, and the sides received little chance of settling down, added to which there occurred a greater amount of illness than the schools are generally heir to in the Summer Term. Some were more unfortunate than others. Clifton, whose two-day fixtures with Rugby and Cheltenham had been abandoned without a ball being bowled, travelled on the last Friday of term to play Rugby a one-day game. A fine Friday was followed by an impossible Saturday, and so the eleven arrived at Lord's on the Monday to meet Tonbridge without having played a school match. It was much the same, in a lesser degree, with every school in the country.

A pleasing feature of the season was the continued increase in enterprising declarations, which have been noticeable in the last few summers. The schools are realising that it is better to have a closely contested match than to make themselves safe before declaring, and give opponents no time to make the runs; they see that they possess a better chance of victory if the other side take risks. Among innumerable examples of this, one of the most noteworthy was Repton's declaration against Malvern, and Malvern's plucky acceptance of the challenge.

It was no fault of Radley's that they failed to win all their last three matches in May. Against Incogniti they declared at 214 for seven wickets in a twelve-a-side game, leaving the visitors two hours and a quarter's batting. When stumps were drawn, Incogniti had lost ten wickets for 136. The school declared at 222 for four wickets against the Common Room, who had two hours and a half to get the runs. E. H. Moss (146) and W. G. Morgan scored at the rate of three a minute, but the last wicket fell at 220 to the fifth ball of what, in any case, would have been the last over.

M.C.C. took over two hours and a half to make 123. Radley lost three wickets for 23, but the total stood at 121 when the eighth man left. The ninth and tenth wickets fell without addition, however, M.C.C. winning with the third ball after "last over" was called.

Stowe supplied a typical instance of an exciting finish. The school declared at 229 for six wickets, J. D. A. Langley hitting up a chanceless 122. I Zingari lost nine wickets for 229, and the last man was run out without addition to the score off the last ball of the last over as the clock struck seven!

Charterhouse closed their innings at 219 for four wickets, after batting two hours and a half. Trinity College, Oxford obtained the runs for the loss of seven wickets five minutes from time, J. D. Eggar scoring 95.

Cheltenham, declaring at 176 for eight wickets, dismissed M. Kenyon's XI for 98 with eight minutes to spare. Cranleigh left Old Cranleighans 50 minutes to get 145 to win the Past and Present match. Thanks to fierce hitting by H. R. Heard and S. R. Couchman, the Old Boys obtained 143 for the loss of four wickets.

Denstone, given two hours to get 191 to beat the Burton Club, hit off the runs with half an hour to spare and nine wickets in hand. King's, Taunton, declared at the fall of the third wicket, King's, Bruton, in the remaining eighty minutes making the necessary 132. G. G. L. Hebden hit well for 93 not out.

St. Lawrence, Ramsgate, declared at 165 for eight wickets, and thanks to a freely-hit 97 by L. C. Gower, King's, Canterbury, won by six wickets.

Aldenham (J. P. Blake, 81) made a declaration at 167 for five wickets against Harrow Second Eleven, who obtained the runs with three wickets to spare, W. Lithgow contributing 71.

Bedford declared at 241 for one (C. L. Oakley 121, not out), and thanks largely to an innings of 120 not out by F. C. de Saram, Keble College won by six wickets.

J. G. Beach was undefeated with 116 when Blundell's closed their innings at 275 for four wickets and Devon Dumplings won with five wickets to spare. Sidmouth left Blundell's 175 to make in 85 minutes. The school scored 144 for six wickets.

Lancing declared at 232 for five wickets against the Jesters, who hit off the runs with three wickets in hand. The College declaring with seven men out, left the Martlets two hours and a quarter to get 225 runs, the visitors winning just on time for the loss of a similar number of wickets.

Leeds G.S., declaring at 178 for 6, and leaving Bootham School an hour and three-quarters, won in the last over by 95 runs.

St. Edward's declared at tea at 189 for six and Oriel College lost four wickets in the course of five minutes, but hit off the runs in the final over with the last two men together.

This list might easily be prolonged, but sufficient evidence has been quoted to prove that there is a definite tendency in the right direction of sporting declarations and forcing cricket.

Besides the game between Stowe and I.Z., mentioned above, tie matches were played between Highgate and King's, Canterbury, 114 each, and Leeds and Pocklington G.S., 104 each.

Leeds G.S. participated in a series of close finishes. In addition to the tie match, they beat Giggleswick by one run, lost to Ripon by one run, and beat Bootham in the last over of the day. The Craven Gentlemen, set to make 202 to win in 115 minutes, hit off the runs with two minutes to spare. Against Bradford G.S., Leeds lost eight wickets with fifty minutes to go, but time came with the last pair still together.

In spite of unfavourable conditions throughout most of the term, the form shown at Lord's and elsewhere during the holidays was satisfactory. It was evident that due attention had been paid to fielding, the most important feature of the game, but there remained plenty of room for improvement in throwing-in and, as in past seasons, there was a shortage of reliable slip fielders. As a set-off to this, P. J. Wilkinson proved himself, in his four days at Lord's, the most brilliant first slip seen at Headquarters for many years. The fast bowlers, if finding few wickets to their liking, concentrated more upon keeping a length, which should be the ambition of every young bowler. This was specially noticeable in the two representative matches, Lord's v. The Rest and Public Schools v. The Army.

ETON v. HARROW.

The Eton and Harrow match created a dismal record. Only four hours' play took place in the two days, and no opinion could be formed of the comparative merits of the sides. So sodden was the turf, notwithstanding hours of untiring labour with artificial drying apparatus by Harry White and the ground-staff, that Wild slipped up in delivering the third ball of the match and Lindsay when he came in, nearly lost his foothold when handing his cap to the umpire.

Features of the first day's play were the wicket-keeping of England, who made two smart catches for Eton; the unflagging energy of Macindoe, who, bowling during nearly the whole of the Harrow innings, swung late and dangerously from the off, and the batting of Watson, who, with Holt, rescued his side from a dangerous position. Carris, as usual, offered a stolid defence until he got under a long hop and was caught at cover. The Eton fielding was entirely adequate, Dickson being prominent. Eton having batted for half an hour next day, the rain had its own way, the game being abandoned.

WINCHESTER v. ETON.

After giving promise of an exciting finish, the Winchester and Eton match faded away into the fifth consecutive draw. Eton being left two hours and forty minutes to get 219 runs to win, F. G. Mann set his side a good example, but Winchester fielded keenly and Holme worried the batsmen with frequent bowling changes. Only 61 runs came in the first hour and time expired with six wickets down for 168. Adams kept wicket smartly for Winchester as did R. England for Eton, other features of the game being a very fine innings of 98 by Holme, the all-round play of Wilson and J. P. Mann and the catching by the Eton eleven. Macindoe bowled untiringly for Eton and Proud achieved marked success in the Eton first innings.

RUGBY v. MARLBOROUGH.

The Rugby and Marlborough match met the same fate, no more than two and a half hours' play being possible on the opening day. The fielding all round was excellent and much good cricket came from evenly-matched sides, only eight runs separating the first innings totals. Scott, the Rugby wicket-keeper, played soundly and Bridger, who made such a successful debut the previous year, and Walford, two young members of the side, hit with confidence in the first innings. Kershaw and Elliott showed the best batting of the match in the abbreviated second innings. Six of the Marlborough XI reached double figures and Collins played a polished innings of 39. The bowling of both sides on a sodden wicket was varied, and Jelf, making his third appearance for Marlborough, gave an impressive display behind the wicket.

CHELTHENHAM v. HAILEYBURY.

The fates reserved the worst weather of the week for Cheltenham and Haileybury, limiting the proceedings to four hours' play on Saturday. In two hours and a half before lunch Cheltenham lost seven wickets for 142, Eagar hitting freely until he fell to one of two good catches by Barton. No further cricket took place until five o'clock, when Haileybury went in for an hour and a half. Harrison hit hard and cleanly for 62 not out, confining his attention mainly to the on-side in one of the best innings of the week. Thus was brought to a conclusion a spell of the worst weather ever experienced in these school matches, all of which were left unfinished.

CLIFTON v. TONBRIDGE.

The pitch for the Clifton and Tonbridge match was soft and of no assistance to the bowlers, but few batsmen possessed the necessary strength to force the ball off the back foot. Tonbridge enjoyed much the better of a drawn game though Clifton had themselves to blame. Their ground fielding was good, but the slip catching unsound, Scott, who turned the ball considerably from leg, being a special sufferer. When Clifton went in for three-quarters of an hour's batting on the second day, the flight of the ball was difficult to follow in very poor light. Eberle, who had been out of luck during the term, played a sound not-out innings of 106 for Clifton, and Scott joined him in a good stand for the fifth wicket. In a lively Tonbridge "tail," Parsons, who included three 6's in his 67, hit merrily.

LORD'S SCHOOLS v. THE REST.

The first match between the Lord's Schools and The Rest was played in 1913. No record of that game appears in Wisden and it may be of interest to give a few particulars.

The fixture originated from the decision to hold a two-day trial game from which to select the Public School side to play the M.C.C. Lord's Schools, after declaring their second innings at 184 for two, won by 214 runs. The principal scorers for the winners were N. B. Hughes Hallett (Haileybury) (83), the late G. W. E. Whitehead (Clifton) (73), M. B. Burrows (Eton) and the two left-handers, C. P. Johnstone (Rugby) and G. P. B. Taylor (Cheltenham). J. H. Amory, the Eton fast bowler, supported by E. T. Buller (Harrow) and Hughes Hallett, dismissed The Rest for 112. Set to obtain 442 runs, M. Howell (74) and the late J. Howell (73) put on 140 for The Rest first wicket, but on their dismissal a collapse occurred, the innings closing for 228. During the match both F. W. Musson (Tonbridge) and G. B. F. Rudd (Westminster) gave up the gloves and retired for repairs to damaged fingers. The vacancy was filled by O. A. Reid (Radley) who gained the V.C. and made the supreme sacrifice in the War. All three "kept" for their respective counties.

Though in last season's match the Lord's Schools were thoroughly representative, The Rest held a big advantage in bowling. With the wicket still on the slow side, runs never came fast, 699 being scored in the two days' play. J. M. Lomas (Charterhouse), with beautiful strokes all round the wicket, played a steady innings of 81, and M. W. Holme (Winchester), who was badly run out, batted soundly. D. H. Macindoe, who swung-in from the off in the last two yards, bowled untiringly—33 overs, 53 runs, 5 wickets. For the Lord's Schools, J. P. Mann (Eton) and Eagar (Cheltenham) alone offered much resistance to the fast bowlers, Craib (Eastbourne) and Hutton (Sherborne). Following on 122 runs behind and with little hope of victory, the batsmen naturally showed caution. Westwood (Marlborough) played a good innings of 58, however, and after Scott (Clifton), Bridger (Rugby) and Pope (Cheltenham) had hit freely Eagar declared at a few minutes to six. Craib bowled 55 overs in the match for 101 runs and nine wickets, and Hutton 60 overs, 95 runs, five wickets. Left with fifty-five minutes in which to get 94 to win, The Rest hit off the runs with seven wickets to spare.

SCHOOLS v. ARMY.

The Rest having shown such superiority to the Lord's Schools, it was a little surprising to find five places in the Schools team allotted to members of the Lord's eleven. The non-selection of Holme and Scott, captains of Winchester and Clifton respectively, caused some comment. Except for the absence of F. L. Hamilton and Capt. G. J. Bryan, The Army were well represented. Unhappily rain again interfered, the game being drawn with honours even.

On the first day Langley played a delightful innings of 92 not out, finding no difficulty in the bowling and making beautiful wristy strokes all round the wicket. The boys fielded splendidly, Dickinson throwing himself at full length to make two very fine one-handed first slip catches inches from the ground.

The dismissal of The Army twice for an aggregate of 431 spoke well for the bowling. Macindoe was untiring and J. P. Mann mixed his slow deliveries cleverly, but neither Hutton nor Craib, swinging away, bowled with the pace and fire which distinguished them on the two previous days, when they were greatly over-worked.

J. R. Bean and R. G. W. Melsome pulled The Army side together in the first innings when six wickets were down for 92, and Osborne Smith hit freely. The Army owed much to E. S. Cole, who played two good innings and took five wickets for 59.

YOUNG AMATEURS v. PROFESSIONALS.

The feature of the Young Amateurs v. Professionals match was the fast bowling of Nevell, who, taking 13 wickets for 91, was mainly responsible for the defeat of the Amateurs by one wicket. Only N. F. Borrett (Framlingham), D. C. Wilson (Winchester), A. K. Sharp (Brighton), one of the best cover points seen during the fortnight, and R. H. Yeatman (St. Paul's) offered much resistance to accurate and varied bowling, but the batting all round was more enterprising than that of the Professionals. The match finished on an exciting note, for with nine wickets down four runs were needed for victory.

UNDER SIXTEEN AT LORD'S.

The Colts' match produced some excellent cricket, the Lord's XI winning in an innings and handsomely avenging the defeat of the previous year. H. A. Pawson (Winchester), D. G. Clive (Marlborough), A. F. Murray-Johnson (Eton), and D. Hayward (Harrow) showed promising form with the bat, Clive playing a delightfully wristy innings, and D. G. Dussek (Harrow), already of considerable pace, taking in the two innings of Mr. C. F. Tufnell's XI eight wickets for 59. C. J. E. Jameson (Eton) and M. G. Fernan (Uppingham) did able all-round work for the losing side. C. S. C. Farmer (Cheltenham) and P. R. H. Hastings (Stowe) kept wicket well.

A WEEK AT THE OVAL.

After a month of fine weather, conditions changed in September and in the Oval week took a turn for the worse. True the Surrey boys had time to beat Essex and Middlesex, but no play at all was possible on the last two days of the week against Kent, who, as usual, got together a good side. Essex, for whom J. K. G. Webb (Highgate) played innings of 41 and 46 and N. F. Borrett (Framlingham) and J. M. Pope (Cheltenham) bowled well, were beaten by 112 runs and Middlesex by ten wickets. For Middlesex, R. M. Bagnall (Repton) and F. G. Comings (St. Paul's) both batted admirably, and Bagnall kept wicket in promising style. The Young Surrey Amateurs, who drew with the Club and Ground and played three other trial games, placed a strong batting side in the field, including P. J. Dickinson and D. E. Young (K.C.S., Wimbledon), J. M. Lomas (Charterhouse), T. I. D. Heathcote (Bradfield), and R. G. Carr (Uppingham). S. C. Silkin (Dulwich), who took 17 wickets in the two matches at an average cost of 13.30, and Young were useful spin bowlers, but with the exception of Lomas, at cover point, the fielding and catching, especially in the slips, disappointed. The wicket-keeping of J. C. S. Underwood (Lancing) was good, especially on the leg-side, and Dickinson, who "kept" on Tuesday in the absence of A. H. Beane (Charterhouse), gave proof of his versatility by stumping four and making a very smart catch on the leg side.

Eton, with seven old colours including four bowlers, might well have anticipated an exceptional season, but bad weather and the inability to make big scores resulted in only two matches being won. J. P. Mann, who succeeds his brother in the captaincy this year, was a notable exception, batting consistently throughout the half. He took part in seven matches and played nine innings; 42 v. Authentics, 82 v. Butterflies, 2 and 95 v. Eton Ramblers, 103 (not out) v. Foresters, 23 (run out) v. Charterhouse, 30 v. Household Brigade and 41 and 18 v. Winchester—an average of over 54. Six times he obtained top score for his side and he did his share in bowling. F. G. Mann was a stylish opening batsman, but Kerrison, Jackson, Dickson and Pragnall (12th man in 1935) did not realise expectations. Macindoe bowled untiringly, his in-swing being as dangerous as ever, but he seldom found wickets to suit him. Wild, if inconsistent, was very effective at times as his nine wickets in the second innings of Eton Ramblers testified. Of the newcomers, England, who should have two more years in the eleven, proved himself one of the best wicket-keepers in the Schools, being seen at his best against Winchester, Harrow and Charterhouse when, in five innings, he assisted in the dismissal of 10 batsmen. Of the school matches, that with Harrow was washed out; Charterhouse, for the first time, won narrowly by a wicket, and the Winchester game was drawn. J. P. Mann will have Marsham, Boughey, Barnado and England, who gained their colours last year, to assist him.

Harrow started the season with two old flannels—Carris and Watson—and the side did not develop until late. Carris proved himself a most able captain, and by July got together a team which might have done well at Lord's had they received the chance. Henriques scored the one century of the season and only two batsmen averaged over 30. Carris, himself, played soundly throughout; his 85, not out, against Marlborough, which gave Harrow their sole victory, and 67 out of a total of 105 at Winchester deserve special mention. Watson failed completely in the early matches, but found his form later and should make many runs this year. Late in the season Goodchild became a reliable opening batsman. Lindsay's defence was poor, but he attacked the bowling with some success. Apart from Carris, the soundest batsmen were Collins and Holt. The "out" cricket told another tale. Harrow were a quick and safe fielding side, the returns to the wicket being fast and accurate, and they possessed a quintette of more than useful bowlers. Reunert and Stuart, fast-medium and quick off the pitch, were supported by Carris and Sage, two left-handers who could keep a length, and Watson, too often erratic with his leg-breaks. With Watson, captain, and five other old flannels in Henriques, Holt, Seligman, Stuart and Sage, to form the nucleus, the eleven should soon settle down this year.

Winchester won an exceptionally large number of club matches and it was gratifying to find so few left drawn. Except for Holme, the captain, who experienced an unlucky year, there was no outstanding batsman, but an enterprising side could score fast and Dixon, a spin bowler, Proud, Wilson and Linton, constituted a varied attack. Adams was the best wicket-keeper Winchester have had for some time and the fielding, or "watching out," reached traditional standard. Holme led the side judiciously and made top score (98) against Eton and (73) against Harrow. Wilson did excellent work as an all-rounder, and Dixon's bowling bore a big part in the victories over Harrow, on their own ground, and Marlborough, for the third successive year. Bird was a delightful stroke-player and real attacking No. 1 batsman. The Eton match was drawn, but Winchester nearly always held the initiative and, after leading on the first innings, made 160 for six in two hours and left the visitors to score at the rate of 80 an hour to win. This task proved too severe. The only defeat from a school was suffered at Godalming, where Charterhouse, for whom A. C. Karsten took six wickets for 23 runs, won by six wickets. This year, with Alexander (captain), Proud, Stanning and Dixon staying on, their bowling should cause little anxiety.

In one of the wettest summers in the history of the game, the Rugby batting never really settled down. Time after time the School were put out for small scores, and the bowlers almost pulled the game round. This was the case against the Harlequins, when Bridger, with his spin-bowling, performed the "hat trick," and against M.C.C., when Clark and Kershaw, after the school had been disposed of for 97, nearly brought off a victory. The school matches were unfortunate. Not a ball could be bowled in either of the two fixtures with Clifton; both bowling and batting failed at Repton and against Uppingham, and rain spoiled what promised to be a close game with Marlborough at Lord's. The Old Boys were beaten in an innings, Bridger and Inglis dismissing them cheaply and Marriott (101) and Walford (53) putting up a big stand for the School's seventh wicket. Elliott, who will captain the side this year, was the most consistent batsman and Bridger and Inglis shared the bowling honours. The fielding was good, Walford being brilliant at cover, and Scott, a very useful batsman, showing promise behind the wicket. The prospects for 1937 are bright. In addition to Scott, Elliott will be able to call upon the assistance of five bowlers—Bridger, Inglis, Kershaw, Whitelock and Markland—and Dunnett, who came into the side late.

Marlborough hardly realised expectations. Following a defeat at the hands of Winchester came a draw with Wellington and a reverse from Harrow, who, on a rain-soddened pitch, forced a win thanks to a sound innings by B. D. Carris. Cheltenham had rather the better of a drawn game, and rain spoiled the Rugby match at Lord's. Too much responsibility in batting rested upon Westwood, who played some capital innings, notably 44 and 150 not out v. Marlborough Blues, 63 v. Cheltenham and 52 (out of a total of 76) v. Romany. Anderson could generally be relied upon and Jelf, the wicket-keeper, and Collins made runs, but sudden collapses were always likely. Bailward revealed great promise as a fast bowler, but, unfortunately, he injured his back half-way through the term and could not appear at Lord's. Graham and Fletcher were the stock medium-paced bowlers and Mallinson occasionally looked dangerous. The fielding was generally keen and good, with Westwood, Fletcher and Livingstone outstanding. Besides the four bowlers, Fletcher (captain), Bailward, Graham and Mallinson, Terry, Collins and Comyn are available for this year.

Cheltenham, with Eagar captain for the second year and eight old colours available, to some extent realised the high hopes they entertained, but apart from the weather conditions luck was against them. An epidemic of measles robbed the side of two regular bowlers, Fryer and Geary, a promising young wicket-keeper in Farmer, and two reserves. Not until late in the term, indeed, did Eagar know upon whom he could rely. As in 1935 the team owed much to their captain. If not quite so consistent, Eagar accomplished some exceptional performances, notably against Marlborough, when he made 181 runs for once out and took eleven wickets for 77 runs. Of the four school matches, not one brought a definite result. Pope, with seven wickets for 69 and a partnership of 128 with Bourne, did most to save the Malvern match. The Clifton match was completely washed out and only four hours' play was practicable at Lord's against Haileybury. Eagar kept his side always on their toes and their keenness in the field furnished a real tribute to his captaincy. Outstanding was Stevens, who brought off several wonderful catches at short leg, and the form of the young wicket-keeper, Farmer, who should have three more years in the eleven, was most promising. The batting showed general improvement, with Paget and Britton a well-balanced opening pair. Pope, Stevens, Geary, Bourne, Shelley, Britton, Paget, Farmer and Barry are returning this season, so that Cheltenham's prospects for 1937 are very bright.

Despite the handicap of the weather, Haileybury's expectations of a successful season were to some extent fulfilled. The side was quite up to the average, the batting being solid, the fielding sound and reliable, and the bowling, though not always consistent, capable of being really dangerous at times. Harrison, who will captain the side this year, was outstanding in run-getting, playing an impressive innings at Lord's. Hildick-Smith, slow-medium right, the most promising bowler, always kept a length. Cantlay, left-hand, gave him great assistance. The games against Eton and Stowe had to be cancelled; little could be done in those with Uppingham and Cheltenham, but Haileybury won a fine victory at Wellington. With Harrison and Hildick-Smith as the mainstays of the eleven and Jupp, Burridge and Barton again available, Haileybury should do well this year.

Clifton suffered more lamentably from the weather than most schools. Rain completely washed out the Rugby match, and not a ball could be bowled against Cheltenham or in the return at Rugby. An improvement towards the middle of June followed a bad start, victories being gained over the Somerset Stragglers, the Old Cliftonians and Gloucestershire C. & G. At Lord's, Clifton stood in a bad position when rain intervened once more. At best, the batting was only moderate; Mutter was very useful, Scott, the captain, showed a considerable advance and Rawsthorne and Smallbones played some good innings, but the "tail" was far too long. Until he made a splendid hundred at Lord's, Eberle was a dismal failure. Of the bowlers, Scott did by far the most effective work, and Firth, medium right-hand, enjoyed a very good spell in the middle of the season, though he failed to adapt himself to the faster conditions at Lord's. A serious weakness in slip-fielding further handicapped the bowlers. Scott, one of the best all-round cricketers in 1936, will continue the captaincy, with Mutter and Gibbs, the wicket-keeper, to assist him.

Tonbridge, winning only three and losing seven of their fifteen engagements, experienced a disappointing season, chiefly because rain prevented any of the inter-school matches being finished. Latham, the wicket-keeper, and Thompson were the most consistent run-getters, but, on the whole, the batting lacked confidence. Parsons played the best innings—68 v. Clifton at Lord's, where Tonbridge held a very favourable position when rain caused the abandonment. Parsons also bowled admirably with clever variation of pace, and he took nearly 50 wickets. The slow bowlers were inaccurate and consequently expensive, though the fielding rose above the average. Cobb, the captain, wisely selected a young side, of whom Thompson, in his fourth year, will succeed him. With Bousfield, an opening batsman, Kidson, a very promising all-rounder, Cox, a left-handed batsman, Wood, a hard hitter, Yeats-Brown, a slow bowler, and Stevens available, a strong eleven should represent the School in 1937.

Expected to be a useful all-round side, the Aldenham eleven more than justified this optimism. The record showed six wins, four defeats, and four draws, the last two matches being abandoned owing to rain. Much depended on Blake, the captain, and Oliver, the opening batsman, and one or the other usually helped to give the side a good start. McCorkell found his form towards the end of the season. The majority of the matches were won by exceptionally good fielding. Cryer was a sound and often brilliant wicket-keeper. Four bowlers earned averages of less than 14 runs per wicket. Boaman and Sprent each took over 30 wickets, Oliver (8 for 20 v. Berkhamsted and 7 for 9 v. Old Aldenhamians) came out top and Hobson rendered valuable assistance.

The weather robbed Ampleforth of two of their school matches and an epidemic played its part in further reducing the time afforded for cricket. Dalglish, an able captain, was in a class by himself. Top of the batting averages, he also took chief bowling honours with 43 wickets for 13 runs apiece. Horner, a colt, slow-medium left-hand, dismissed 38 batsmen for just over 18 runs each. The batting did not reach the same standard as the bowling, but Wells, Redfern and Dalglish all did well. Wells, this year's captain, was the soundest batsman, strong in defence. Redfern, who made the highest score of the season, is also available. The fielding close to the wicket was particularly smart, Lord Mauchline being very safe at cover and Fairhurst, a most efficient wicket-keeper.

With seven old colours left from 1935, it was anticipated that Beaumont would maintain their unbeaten record in school matches for the fourth successive season, but the side failed badly on soft wickets and against spin bowling. They lost to K.C.S., Wimbledon, and to Oratory at Lord's; defeated St. John's, Leatherhead, the Imperial Service College, after a closely-contested game, and, for the first time since 1930, Eton Upper Club 2nd. Burden was far and away the most dependable batsman, scoring 543 runs, including centuries against Douai and the Buccaneers. Cussen and Chamberlain afforded him able support. Ruane, right-arm fast-medium, played a big part in bowling with distinct success, taking 45 wickets for under 12 runs apiece. Goldsmith is the new captain and Pace, Ruane, J. Cashin, H. Cashin (who took Chamberlain's place behind the wicket), de la Mare and Pritchard are also staying on.

Blundell's were fortunate in having only two matches spoiled. Four were won, seven drawn, and three lost. The eleven proved much more successful against strong club sides than against schools. They twice beat North Devon, who fielded several county players, overwhelmed the Old Blundellians, and defeated Heathcoat, for the first time for many years, with the last ball of the match.

Devon Dumplings won after the school had made a sporting declaration. The Downside match was ruined by rain; there came an exciting finish against Sherborne after Blundell's appeared to be badly beaten, and Taunton took the honours in two drawn games. The batting was consistently good throughout the season and it is many years since the averages presented such a solid appearance. Drake, the captain and a keen and devoted cricketer, bore the burden of the bowling, but there were too many erratic bowlers on the side. The improvement in cricket at the school was general. The third and fourth elevens enjoyed many evening expeditions over the countryside and always returned triumphant with stories of strange pitches and unbelievable finishes. Old colours left are Harper, captain, Habgood, Beales, Parsons and Corrigan.

How severely Bradfield suffered from the weather is shown by the fact that no fewer than eleven of their matches were left unfinished, in almost every case owing to rain. Three, including that against Stowe, were abandoned without a ball being bowled. The School defeated Radley (by four runs) and Oriel but lost to M.C.C. and Free Foresters. Some good performances were achieved in the drawn matches, and the side proved strong in batting. On the hard wickets, Heathcote, who has a fine square cut, Wilson and Tucker all looked good. The best innings were played by the captain, Heathcote—154 v. Butterflies and 90 v. Bradfield Waifs; Wilson 80 v. Bradfield Waifs and 69 v. Foresters; and Tucker 75 v. Oriel. Heathcote and G. Paine (54) shared in a partnership of 227 for the fifth wicket against the Butterflies. The bowling was not so strong, but Henshaw, medium-right, should develop effectiveness this year and M. Paine promised well until illness in June kept him out of the field. Templer kept wicket splendidly. With seven old colours under Tucker's captaincy and five others with experience in the first eleven, the team for 1937 should be really good.

Brighton disappointed. They had the makings of a good side, but owing to the weather and an epidemic of mumps never settled down. Two of the eleven matches were won, four lost, and five drawn. The batting was above the average and Sharp, a fine cover-point and a batsman of high promise with excellent footwork and good wrists, Simmonds, Wallace-Cox and Grose, should have ensured scores of over 200. Hobley and Braybon, both fast-medium, were a capital pair of opening bowlers, but they needed fast wickets and seldom got them. In the school fixtures, Brighton lost by three runs to St. Paul's and beat Epsom by seven wickets, the games with Dulwich, Lancing and Christ's Hospital being left unfinished.

Bromsgrove never recovered from a bad start. Youth and inexperience accounted for many of the batting failures, and the inability of T. L. G. Jones to play regularly made a great difference. Hake, the only batsman of much promise, should do well this season, when he will captain the eleven. He will have the assistance of Gordon-Smith, Bland, Field, Russell and Priest, and, with a little more luck, the team should make up for some of the failures of past years.

Canford lost only to I.Z. and M.C.C. and were rather lucky to escape defeat from the Dorset Rangers, but they beat Weymouth College, King's (Bruton), Bournemouth, and R.T.C. (Bovington); rain deprived them of a win over Victoria College, Jersey. Yeomans, in his fifth year in the eleven, proved an excellent captain and all-rounder. The batting, with Powell and Whelon very consistent, and Steed, a left-hand hitter, seldom failed, and Black, really fast, Yorke-Long and Yeomans gave variety to the bowling. The fielding, as in past years, was competent and keen. Only Powell, Pennock and Huggins stay on, but there are some promising colts coming along.

Able to call upon the most powerful team for many years, Charterhouse, in a memorable season, gained victories over Eton, who had not been defeated by any school since 1920, and, for the first time since the War, over Winchester. No result was reached in the matches against Harrow, Westminster and Wellington, the last two being spoiled by rain. Lomas, honoured with the captaincy of the Public Schools eleven against the Army, if not so consistent as in 1935, wound up with 94 not out and 98 not out against Harrow, 129 v. Old Carthusians, and 117 not out v. Westminster. In the course of the last innings he completed his 2,000 runs for Charterhouse. The eleven played together as a side. Among many valuable innings, P. R. Crompton, at No. 3, included a century against I.Z. and fifties against Eton and Winchester. Lubbock, scoring 556 runs, made an excellent debut; he should be of great service to Charterhouse in the future. The batting was reliable all through, and Dunbar, Karsten, Pearce, Lubbock and Hughes, constituted an effective attack. Dunbar was the most consistent, but Karsten's six for 29 against Winchester and Pearce's seven for 39 v. Old Carthusians were outstanding performances. The fielding was good, Lomas setting a fine example and A. H. Beane developing into a capable wicket-keeper. The only match lost was against Trinity, Oxford, when the school declared at 219 for four and the visitors won by three wickets with five minutes to spare. Weeks succeeds Lomas in the captaincy and Hughes, Lubbock, J. A. Crompton, and P. F. Beane also remain.

With a young and inexperienced eleven, Christ's Hospital failed to win a match. Terry, despite the cares of captaincy, played many useful innings, and as seven of the side stay on, prospects are brighter for this year. Mason succeeds Terry as captain, and Cotton, Walenn, Dodd, Lilley, Ilett and Holloway will be available.

Though they won only four matches and lost five, Cranleigh showed great improvement. Undefeated in School matches, they beat Mill Hill and Epsom and drew with Christ's Hospital and Highgate. The win over Free Foresters was the outstanding performance in Club matches.

Dover, favoured with better weather than fell to the lot of most schools, won eight of their twelve engagements and lost only to Cranbrook, when the fielding, for once, was at fault. They experienced one great disappointment, Wass, one of the previous year's eleven, after demonstrating his value to the side in the first few matches as an opening fast bowler and free-hitting batsman, leaving to take up an appointment. His successor, Mott, a tall boy of fifteen, did well, he and Marley, slow left-hand, proving a very useful pair. The discovery of the term was Gordon, another young left-hander, who pitched the ball well up and broke from the off sharply in addition to his natural turn from leg. Barrett, who will be captain, Davies, a young player of great possibilities, de M. Bessey, Mott and Gordon should form the backbone of another successful side this year.

Downside, strong in batting, enjoyed a fairly successful season under the captaincy of A. D. Turnbull. Three of the matches were won, five drawn, and three lost. Centuries were put together against Blundell's by Masters, and against King's, Bruton, by Turnbull. Addington hit up 69 in just over an hour against Emeriti and fifties were scored by Pollen, a left-hander, Rawlinson and Radcliffe. The fielding was good and Hemming was an efficient wicket-keeper, but the bowling proved weak until strengthened by the inclusion of Camacho and Sheridan, the last-named a young fast bowler who should do well this year. Masters will captain the side and, as he will have at his disposal Addington, Pollen, Rawlinson, Hawkins, and the two principal bowlers, Camacho and Sheridan, the prospects are cheery.

The record of Dulwich—one victory and ten defeats—was poor. The matches against Bedford and St. Paul's were lost and rain interfered with the Tonbridge and Brighton games. The one success was against Mill Hill, when Silkin, Staniforth, Shirreff, and Collingwood scored at a great pace. All eight club matches, mostly against powerful teams, ended in defeat. In an exciting finish against C. S. Marriott's XI, the visitors won by three wickets off the last ball. Silkin played several good innings, but the batting was inconsistent. The bowling possessed strength and variety, Silkin (leg-breaks and googlies), Shirreff (fast-medium), Jones and Staniforth forming a lively quartette. Silkin proved very effective for the Young Surrey Amateurs at the Oval. The fielding improved immensely with hard practice. Shirreff succeeds Silkin in the captaincy and Gray, Staniforth, Collingwood, Williams, Bartlett, a promising left-hander, and Jones are again available.

In common with most other schools, Durham suffered from weather interference which prevented play against Ampleforth and St. Peter's. Giggleswick were beaten on their own ground by 97 runs, and Sedbergh won a most exciting game by two runs. The young Durham side fared better than for some years, the most pleasing feature being a welcome revival of confidence. Buttle, who will be captain in 1937, was the best all-round cricketer, gaining a batting average of over 40. He played a fine innings of 84 at Giggleswick and shared the wickets with Bouchier. Bailey, who has gone up to Oxford, was a useful opening batsman and reliable stumper. Buttle will have six old colours to help him—Hall, Grant, Orwin, Forster, I. S. Turnbull and Bouchier.

Eastbourne, gaining victories over Sussex Martlets, Free Foresters, King's Canterbury, and Lancing, can look back upon a good season. The win over the Foresters was the first in the thirteen years the match has been played. Craib, who played for Public Schools against The Army, was a very promising fast bowler with a dangerous swing, and a useful batsman. In the match against St. Edward's at Oxford, D. P. Hepburn, who should make many runs this year, put on 50 with Williams for the last wicket. Horton, top of the batting averages, is captain this year and there remain P. F. and D. P. Hepburn, W. H. and M. A. Girling, both left-hand batsmen, and the latter a useful bowler, and the spin-bowler, Empson.

With seven old colours, Ellesmere looked forward to a good season and, after the loss of three of the first four matches, these expectations were realised. Eight of the remaining twelve matches ended in decisive wins. Rigby, the captain, headed the batting figures with an average of 43, his best score being 116, not out, against Merchant Taylors', Crosby, and he topped the bowling with 46 wickets for just over seven runs apiece. He developed considerable speed in his bowling and was an outstanding personality. The development of the younger players augurs well for 1937.

Epsom won three matches, drew five and lost five—a considerably better record than that of the previous season, when nine matches were lost. The team was young and seven of its members will be back at school this summer. The results might well have been better, for the matches against M.C.C. and Christ's Hospital were drawn definitely in the school's favour. In other school matches, Epsom drew with Brighton, Cranleigh, and K.C.S., Wimbledon, and defeated Merchant Taylors' and St. John's, Leatherhead, the last-named by one wicket in a thrilling finish. As Hubble and Thompson, the two most successful batsmen, Wilkes, Smyth, Knaggs, Dyball and Johnston remain for this season, the side should do well.

As most of an excellent 1935 team stayed on, including G. R. Abbs, the captain, who impressed very favourably at Lord's against the Young Professionals the previous August, Giggleswick hopes ran high. Then unfortunately Abbs, on whom so much of the all-round strength depended, left, and the side appeared to lose confidence. They beat St. Peter's, York, in convincing style, but lost heavily to St. Bees and Durham, two strong school elevens, and to Leeds in an exciting game by one run. Several of the side remain for this season, and provided they reach expectations, prospects are encouraging.

The results of Highgate read: Won 6, lost 6, drawn 5 and tied 1. They beat Mill Hill and Felsted, played favourable draws with Cranleigh and Aldenham, and a tie with King's, Canterbury. Tucker, J. K. G. Webb, and Monk were the mainstays of the batting, all three having averages of over 30. All the others made runs and the batting failed badly only twice in the term. M. H. Webb, Middleton, Thornton and Marton bowled consistently. Outstanding performances were 165 v. Felsted by Tucker, 122, not out, v. Bradford Waifs by J. K. G. Webb, and seven wickets for 39 by Morton against a very strong Old Boys' team. J. K. G. Webb will captain the side this year with M. H. Webb, Thornton, Morton, Harris, and possibly Chapman to support him.

K.C.S., Wimbledon won seven matches, lost three and drew four. The season was noteworthy for the outstanding performance of Dickinson, who scored 1,000 runs in the term, and assisted The Rest v. Lord's Schools and Public Schools v. The Army. In these two matches, he distinguished himself at first slip by bringing off six brilliant catches. Young, who led the eleven for the third year, took 60 wickets with his leg-breaks and captained the Young Amateurs of Surrey in the week's cricket at the Oval. E. Dann will probably take over the captaincy, and will have the assistance of Dickinson and other members of the eleven. Dickinson, who kept wicket the previous year, developed into a useful opening bowler in 1936, and took many wickets.

Winning two of the inter-school matches, drawing two, and losing one, King Edward's, Birmingham, enjoyed a satisfactory season. They also beat the Old Edwardians for the first time for many years. Twiss, an aggressive left-hand batsman and capable wicket-keeper, led the eleven with skill and judgment, and Farr, who played a fine innings against Denstone, became a useful change bowler, but the need of more pace bowling was felt. Wilkins, Drew, a promising young batsman and excellent fieldsman, and Freeman, all did well.

King's, Peterborough, experienced their most successful summer since the War, and two members of the team appeared for the county second eleven. Much credit was due to three players. The captain, R. Laxton, scored 385 runs in eleven innings, with a highest effort of 100 not out, and took 26 wickets at an average cost of 7.65. R. A. Hughes averaged 41.25 for eleven innings, three times not out, and J. M. Fisher claimed 37 wickets, average 6.43.

King's, Rochester, showed "in-and-out" form. The first two matches against the Headmaster's XI and the Royal Marines resulted in decisive victories, the old colours showing their best form and Greenfield, the captain, playing not out innings of 72 and 56. Greenfield followed with another not out innings of 40 against The Mote, but then things went wrong for a time, the newcomers lacking experience. The eleven finished the season by winning five of the last six matches and losing the other by one wicket to St. Edmund's at Canterbury.

Malvern remained unbeaten last year, though they had the worst of a drawn game with Free Foresters when rain stopped play. At Cheltenham, a close struggle ended with honours easy. At Shrewsbury, Farnsworth (3 for 12) and Rogers (3 for 16), dismissed the home side for 69 and the runs were obtained by capital batting for the loss of one wicket. Repton declared their second innings at 198 for six wickets, and left the home side 220 to get in 110 minutes. This they did one minute from time for the loss of five wickets, Maudsley playing a fine innings of 103. Manners, a left-hander who succeeds Greatbatch in the captaincy, was the most successful batsman, averaging 44. Rogers, medium-paced right-arm, who took 22 wickets at a cost of 18 runs each, bore the burden of the bowling. Denton-Thompson, the wicket-keeper, Norton, a slow left-hand bowler, Beeson, a fine field, and Shakespear, a promising all-rounder, will assist Manners this year.

Merchant Taylors' did not have a very successful season, there being a lack of good bowlers and an inability to score quickly when the necessity arose, but the eleven were young and inexperienced and will nearly all be available again this year. The Taylors lost badly to Epsom and Berkhamsted, and drew the remaining School matches, those against King's, Canterbury, Imperial Service College and Aldenham being rather in favour of the School. Kettle, again captain, will have Hart and Roper from last year's colours with him. Fox, Wood, Maxwell, Harold, Wenyon and Lawson, who played in most of the School matches, will also be riper.

Mill Hill, who lost eight matches and drew four, were greatly handicapped by an outbreak of measles at the beginning of term. Considering that they held the upper hand in each of the drawn games and lost to Highgate by no more than one wicket, their record scarcely did the side justice. Young, the captain and most consistent batsman, headed the averages, and Kirk bore the burden of the bowling. Webster, who succeeds Young, will have under him three old colours in Dexter, Goldman, and Carter, the last-named a brother of the Old Millhillian captain.

The Oratory are fortunate that Connaughton, one of the best slow spin bowlers the school has ever had, is to captain the side for another year. He took 71 wickets for just over 12 runs each, and, largely owing to him, only two of the last thirteen matches were lost. Coulston was the mainstay of the batting and Hamel-Smith and M. C. Bodenham often gave able support. Good all-round cricket, keen fielding, and the bowling of R. W. Bodenham and Connaughton brought about the defeat of Beaumont at Lord's. Hurford-Jones and M. C. Bodenham stay on with Connaughton.

The Oundle eleven were useful, though hardly so successful as some in recent years. The batting was more enterprising than reliable—against Leys they scored 227 in two hours. The bowling lacked variety, but the fielding was outstanding. The side lost badly to Uppingham and narrowly to Bedford (the latter's first victory over Oundle since the War), beat Leys and drew with Stowe in the annual match at the Oval. Nicholls, most attractive in style, and Lewis were the chief run-getters, and Llewellyn, the captain, Martin, Cowen, a most useful all-rounder, and Butler, did most work in bowling. Butler will probably be captain this year and should have with him Nicholls, Lewis, Ringrose, and Payne.

Radley were a better side than is suggested by their results, two matches won, three lost, eight drawn. They drew with Stowe and Westminster, beat Sherborne by four wickets and lost to Bradford in an exciting finish by four runs. The match with Lancing could not be played owing to illness. Falkiner, after starting badly, put together a series of big scores; Sell, as he showed against Stowe and Bradford, could always be depended upon at a crisis, and most of the others made useful scores. The best gifted player on the side, however, was Mackarness, a left-hander with a lovely style, but of uncertain temperament. The attack was steady. Birks, fast-medium, bowled with little luck, and Falkiner, slow-medium, could keep a length for hours, but the fielding, if brilliant at times, lacked consistency, too many catches being dropped. Willcocks, the captain, kept wicket admirably: he dismissed 19 batsmen and gave away only 15 byes during the season.

Birks will captain the side this year, with Mackintosh, a useful left-hand bowler, Mackarness, Sell, Grosvenor, and possibly Falkiner, to help him.

The Repton eleven were rather above the average of recent years, and though they lost to Free Foresters, M.C.C. and Pilgrims, they might well have secured a better record than four wins, four defeats and four draws but for interference by the weather. As regards the school matches, no play took place on the second day against Uppingham, but, at Shrewsbury, Repton won a close match largely because of effective fast bowling by Lowcock, who took eight wickets for 28. At Malvern, Repton declared, leaving their opponents 220 to get in just under two hours, and, after a great display of hitting, Malvern got the runs one over before time, while in the last match Repton beat Rugby. The batting on the whole was sound, Willatt, Hodgkinson and Bagnall being the most consistent scorers. Davenport, fast-medium right-hand, was the most reliable of the bowlers, but quite the most outstanding player on the side was Bagnall, the captain, who showed himself to be a wicket-keeper of really high class. Three old colours remain, Fisher, this season's captain, Barnett and Hughes.

Except for a lamentable period at the beginning of June, when they lost to Sedbergh and Shrewsbury, Rossall fared better than for some years. Of the thirteen matches played, five were won and five lost, a notable victory by 137 runs being gained over Cryptics. The batting honours went to Sharp, who seldom failed to give the side a good start. He played innings of 78 v. Cryptics, 59 and 51 (not out) v. O.R.'s and 50 v. M.C.C. Others who did well were Heaton and Maconchy. Heaton, captain for 1937, made 66 (not out) v. Pirkenhead Park, and 56 v. O.R.'s; Maconchy, who missed the early part of the season, showed good form in innings of 53 v. Cryptics and 88 v. M.C.C. Hughes bowled his out-swingers well and took 40 wickets at an average cost of 20 runs. He was supported by Hesmondhalgh, fast-medium, and Heaton, left-hand. Heaton will have the assistance this year of K. C. Smith, a promising wicket-keeper and left-hand bat, and Major, a useful batsman.

St. Edward's won five and lost five of their seventeen matches. In thrilling finishes, they defeated Bromsgrove and Eastbourne, but the match with Campbell College, Belfast, was ruined by rain. Greaves, the captain, headed the batting averages and the main burden of the bowling was borne by Godley and Henderson. Godley, who seldom enjoyed conditions that favoured his fast deliveries, took 46 wickets at a cost of just over 11½ runs each, and with good support in the field had much to do with the success of the eleven. Henderson, Ironside, Little, Churcher, Waldron, and Tobin are available for this year.

St. Bees, with their best team for many years, won six and drew three of their twelve matches. A strengthened fixture-list resulted in an improved standard of play. The best wins were gained against Birkenhead Park and Giggleswick School, the latter being beaten on their own ground by eight wickets. Cowen, the captain, a good left-hand bat and medium-pace right-hand bowler, experienced a successful season and Akam, another left-hander, who has gone into the Navy, also did well. Kempston batted brilliantly throughout and, with an aggregate of 580 runs and an average of 40, broke a 25-years-old record. Five members of the eleven remain for this season.

St. Lawrence, whose early form suggested good things to come, did not realise expectations. The failure of their young side on wet wickets was, no doubt, due largely to lack of experience. They lost to Dover and King's, Canterbury, beat St. Edward's, Sutton Valence and Whitgift, and had the better of a drawn two-day match with Berkhamsted. The most consistent scorer was Hambler, and Clark, Gardner and Colley all did well, but the strength of the side lay in the bowling. Colley, the captain, bore the leading part in the attack, with chief assistance from Gardner and Drayson and, in a lesser degree, from James and Larsen. With Colley captain for the second year, and six other old colours, including all the bowlers, there is every prospect of a satisfactory season.

St. Paul's won their first six matches and finished up with ten victories, five defeats and only one unfinished game—a capital record. In the majority of cases, the school batted second and the question of playing for safety never arose. Two players were largely responsible for the success: Yeatman, who opened the innings and scored 650 runs, including three centuries, and Totton, a slow-medium left-hand bowler who took 55 wickets at an average cost of less than nine runs each. Yeatman was well supported by Commings, the captain, Reid and Robinson, and Totton by Russell, a rather faster left-hander (35 wickets for 12.03), Yeatman (28 for 14.6) and Commings (25 for 15.6). The fielding was well up to standard and Mischler, who played for the Colts at Lord's, showed promise behind the wicket. This year, Yeatman will be a tower of strength all round, assisted by Reid, Mischler, Boyden, Smith, Higgins, Totton and Russell.

Of the nine matches St. Peter's, York, were able to play—three, including those against Durham and Worksoop, were abandoned through rain—they won three, lost four, and drew two. Both drawn matches should and would have been won had a little more enterprise been shown in the attempt to dislodge a stubborn last-wicket pair. The side did well when beating Ampleforth and Leeds, but collapsed unaccountably against Giggleswick. Lockwood was the mainstay of the side both in batting and bowling, an aggregate of 41 wickets at an average cost of 12.1 in nine matches being an outstanding performance. Newman, the captain, also batted consistently well for an average of 43, hitting a century against Bootham, but these two players received little support from the rest of the side. As all the eleven except Graham (captain) and Davin have left, this season's team is likely to be young and inexperienced.

In startling contrast to that of most of the Schools, Sedbergh again met with marked success, winning nine and losing only one of their twelve engagements. They were lucky enough to start with seven old colours and an unusually fine May enabled the side to settle down early. The outstanding merit of the team lay in fielding. The three school matches were all won, Rossall and Stonyhurst with considerable ease and Durham, after a closely contested game, by two runs. Authentics, Northern Nomads and Grange were also defeated. They were not a side carried by one or two individuals, but a team, admirably captained by Balfour-Paul. Only Watson and Edwards are staying on, but because of the success of the Colts and the second eleven, both of whom won all their matches, the future can be faced without anxiety.

Sherborne enjoyed a successful summer. They beat Blundell's and Downside, headed Tonbridge on the first innings, had much the better of a high-scoring match with Westminster, and lost to Radley by four wickets. The batting was good and enterprising. The bowling, except for Hutton, fast right-hand, was not impressive, but Bashford and Tasker should train on for this year. The fielding, except in the slips, was really good, with Glennie a first-class wicket-keeper. Robinson captained the side well, and despite a damaged shoulder, which prevented him from bowling and throwing, set a splendid example in the field. Hutton, who took 36 wickets for less than 14 runs apiece and made 497 runs in eleven innings, was the best all-round cricketer who has appeared for Sherborne for a long time. Glennie succeeds Robinson in the captaincy and Hodgkinson, Boissier, Basford, Chigwell, and Tasker all return.

Shrewsbury had a young side in 1936. Blagg, the captain, who kept wicket admirably throughout the season, could call upon only two old colours, Pooley, a fast-medium bowler, who fared particularly well towards the end of the term, and Groves, a useful all-rounder, very successful with slow-medium swingers. Distinctly good bowling generally succeeded in dismissing the School's opponents for moderate totals, D. H. Crawford and Shaw providing variety. The fielding was generally satisfactory, but it was a bad season for batting, though Blagg, Rothwell (left-hand), Groves, Lane, Shaw, and Bowring played useful innings. M. Crawford, Baird and Kingsford, all under 16, ought to be good this year, when Blagg will again lead the side, which also includes Groves, D. H. Crawford and Bowring.

Stonyhurst had to abandon three matches owing to rain, and of the other eleven, three were won and eight lost. Poor batting was the real cause of the failure, Moreton alone showing consistency, though Spiers, who came late into the team, and Murphy at times revealed promise. In comparison, the bowling was good, and the best performance of the season was the defeat of Liverpool by one run after Stonyhurst had been dismissed on a difficult wicket for 64. Storey bowled excellently, taking 38 wickets for 10 runs each, including seven for 19 v. Liverpool. Murphy and McQuaid supported him soundly. This season's captain will be Moreton, and six others of last year's eleven will be available, including old colours in McQuaid and Kershaw.

The Stowe eleven revealed no really weak link. The batting averages show no tail to the side and apart from the chief bowlers, the two Robinsons, every one made runs at one time or another. Langley again had a glorious season and crowned a fine school career with an innings of 98 (not out) for the Public Schools against The Army at Lord's. Of the others, Sherrard, Hope, Buchanan, Lynch-Staunton, Munro and Earle were consistent scorers. The fielding, under the inspiring captaincy of Langley, was excellent; Spencer again kept wicket with success. The bowling was not always reliable, but the Robinsons, right and left-hand, not related to each other, made a very good opening pair. In school matches, Stowe beat Westminster by an innings and 85 runs and drew with Oundle, while Radley were saved by the clock. Bradfield and Haileybury had to scratch. The match with I.Z. ended in a tie, as mentioned before; five matches were won, two lost, three drawn. Langley is succeeded in the captaincy by Sherrard, and Munro, M. P. Robinson, Buchanan, Earle, and Frankenburg are staying on.

Taunton would probably have improved upon a fair season but for a visitation of mumps which interfered with practice and, in some games, deprived the eleven of several players. R. B. Harris, the one old colour left, disappointed, and not until the end of term did he reach his best, but he handled his bowling cleverly and set a splendid example in the field. He goes into the Air Force. E. R. Hill and P. M. Bennett did best work in run-getting. Two slow spin-bowlers, A. P. Henderson (right) and D. L. Walmley (left), and a quickish bowler, J. R. E. Evans, all of whom will be back again in 1937, gave variety to the attack. Prospects for this season are bright, because seven of last year's team, most of the successful second eleven and all the colts will be available.

University College School, who won three, lost three, and drew seven of their fixtures, had to rely largely upon two players, Wreford, captain for the third year, and Drury. Wreford obtained three centuries, one against M.C.C., and Drury, a fast-medium bowler, took 43 wickets for just over 14 runs apiece. The climax to a satisfactory season came in an exciting draw with M.C.C., who, at the drawing of stumps, with nine wickets down equalled the school's total of 235. Drakeford, who succeeds Wreford, will have the assistance of Warnock, Asquith and Gibbon.

Uppingham did very well, defeating Shrewsbury, Rugby and Oundle, and drawing with Repton and Haileybury. The batting was never really distinguished, but everybody could make runs and there were some hard hitters capable of helping the side to make recovery. The bowling was steady, especially that of D. W. Gillespie and Pershke, who never once found a wicket to suit them; but the strength of the side lay in the fielding and the captaincy of D. W. Gillespie. Spencer, at cover point, and Neathercoat, in the slips, stood out, and the team as a whole gave a general impression of alertness. P. Gillespie, the new captain, will have the assistance of Carr, who headed the batting averages, Taylor, and Ellerton and Bland, two change bowlers.

In a depressing season, six of Wellington's seven drawn matches were abandoned without even one innings being completed. Small wonder that the eleven never really settled down into a fighting unit, for all through they were short of match practice. Of the five inter-school matches, those with Marlborough, Bradfield, and Charterhouse were ruined. The Haileybury fixture suffered considerably from the weather, the players being in and out of the pavilion throughout the two days, but it provided an interesting struggle. Put in to bat, Haileybury broke down against the medium-paced off-breaks of Hunter, but they did better in the second innings and Wellington, set 169 to get, collapsed for 39. The Westminster match, won by Wellington by four wickets, was favoured with the one fine day of the season at Wellington. McCall, who gained his colours in 1934, Parker, Pedraza, Eddison and Goodall are probably remaining for this year.

Westminster disappointed, the more so as the side contained some good batsmen. A poor start in the early games resulted in loss of confidence. The Stowe match was a disaster, Westminster being put out for 47 in the second innings, and Wellington won by four wickets a game in which nearly 500 runs were scored in one day. An innings of 138 not out by Gawthorne saved the school from a disastrous defeat at Sherborne, and thanks to a not-out innings of 119 by Richardson, the captain, a favourable draw was played with Radley. The two-day match with Charterhouse, in which J. M. Lomas scored 117 not out for the visitors, was washed out. Stocker succeeds Richardson in the captaincy, and Boyle, Cunliffe, Gawthorne, Wilkinson and Sinclair are also available.

Although Loretto lost all the school matches, they shared in some very close and exciting finishes. The batting of Gillespie, Little and Cavesdale was always consistent, but the "tail" generally failed to rise to the occasion, especially in school games. The slow bowlers proved the most effective, but the bowling as a whole was weak. Little proved a safe wicket-keeper. Gillespie will be this year's captain, and Waterhouse, Lee, McNeill, Bell and Dewar also remain.

Merchiston Castle were fortunate in being able to secure a definite result to all their school matches. They defeated Glenalmond, Loretto and Edinburgh Academy and lost to Fettes and George Watson's. W. W. Yellowlees, now at Edinburgh University, headed the batting averages for the second season and Herd carried off the bowling honours. Ballantyne, Webster and Gruer will be available for this year.

Trinity College, Glenalmond, beat Edinburgh Academy, George Watson's and Glasgow Academy, and narrowly lost close contests with Fettes and Merchiston. The Loretto match could not be played. Gregoire, a fine all-round cricketer, was an excellent captain, and Anderson, his successor, played many delightful innings, being at his best in school matches. Towards the end of term, the batting all through became both sound and aggressive and the fielding good. Tennent kept wicket well. Munro, Douglas, Mann, Browne and Brown are staying on this year.

George Watson's put in the field one of the most successful elevens in the history of the school and, with six old colours left, should again do well. They won eight matches, including those against Merchiston, Fettes and Loretto, and suffered defeats from Edinburgh Academy and Glenalmond. D. H. Dewar, the captain, finished at the top of both tables of averages, scoring 410 runs and taking 47 wickets for 7 runs apiece, including 8 for 15 v. Fettes. Jamieson, who succeeds him in the captaincy, totalled 471, with an average of 33. Cater scored 100 not out against Loretto. Laing took 46 wickets for just over 8½ runs each. In addition to Jamieson and Cater, there remain Stephen, M. R. Dewar, Nimmo and Forrester.

I wish to thank the many friends and correspondents without whose kind assistance these notes could not have been written, and regret the absence of information from one or two schools.

The following are the destinations of some of the members of last year's elevens:—

WINCHESTER COLLEGE v. ETON COLLEGE.

Played at WINCHESTER, Friday, Saturday, June 26, 27.—Drawn. Set to get 219 runs to win in about three hours, Eton made no bid for the runs and left off 50 behind with four wickets in hand. Winchester, on Friday, lost their first three batsmen for 23, but Holme and Wilson improved the position. Eton began their reply well, but next day a rain-affected pitch gave bowlers so much help that Eton's nine outstanding wickets fell for 100 runs. Free scoring by Bird, Holme and Wake-Bowell enabled Winchester to declare an hour before tea. F. G. Mann batted brightly when Eton began their second innings, but a definite result never looked likely.

ETON v. HARROW.

Played at LORD'S, Friday, Saturday, July 10, 11.—Drawn. The 107th match between Eton and Harrow was almost entirely ruined by the weather. The Lord's ground suffered severely from unremitting rain, and cricket was restricted to no more than three hours and forty minutes. One has to go back as far as 1922 to find a meeting of Eton and Harrow affected by the weather to anything like the same extent; on that occasion rain prevented any play on the first day but only an hour was lost on the Saturday. In the circumstances, it was surprising that so many people patronised the game at present under review. On Friday the attendance was officially returned as 14,000 and on Saturday, when play was limited to 55 minutes before lunch, there were 11,000 people on the ground.

Only diligent work by the ground staff made a start possible at two o'clock, lunch having been taken early. Naturally, the pitch remained very soft and the outfield was treacherous, but despite these wretched conditions the boys carried on cheerfully. Harrow won the toss and Eton began their bowling with Wild, a left-arm fastish bowler, and Rodwell (right-arm, medium pace). Neither of these bowlers causing much trouble to batsmen, Macindoe was put on with 14 scored, and, making the ball swing late and awkwardly from the off, he quickly bowled Goodchild, while Wild accounted for Henriques, who did not appear to sight a plain straight ball at which no stroke was offered. When Carris and Lindsay showed signs of settling down, another bowling change—J. P. Mann for Wild—was tried with successful results, for Carris, having batted steadily for about an hour, lifted a short ball and was taken at cover. Worse followed for Harrow, as Lindsay, hitting out, fell at 56, but then Holt and Watson, after surviving some anxious moments, gained confidence against some erratic bowling and took part in a valuable fifth wicket stand which realised 86 in 65 minutes before Holt was out. He "ducked" to avoid a rising delivery, but the ball struck his bat and went into the hands of a slip fieldsmen. The next ball dismissed Collins. After the tea-interval Watson completed 50 in 85 minutes, but with that individual feat accomplished rain intervened and the day's play ended with Harrow's score 161 for six wickets, Watson being 57.

Nothing could be done until quarter-past twelve on Saturday and then Harrow, risking everything to force runs quickly, lost their four remaining wickets in half an hour for the addition of 19. Eighth out at 179, when he attempted a big hit and was bowled, Watson batted with much enterprise and revealed natural ability. His off-driving was splendid and anything short of a length he pulled severely. Eton bowled at him for an hour and fifty minutes. The dead pitch gave the attack no assistance and considering the conditions Macindoe accomplished a praiseworthy performance in taking six wickets for just over eight runs apiece. Eton maintained a very high standard of fielding and the excellent wicket-keeping of England was an outstanding feature.

Going in at one o'clock, Eton had only twenty-five minutes batting before rain stopped the game for good. During that time, F. G. Mann, the Eton captain, watched the bowling with marked care, and Boughy, chiefly by neat deflections to leg, made runs in good style. Together, they scored 26.

Of the 107 matches played, Eton have won 42, Harrow 35, and 30 have been drawn. This is the generally published record, but Harrow men object very strongly to the game in 1805 being treated as a regular contest between the two schools, contending that it is no more correct to count that than the fixture in 1857 which has been rejected.

The one-day matches between the two schools during the War are not reckoned as belonging to the regular series.

Thirty-three three-figure innings have been played in matches between the two schools, as follows:—

183 D. C. Boles	(in 1904), Eton	112 A. W. Allen	(in 1931), Eton

In making his 183 Boles set up a new record for the match, beating the 152 obtained in 1841 by Emilius Bayley, afterwards the Rev. Sir John Robert Laurie. M. C. Bird in 1907, by scoring 100 not out and 131, performed a feat without precedent in the match. N. S. Hotchkkin played the following innings: 1931, 153; 1932, 109 & 96; 1933, 88 & 12.

CLIFTON v. TONBRIDGE.

Played at LORD'S, Monday, Tuesday, July 27, 28.—Drawn. Tonbridge had established a definite mastery when rain set in at lunch-time on Tuesday and put an end to the game. Clifton owed almost everything to a brilliant not-out hundred by Eberle. Against the fast-medium bowling of Parsons, Clifton began by losing four men for 45, but Scott, scoring well all round the wicket, helped Eberle to put on 96. After Scott left, Eberle received little assistance, but he hit hard to leg and revealed sound off-side strokes; his figures included thirteen 4's. When Tonbridge, despite a fine innings by Thompson, had six men out for 83, they rallied in grand style. A stand of 48 by Latham and Lloyd-Morgan started the recovery and Tonbridge finished the day 36 behind with three wickets in hand. On Tuesday, Lloyd-Morgan continued his careful defensive innings and his partnerships with Wood and Parsons yielded 50 and 44 respectively, while Parsons and Stevens added 53 for the last wicket. Hitting with rare power, and registering three 6's and eight 4's, Parsons scored his 68 in 75 minutes. Faced with a deficit of 72, Clifton opened deplorably and in fifty minutes lost four wickets for 21 runs before the rain came and saved them from the anxiety of fighting to avoid defeat.

RUGBY v. MARLBOROUGH.

Played at LORD'S, Wednesday, Thursday, July 29, 30.—Drawn. With Wednesday's play limited to two and a half hours there never existed much chance of a definite result but a grand struggle developed for first innings lead. Before the soft pitch became difficult under the influence of sunshine, Scott and Kershaw scored 41 for Rugby's opening stand, but three wickets fell while the total rose to 49 and a complete collapse appeared probable when a heavy rain-storm flooded the ground. After a delay of three hours Bridger and Scott, batting on a lifeless pitch, carried the score to 99 and soon afterwards further rain ended play for the day. Next morning Walford hit out spiritedly and the Rugby total reached 161. Inglis, the last man, was run out in a curious way. He lifted a ball to Graham who held the ball momentarily before dropping it. Several of the players began walking to the pavilion, but the umpire did not leave his position and on appeal gave "not out." Then the ball was thrown to the wicket-keeper who, before Inglis regained his crease, put down the wicket. Although Westwood batted well for Marlborough, six wickets fell for 61 but a seventh-wicket stand of 51 between Collins and Graham carried the side to within 19 of their opponents' score, and when Mallinson, the number eleven, joined Comyn nine runs were still wanted for the lead. After a snick for three and three byes there followed a series of maiden overs, but eventually Comyn put his side ahead. Bridger bothered the Marlborough batsmen with his leg breaks and cleverly disguised his googlies.

CHELTENHAM v. HAILEYBURY.

Played at Lord's, Friday, Saturday, July 31, August 1.—Drawn. This was another match ruined by the weather. Not a ball could be bowled on Friday and on Saturday the cricket was restricted to four hours. Although the bowlers were handicapped by the dead pitch, batsmen, apart from Harrison who played a fine innings for Haileybury, failed to impress. The fielding, however—particularly that of Cheltenham—reached a high standard. In two and a half hours before lunch, Cheltenham showed some degree of consistency in scoring 142 runs for the loss of seven wickets, but rain intervened and the game was not resumed until five o'clock. Meanwhile Eagar declared. Haileybury were left with 90 minutes' batting and lost Burridge at 22, but Harrison dominated the play. He scored so readily with well-timed leg side strokes that he obtained all but 10 of the next 64 runs and was unbeaten when the match was given up with Haileybury 56 behind and eight wickets in hand.

LORD'S SCHOOLS v. THE REST.

Played at Lord's, Monday, Tuesday, August 3, 4.—The Rest won by seven wickets. A brilliant innings by Lomas, The Rest's captain, provided the best feature on Bank Holiday. A fluent stroke player, his cutting and off-driving were beautifully done and when fourth out at 174 he had batted faultlessly for nearly three hours. Holme, using his long reach to advantage, helped Lomas to put on 104, but of the remaining batsmen, Bagnall alone punished the bowling. Macindoe, who generally commanded respect with good length in-swingers, took five wickets for just over 10 runs apiece. The Lord's Schools, apart from Eagar the captain, revealed little enterprise and in two hours scored 79 for three wickets. Rain affected the pitch and next morning Craib, the fast bowler, wrought havoc. Taking the last three wickets in four balls, he altogether dismissed six men for 26 runs, and Dickinson, a brilliant slip fielder, made four catches. Following on, Lord's Schools gave a much better display, and Westwood hit well to leg, but at seven minutes to six Eagar caused much surprise by declaring and leaving The Rest 55 minutes to make 94 to win. In thrilling cricket The Rest went boldly for the runs; hitting at nearly every ball, Bagnall and Maudsley scored 45 in twenty-five minutes for the opening stand. Once the side were in front of the clock the batting became steadier and the runs were hit off with eight minutes to spare.

THE ARMY v. THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Played at LORD'S, Wednesday, Thursday, August 5, 6.—Drawn. Although Bean, with a 6 and eight 4's in 50 runs, hit well, The Army lost their first six wickets for 92. Then Osborne-Smith, square cutting and driving cleverly, scored rapidly and Melsome and Cole also punishing some weak bowling, the last four wickets yielded 164. With the exception of Langley the Schools' batsmen were baffled by the medium pace bowling of Cole. Langley revealed a fine array of strokes, with special aptitude for the off-side, and was unfortunate to miss a century. He was 93 at the close of Wednesday's play and next day Stephenson took the remaining three wickets for seven runs. Rain caused several stoppages on Thursday, and eventually put an end to the match. The Schools' fielding was brilliant; Dickinson, J. P. Mann, Craib, Macindoe and Hutton all made superb slip catches and Craib also held a very hard return by Melsome.
