

PUBLIC SCHOOL CRICKET IN 1937

By A. PODMORE and HUBERT WINTERBOTHAM

Most of the southern schools, in contrast to the previous season, encountered a succession of those hard wickets which, while allowing young batsmen the best chances, make the highest call on the ingenuity and perseverance of bowlers of tender years. It is an accepted truth that, on tricky, rain-affected pitches, club batsmen, with their wealth of experience, have an immense advantage over schoolboys; but it is not so generally recognised that, if there is any disparity in the average leaving-ages or in the average age of the teams in two schools, results may give a most misleading idea. Several schools who did badly are likely to give their opponents a shock this season, simply because they relied in 1937 upon young sides who may not have been able to realise and utilise their opportunities.

The whole trend of the season illustrated the glorious uncertainty of the game. Teams with a mass of old colours started brilliantly and tailed off, or, alternatively, failed to strike their best form until towards the end of term. In other cases, there was a tantalising failure to co-ordinate the "high spots" of all the players—a state of affairs which, in a minor or major measure, characteristic of school cricket, manifested itself to an unusual degree last summer. Where the general note was one of disappointment, the cause, in a remarkably large number of instances, was one common enough in all grades of cricket—lack of variety in bowling. The temptation to most young cricketers is to bowl as fast as possible which, with the natural limitations in physique and stamina, usually results in a stereotyped medium-fast ball quite innocuous unless the catching is first-class and opponents willing to take a risk or two. And the trouble is that too few boys will try to concentrate on length, placing over-much faith in swinging the ball, a feat of little value unless allied to length.

The task of cricket masters and of professionals on the school staffs is at any time difficult. More particularly is this the case with bowlers. In all diffidence, it is suggested that much might be done, not only for school cricket, but for the country's cricket, if a determined attempt were to be made to discover "transformable" bowlers. The names of Goddard and Voce are sufficient justification for the theory that, especially in the adaptable state of adolescence, a bowler with one kind of ambition can profitably be diverted along other lines. Perhaps we are left in happy ignorance of the almost despairing searches which must be made by many sports masters for, say, a left-handed bowler with the natural easy action which needs only devotion to the study of length for the added gifts of spin and break to make him a terror on any kind of wicket. The needs of cricket demand that these searches should not be abandoned. In the development of variety in attack, firstly by catching the "probables" young, and, secondly, by judicious alteration of pace and method, lies the welfare of the whole game.

THE LORD'S FORTNIGHT

On the whole the fortnight at Lord's proved disappointing. The batting reached expectations and some notable performances were recorded, but the bowling and fielding fell below normal. The high standard of fast-medium bowling set last year by D. H. Macindoe (Eton), J. D. G. Craib (Eastbourne) and J. M. Hutton (Sherborne) was not approached. E. K. Scott and A. R. Mutter were mainly responsible for Clifton's victory in the opening match, Scott, who afterwards appeared for Gloucestershire, taking eleven wickets for 12 runs apiece and Mutter following innings of 79 and 55 by dismissing eight batsmen for 138. Rugby, whose running between wickets provided a tribute to H. W. F. Franklin, gave a great exhibition of batting, D. G. Clark, unable to play the previous season, making a welcome reappearance in the side. All the honours of a drawn game did not go to Rugby, D. G. Lacy Scott, a newcomer to the Marlborough side, batting more than five hours for 133 once out, and D. I. Graham playing innings of 70 and 57. Lacy Scott, who also scored 111 off the Eton bowlers, opened the attack against Rugby and took three wickets for 46 in a total of 425 for 9 declared.

A feature of the Cheltenham and Haileybury match was the bowling of P. G. Geary, who in 1935 impressed so favourably when making his first appearance at Lord's. Fast off the pitch, he obtained twelve wickets for 106 runs. D. C. Brooke-Taylor scored 109 and 34 not out, and Cheltenham won by seven wickets. R. B. Jones, a fast medium bowler, did the "hat-trick" when taking five Cheltenham wickets for 48 out of a total of 341, and played two enterprising innings. The Lord's Schools gained a well-deserved victory over the Rest, J. P. Mann (Eton) and Scott joining in a big partnership for the eighth wicket. After a slow start, Mann hit with great freedom. The bowling honours were carried off by Scott and A. Kershaw (Rugby) left hand, for the winners and by F. Falkiner (Radley) and C. W. S. Lubbock (Charterhouse) for the Rest.

It was obvious after the match that the selectors would experience trouble in finding bowlers to dismiss the Army, and Scott, Lubbock and A. C. Shirreff (Dulwich) did well to dispose of their seniors for 313. J. R. Thompson (Tonbridge) opened for the Schools with 102, and Scott hit well for 55 (not out). Captain R. E. H. Hudson put together a beautiful innings of 101 for the Army, but seven wickets were down for 197. Then the weakness of the bowling was exposed, the remaining batsmen adding 116. Thanks to another hard hit innings by Mann, the Schools declared. The Army had plenty of time to get the runs, but did so with only seven minutes to spare.

YOUNG AMATEURS v. YOUNG PROFESSIONALS

The Young Amateurs' XI is selected from those whose names have been considered for inclusion in the Rest XI v. Lord's Schools, and may be regarded as a "second eleven." Winning the toss, the Amateurs put together 280 against a varied attack, G. J. G. Hake (Bromsgrove) (89 not out) and P. Sherrard (Stowe) (51), adding 96 for the fifth wicket by excellent cricket. R. H. Yeatman (St. Paul's) who captained the side, and R. Sale (Repton) also showed good form. The weakness of the Amateurs' bowling was at once apparent and thanks to Harrington (89) and L. Compton (107), the Professionals went ahead with four wickets in hand. Haycraft shaped well for 92 and the Amateurs faced arrears of 104. As has happened before, the Amateurs collapsed in the second innings, Thompson, an off-break bowler, taking six wickets for 46, and the Professionals, requiring 22 runs, won by nine wickets.

THE "UNDER 16" MATCH

Several promising young cricketers took part in the Colts match, a number of whom had already gained first eleven colours. The Lord's Schools, drawn from the "classes" at Easter, repeated their victory of the preceding year over Mr. C. F. Tufnell's XI. The batting was good all round, S. C. S. Farmer (Cheltenham) (69 and 18), P. Goatly (Westminster) (50 and 34), H. E. Watts (Downside) (18 and 75), and G. J. E. Jameson (Eton) (48 and 53), specially distinguishing themselves for Mr. Tufnell's eleven, whose two innings aggregated 527. Thanks to a great innings of 237 by H. A. Pawson (Winchester), a record for the match, the Lord's Schools won by an innings and 11 runs. Pawson, who, narrowly escaped dismissal in the first over, scored mainly by square cutting. With G. V. Garbett (Ampleforth) (57) he put on 121 for the second wicket, and R. E. Crighton (Uppingham) (107) helped him to add 231 for the fourth, the innings being declared for eight wickets. A. J. Ross, a diminutive Haileyburian who spun the ball well, came out with the best analysis for the losers, taking six wickets for 191 runs in 32 overs.

A WEEK AT THE OVAL

The Young Amateurs of Surrey enjoyed a successful week at the Oval. The team, carefully selected after four trial games, was short of bowling, but strong in batting, and the fielding, except in the slips, was smart and accurate. A. B. Allen (Charterhouse), behind the wicket, gave a quietly effective display, bringing off seven good catches and two stumpings during the week. The Young Amateurs of Middlesex and Essex were beaten in an innings; Kent, with five wickets in hand at the drawing of stumps, required 152 runs to avoid defeat. Yeatman, who captained the side, scored 368, average 92; Shirreff, the Dulwich fast bowler averaged 67.50; P. J. Dickinson, the K.C.S., Wimbledon, all rounder, 54.66; J. R. Bridger (Rugby), who twice shared in opening partnerships of three-figures with Yeatman, 49.25, and G. I. D. Norton, the Malvern left-hand bowler, 45. Against Middlesex, Yeatman (172) and Bridger (130) put up 289 for the first wicket. D. P. G. Elliot, the Rugby captain (104) and N. M. Mischler, the St. Paul's wicket-keeper (50), added 142 for the second Middlesex wicket.

THE SCHOOLS

Eton beat Harrow and Haileybury, drew with Winchester and Charterhouse and lost to Marlborough, who, however, were not the best of these schools since "suicidal" batting by Eton gave them victory. The Eton batting was sounder in technique and more forceful than for many years. Six batsmen finished with averages of over 30 and there was, throughout the season, a spirit of adventure not seen lately on Agar's Plough. Few will forget Mann's innings against Haileybury and Curling's 125 against Winchester. Barnardo played splendidly against Charterhouse and even better in the second innings at Lord's. Walker, in style a law to himself, was the most reliable run-getter on the side and it was his contemptuous 46 against Harrow that made an Eton victory possible.

England, in the early stages of the season, was one of the best wicket-keepers Eton has ever had, but his great improvement in batting somewhat overburdened him. Boughey and de Rouge-mont were useful on more than one occasion. No good opening pair of bowlers was ever found and it was not a good sign that Mann, bowling his leg-breaks better than in 1936, should have headed the averages. Of the rest, Banister, who bowled splendidly at Lord's, and Huntington-Whiteley were the best, but neither was in the first flight, and Holt, of Harrow, made the attack look, what in truth it was, a little thin. Nor can the future be faced with too much optimism. The fielding was moderate, with only Mann brilliant and Walker good. Mann, a dominant Eton cricketer, goes to Cambridge, but will be lost to cricket next summer. Boughey will probably have Marsham, Curling, de Rougemont and Darell to help him in 1938.

Harrow beat Marlborough, drew with Winchester and lost to Charterhouse and Eton. The loss of the Charterhouse match by 17 runs was due to over-eagerness when Harrow held a strong position. The Eton match, both a tragedy and a triumph, was in the general opinion a defeat more glorious than many victories. The captain, Watson, led his team ably, on and off the field. The most dangerous bowler on the side, he averaged over 27 in batting, and fielded admirably at mid-off. Halliday improved enormously in batting; Lithgow was a sound bat and a fine field and Carp and Seligman, the opening pair, performed their task well. Holt played magnificently throughout the season. In fourteen innings, he scored less than 30 on only three occasions and his century against Eton was a classic. Henriques, though inconsistent, made some useful scores.

Stuart and Stewart generally opened the bowling. Stuart was not, perhaps, quite so good as in 1936, but he was always a great trier and got good wickets when particularly wanted. Stewart improved enormously as the season progressed, and when he developed the out-swing as against the in-swing. His 6 for 51 against Charterhouse and 6 for 60 against Eton were admirable performances. Sage, a left-handed all-rounder, still immature, showed much promise. He found difficulty in dealing with the turning ball and though he bowled a good length, has yet to learn to impart spin. Hayward bowled steadily throughout the summer.

Old colours staying on: Holt (captain), Sage, Lithgow and Hayward.

The main trouble with Winchester was the lack of "body" in both batting and bowling. In attack, too much depended on Dixon, a leg-spinner who kept the ball consistently well up. If he could add the top-spinner to his repertoire, he would be most formidable. Garrow possessed a good action and considerable life off the pitch and Alexander, the captain, often took valuable wickets with his left-hand medium-paced deliveries, but the rest of the attack was mediocre. Of the batsmen, Proud, picked against the Army, had a fine season, his aggressive play when set making him a most difficult man to bowl to; Alexander often made runs when needed and the elder Pawson was a watchful opening batsman.

H. A. Pawson, not sixteen until after the season ended, displayed the highest promise. Marked by endless patience and astonishingly mature judgment, his technique was that of the innings rather than that of the stroke player, but time will certainly develop his strokes. The fielding was sound, Proud at mid-off and Stanning in the gulley being specially notable. As wicket-keeper, Davy, largely through Dixon's co-operation, claimed the unusually high number of thirty victims.

Winchester scraped home against Marlborough by two runs, thanks to a valuable innings of 77 by H. A. Pawson and Dixon's leg-breaks. They faded away after a good start against Harrow, being none too well placed when Harrow declared their follow-on innings; they saw victory slide from their grasp against Charterhouse and were saved on Agar's Plough by the younger Pawson.

Old colours staying on: Proud (captain), Stanning, Dixon, Garrow, and H. Pawson.

Rugby possessed a powerful batting side, Elliot, Clark and Scott being above the average. Had the bowling been all that it promised, nearly every match must have been won; but the prolonged absence of Whitelock meant more work for his colleagues and they gradually lost life and accuracy, with the inevitable result of many drawn games. The school only once suffered defeat—by the Butterflies in the opening match. They beat Clifton and Uppingham and drew with Repton and Marlborough. A great many runs were made in the season but the bowling latterly was not good enough.

Old colours staying on: Bridger (captain), Kershaw, Markland and MacColl.

If Marlborough had been able to synchronise batting and bowling success, the season might have provided a succession of triumphs. In both departments their resources were much above the ordinary, but the fixture with Rugby, in which the bowlers, regarded with justifiable confidence as potential match-winners, failed to come off, typified many of their experiences. They were then, however, without Mallinson, a good leg-breaker. Bailward kept up a capital pace and, with Mallinson, could usually be depended upon to take wickets. Graham, Lacy Scott and Redfearn, medium-paced bowlers, could all keep down the runs and take toll of errors. As regards batting, Fletcher, Lacy Scott and Terry were sound in defence and Terry revealed a wide range of scoring-strokes. Collins, but for uncertain defence in his first few overs, would have been a menace to all bowlers, and Graham, even if he failed during term, made ample atonement at Lord's. Redfearn, Fletcher and Terry stood out in a good fielding side. Advantages were thrown away in the Harrow and Winchester matches, both lost, but some compensation came in victories over Eton—a very fine performance—and Wellington.

Cheltenham, undefeated in school matches, beat Haileybury and drew with Malvern, Marlborough and Clifton. Possibly the most valuable characteristic of the team was ability to fight back when things began to go wrong. They needed this quality against Marlborough, when five wickets fell for 67, and against Malvern, when losing half the side for 20 runs fewer. Moore in each case pulled the game round, but there was no star batsman in the side and in the Clifton match, when the crisis arose, Geary and Barry staved off disaster. Geary, with 8 for 79 in the Haileybury match, 6 for 50 against Marlborough, 5 for 57 v. Malvern and 5 for 81 v. Clifton, was the most consistent bowler. Keeping a good length, he could always make the ball "do" a little and he hid his variations of pace with great skill. Stevens, the captain, hurt his back in June and so was unable to bowl much but he fielded brilliantly. Bourne at cover and Farmer behind the stumps also did outstanding work. Easily the best performance was the win at Lord's where, besides Geary's bowling, Brooke-Taylor's century and a sound innings by Rutledge helped to discomfit Haileybury.

Haileybury, for all the hollowness of their defeat by Cheltenham, could not be set down as a weak side. They beat Wellington by 180 runs; drew with Uppingham after Harrison had achieved the rare feat of scoring a century in each innings, and, although they started badly in the drawn match with Stowe, generally demonstrated their strength in batting. Indeed, every man gained a double-figure average. Harrison with an aggregate of 649 and an average of 49.92 easily took chief honours, and St. George, Barton, Robey and Shephard were also consistent run-getters. Jones, the hero of the Cheltenham débâcle, did little of note during the term. The trouble lay in the bowling which was nearly all of the same type—right-hand and slightly above medium pace. Harrison secured the greatest number of wickets and Hildick-Smith, this year's captain, though rather expensive, came next in effectiveness.

Clifton won four of their thirteen matches, lost three and had the better of the drawn game with Cheltenham. The finish of the M.C.C. game, when the school needed 18 runs with 15 minutes to go and the last man in, will long be remembered by those who played or watched. The winning hit came in the over before the last. Other victories were over Gloucestershire Gypsies, Bristol and District and Tonbridge. In a strong attack, Scott, with his slow spinners, received useful help from Cleghorn and MacLellan, medium-fast, and Heaven and Wilson, medium-slow. After an uncertain start, the batting improved and Gibbs made a great advance as a wicket-keeper. Scott, considered one of the best school all-rounders of recent years, headed the batting and bowling averages.

The Tonbridge averages and the result of the Clifton match at Lord's are at first blush hard to reconcile. In batting Tonbridge could show two men with the same aggregate of runs, 572, one with 449, two over 300 and two over 200, with averages ranging from 50 to 20. In bowling, Stevens secured 52 wickets at a cost of 16.67 and Kidson 51 at 17.15, with E. I. C. Wood and Yeats-Brown between them claiming 49 at moderate cost. When it is considered that the team started the summer with only four places to fill and that Sherborne and Lancing were beaten during term, it seems that either Clifton were an exceptional side or that Tonbridge experienced a sudden fall from grace. There is some truth in each hypothesis for, without detracting from Clifton's merits, the failure of the later batsmen in the fourth innings after the first pair had put on 126 was not Tonbridge's true form. Thompson, the captain, who scored a hundred against the Army at Lord's, managed an unusually strong side well.

Old colours staying on: Yeats-Brown (captain), P. G. C. Wood, Dew and Rampton.

Aldenhams suffered more than other schools from bad weather, nine matches being unfinished in the latter half of the season. McCorkell batted consistently well throughout and received valuable assistance from Mence. Berkeley, Bowman (4 for 6 v. Imperial Service College) and Sprent bowled steadily, and Cryer, the captain, was always sound behind the stumps. Very young, the side lacked experience. With several of the eleven remaining, a satisfactory season is anticipated this year.

Alleyn's enjoyed a notably successful season, being beaten only once in thirteen matches and winning outright nine times. Allen and B. C. R. Smith each took 36 wickets for less than ten runs apiece and Alexander, Riddell and Allsop were consistent scorers. These five and four others remain for 1938.

Strong in batting, Allhallows, after making high scores, often failed to produce the necessary bowling skill. McKelvie and Crocker were newcomers of promise and Langton placed a century to his credit besides heading the bowling averages.

So few of the previous year's side staying on, the Ampleforth eleven had practically to be rebuilt. They accomplished some good performances in overcoming strong club sides, notably that brought annually by Sir A. W. White, whom they had never beaten before, and a strong Magdalen side. Two of the school matches were won, one lost, and a tie played with Durham. Owing to wet wickets, the scoring was not so high as usual, but Wells, the captain, played some good innings. Redfern, a brilliant outfield, did not strike his form, but Ryan, Cardwell and Sutton were able all-rounders and the catching and ground fielding reached a high standard. Horner, this season's captain, is a left-arm bowler of class, and Walter, Mahony and Garbett, an opening batsman and promising wicket-keeper, should do well.

Beaumont, despite disappointing batting performances, came out with the excellent record for school matches of four won, two drawn, and one lost. This was entirely due to first-rate bowling and fielding. Ruane, who played for the Lord's Schools, was untiring and kept a good length, Tyndall constantly improved, and Nixon rendered admirable support. Cashin proved himself a wicket-keeper of parts, with Gompertz the best bat among the new colours.

Old colours staying on: Cashin (captain), Gompertz, Tyndall and Pritchard.

With six old colours, Bedford looked forward to a successful season, but anticipations were not altogether realised. After a good start, in which they beat the Cryptics and the Butterflies and drew with Romany, M.C.C. and Oxford Authentics, they lost to Oundle and St. Paul's and drew with Dulwich. They won their last inter-school match against Leys, finishing the programme with a defeat from Incogniti. Oakley, the best bat in the side, will captain the team this year, although A. E. Cook, the 1937 captain, is staying on as well as six other colours. Roberts, a medium-paced right-hand bowler, who swings the ball dangerously, came to light in the middle of the season and Feilden, a colt of real pace, shows promise.

Bedford Modern did well, gaining victories over K.E.S., Birmingham, Royal Masonic, Emanuel and Newcastle R.G.S., drawing with U.C.S. and losing to Oakham. Jacobs headed the batting averages.

Berkhamsted started with a convincing win over Mill Hill, lost five matches in succession, and registered good victories over the Masters, the Old Boys and Whitgift, while only time saved Christ's Hospital from crushing defeat. Altogether they won four games, lost seven and drew two.

Dix, the captain, who headed the batting averages, received best support from Dixon, and Jelley and Isherwood should improve. Pennington was the outstanding bowler, with Dix a consistent keeper. Six old colours will be available this season.

Bishop's Stortford, in the course of their best season for some time, beat Berkhamsted, Chigwell and St. Edmund's, Ware, and drew with Felsted and Leys. McLean, the captain, averaged over 40, and Adams did still better, scoring three centuries and averaging over 60. Adams played for the Rest against Lord's Schools and he and McLean assisted Hertfordshire. Meen and Stirling were other reliable batsmen. Harris, a slow left-hander who kept a sure length, stood out in an attack comprising McLean, Stirling, Meen and Jones.

Old colours staying on: Adams (captain), Meen, Smith and Ferguson.

Bradfield had much for which to thank their captain, Tucker, in their school matches. He scored a century against Lancing, who were beaten, 60 not out in the drawn game with Stowe, and two plucky innings against Radley which did not, however, stave off defeat. The School beat Wellington and gained a particularly meritorious victory over the M.C.C. Wright batted splendidly in the Wellington game, Cave-Bigley hit hard when making many useful scores and the bowling of M. Paine, Collins, Henshaw and Martin was backed-up by sound fielding.

Old colours staying on: Wright (captain), Potheary, M. Paine and Martin.

Brighton had their best season for years. They suffered a heavy and unexpected defeat in the St. Pauls match, but beat Dulwich, Lancing, Epsom and Cranleigh, and time alone saved Christ's Hospital from a reverse. Seven of the side were capable of making a lot of runs and the attack possessed variety. Braybon, the fastest of the bowlers and the most consistent, Wilson, a slow leg-breaker, Wallace-Cox and Philips all did well. Sharp, the captain, besides being a capital cover-point, batted with skill and success, but the most improved member of the team was Grose, a careful starter who, when set, hit hard in front of the wicket. Wallace-Cox, Philips and Thompson, played many good innings. Smyth, strong in off-side strokes, was compelled by the batting strength of the side to go in Number 7, and he often lost his wicket in trying to force the pace.

Bromsgrove improved greatly upon their previous season's performances, the final record reading: four wins, two ties, four draws and two defeats. Hake, the best and most attractive batsman in the side, enjoyed considerable success. Field and Forge between them took 57 wickets. Field showed greater accuracy, if less pace, than formerly and Forge's slow left-hand deliveries were good enough to defy the hard wickets. Hake and Jones proved themselves useful change bowlers.

Old colours staying on: Field (captain), Williams, Jones, Ellis and Forge.

The fortunes of Canford varied. Huggins captained the side admirably and made over 500 runs and Roberts played consistently well, but although Noble gave promise towards the end, no one else could be relied upon in run-getting. The bowling, however, was exceptionally steady, French, Ritchie, Waller and Pennock taking 140 wickets between them. Four of the five school matches ended in victory, but club sides were, on the whole, too strong. There was an excellent finish to the Eton Ramblers' match. Both sides made over 300 in the first innings, and when the school declared the visitors, set 132 to get in 85 minutes, accomplished the task with the last two men together and five minutes to spare. This year should see a really good side, for eight old colours will be available, including the four bowlers and both Roberts and Noble.

Charterhouse disappointed, the batting, considered exceptionally strong, often breaking down badly. This, combined with fielding rather below recent standards, caused the loss of the Westminster and Wellington matches. The last-minute victory over Harrow, brought about largely by a magnificent piece of bowling by Lubbock, formed the brightest spot of the summer. The bowling lacked variety, too much work falling upon Lubbock and Knight. Weeks was a level-headed captain and consistent batsman, but Crofts, his opening partner, after making a fine century against the Free Foresters, fell away. Lubbock hit a good hundred against Eton, Beane "came off" against Westminster and Crompton made several useful scores. The absence of a tail made the comparative failure of the team the more surprising.

Though beaten by Whitgift, University College School and Imperial Service College, City of London registered wins over Forest, Eltham and Hurstpierpoint. The batting depended chiefly on Chapman, the captain, and McGlashan, though Harman and Pillow gave useful support. Shaddick and Dale shouldered the burden of most of the bowling, Fraser also deserving honourable mention. Chapman and eight other colours are still at the school.

Cranleigh, suffering defeats from Brighton and Highgate, drew with Mill Hill and beat Christ's Hospital. Turner, the captain, chosen for the Young Amateurs against Young Professionals at Lord's, formed the mainstay of the bowling, heading the averages, with 33 wickets for a little over 19 runs apiece. Skinner, Neale, Atkinson, Rose, Hunt and Pears batted consistently.

Denstone, with one of the best sides that they have ever been able to command, won eleven of their fifteen matches and were only twice beaten. Of the four batsmen at the top of the averages, Burrow, Deighton and Watson will be available this season. Burrow scored 500 runs, average 38, and Deighton, besides averaging 42, took 38 wickets for less than 16 runs each.

Dover, who won four and lost one of their six school matches, batted right through the side. The opening pair, A. Dawes and Harland, usually gave them a good start. As regards the bowling, Mott and March were well supported by Gordon, a spinner, and Bloy, but the fielding left much to be desired. A. Dawes, the new captain, can call upon five old colours this year.

Downside won three matches, and lost two, but inasmuch as the remaining four were drawn very much in their favour, the full powers of the team were not illustrated by the mere record. Their strength lay largely in the opening pair, Masters and Hawkins, and Sheridan, a fastish bowler with two more seasons in front of him. Masters and Hawkins engaged in four opening partnerships of over a hundred, including one of 199, and another of 94 against M.C.C. That the rungetting did not depend entirely upon this pair was proved against Free Foresters when the early batsmen failed and the last four wickets added 120 in just over an hour. Sheridan, who swings the ball either way, took 32 wickets for 14 runs apiece.

On comparative form, there can be little doubt that the best performances by Dulwich were a level draw with Tonbridge and a handsome win over St. Paul's. Almost as good, however, was their fight against a powerful Free Foresters side who won after a sporting declaration by Shirreff. A captain who inspired and fostered a remarkable team-spirit, Shirreff headed both batting and bowling averages. He was particularly keen on setting an attacking field, and even on plumb wickets, was seldom forced to open it out. Shirreff, who played against the Army at Lord's and in all the Young Amateurs' matches at the Oval, improved his batting vastly, both in sureness and in variety of strokes. Barnett, an easy stroke-player, Turner, Collingwood and Gray were others to accomplish good innings. As a bowler, Shirreff swung the ball late and sharply, getting great pace off the pitch. Thomas's left-hand spinners formed a valuable addition to the attack and the throwing and backing-up were excellent. The one real failure of the side occurred against Brighton, themselves a very strong side. Shirreff will again lead the team this season.

Durham won four and lost five of the twelve matches played. Buttle, the captain, a fine fielder and good forcing bat, Sylvester, Turnbull and Mayhew have all left, but the bowling this year should be more than adequate. Forster, fast medium, reduced his pace with good results; Greensword, left hand, showed real promise and Orwin, medium-fast swingers, and Hall, off-breaks, should complete a useful quartette.

Lack of a reliable opening pair and a good medium-pace bowler were the chief factors in Emanuel's failure to win more than two matches as against twelve defeats. W. L. Page captained the side well, but his bowling fell off. Gandar was the best bat, though Burrows played steadily. Thompson, a fastish bowler, should do well in 1938 and Halligan showed all-round ability.

Sound batting, a useful attack and patchy fielding characterised Epsom's season. They recovered remarkably well from a bad start—four defeats off the reel—and finished by winning five of the last seven games. Knaggs, Thompson, who put together a not-out century against the Buccaneers, and Tomlinson, the wicket-keeper, were outstanding, and Hubble, the captain, though he failed in batting, supplied some of the best bowling. The School beat Christ's Hospital but lost to Brighton and King's College School. Five old colours are available this season.

Forest, after a shaky start, improved and lost only one (Old Foresters) of the last six matches, which included an exciting finish and win by six runs against M.C.C. Hill, the captain, bowled consistently, taking six wickets for nine runs against the Chelmsford Clergy and eight for 45 against the War Office, when the school batting failed badly. Wilson batted well and never let the side down. Ludlow, a useful batsman, kept wicket with his usual brilliance and Wellum improved with every game.

Giggleswick, in a crowded season, defeated Leeds and Skipton, drew with Stonyhurst and St. Peter's, York, and lost to St. Bees. The best work was accomplished in fielding which was reliable as well as opportunistic in character. The bowling was variable and the batting disappointing. Four old colours are returning.

Unbeaten in school matches, Highgate suffered only two defeats in their whole programme—by Repton Pilgrims and Hornsey. They beat Mill Hill by three wickets, Cranleigh by seven wickets and Felsted by 56 runs, and drew with Aldenham. Illness caused the cancellation of the King's, Canterbury fixture. The batting revealed no tail and the side generally received a good start from J. K. G. Webb, the captain. The bowling, very steady, was well supported in the field.

Old colours staying on: M. H. Webb (captain), Morton, Harris, Turquand, Andrews, Ellerton and Reed.

The failure of the young members of the King Edward's, Birmingham eleven led to disappointing results, only two games being won, with six lost and three drawn. The burden of the batting and bowling fell on the seniors left from the previous year and, when they failed, there was no second line of defence or attack. The one gratifying feature of the season consisted in the capture of all ten Ashfield wickets by Freeman.

Outstanding in the King's, Bruton side were Holland and Sladen, the former hitting up 155 against Downside and the latter 85 against Weymouth. Seven of the side made scores of 50 or over but, for all that, only two matches ended in victory. Batting breakdowns in the Canford and King's, Taunton games provided only a partial explanation. The school sadly felt the need of two really good bowlers, for the attack, if varied, lacked sting. Sladen and four other old colours stay on this season.

As they relied upon a very young and inexperienced side, the failure of King's, Canterbury to win a school match is easily understandable. They came nearest to success against Eastbourne, just failing, after a declaration, to force a win. Tilton batted steadily and Wauton and Sargisson scored quickly. Chief responsibility in bowling fell upon Armstrong, the captain, and Hurford. The fielding in front of the wicket was good, but the slip-fielding fell below standard. All but two of the team will be available this season.

The outstanding member of the King's College School, Wimbledon team was Dickinson, who again exceeded 1,000 runs, and headed the bowling averages. He played against the Army at Lord's. Six matches were won, six drawn and four lost. Next to Dickinson, Murray, Dann and Downham were the most successful batsmen and Downham a good second in bowling. Three old colours are staying on.

Kings, Ely did well against Perse and Peterborough but lost to Stamford. Wright, Wragg, the new captain, and White were serviceable bowlers. White and Tharp showed to advantage with the bat and Leitch kept wicket well. There are six colours left.

Failure to reproduce in school matches the batting form shown against club sides spoiled the record of King's, Rochester, who went down before Framlingham and Sevenoaks and drew with Sutton Valence and Cranbrook. Lees, a steady batsman, and Bayntun, who believed in going for the bowling, made most of the runs. Wright, the captain, in his fourth year in the side, bowled his left-hand slows with effect, and Bell, Birch and Lees completed a useful attack.

King's, Taunton, though beaten by Wellington by the narrow margin of 11 runs, defeated Bristol G.S., King's, Bruton, Allhallows, West Buckland and Blundell's 2nd. The Plymouth match resulted in a tie. Goldie, Leech, who made 146 against Allhallows, and Bowes-Cavanagh did most in rungetting and the last two were the mainstays of the attack. Goldie, captain and wicket-keeper, inspired the team with keenness in the field. At least seven old colours are available this year.

Drawn games occupied most of the Kingswood programme, the matches with Bristol G.S., Taunton, Monkton Combe, Wycliffe and Prior Park all ending in this way, and the one school fixture brought to a definite conclusion gave them a win over Dauntsey's.

Old colours staying on: Lund (captain), Wright and Sergeant.

Despite the possession of three bowlers, T. L. R. Hill, A. R. E. Hill and Wheeler, who could all take wickets on cast-iron pitches, Lancing fared badly. This was due partly to uninspired fielding, but still more to unsteady and uneven batting—a fact all the more regrettable since the talent was there, failure being generally due to uncorrected errors. Woodward, who brought off some splendid cover-drives, appeared to most advantage in batting, but for the most part there was little reaction to coaching. A. R. E. Hill, slow left-hand with flight and spin, T. L. R. Hill, medium-fast right-hand, and Wheeler, a slow off-spinner, lent variety to the bowling.

Leeds G.S. hardly fulfilled their promise, too much being left to Warburton, the captain and outstanding player with bat and ball. Leeds took part in exciting finishes with Giggleswick and St. Peter's, York, the first match being lost and the second won. Carter, McLeod and Smith gave their captain most support. With eight of the side returning, this season should produce better results.

A streak of unsoundness in the batting of Leys lost them several games. When they did make runs, however, they did so with style and decision. D. M. Witherington, Skinner and White being most consistent. Well equipped with bowlers, they lacked only a medium-paced off-spinner. Muirhead and Laycock, one right-hand and the other left-hand and both genuinely fast for schoolboys, were supplemented by Skinner, right-hand, and A. J. Witherington, left-hand, both spin-bowlers. D. M. Witherington kept wicket admirably and White handled a good fielding side well.

Old colours staying on: White, D. M. and A. J. Witherington and Skinner.

The Malvern eleven failed to do themselves justice. The bowling, at the beginning of the season the chief worry, did all that was asked of it, few sides making anything over 250. Cronheim and Cary, both medium-paced, who opened the bowling, did well and Shakespear enjoyed success with his slow leg-breaks. The batting disappointed throughout the term, except in the second innings of the Repton match when Malvern scored 388 for 7 declared in three hours. Norton and Manners played some good innings but the remainder could not produce their true form. Though the fielding was not always reliable, Denton-Thompson kept wicket efficiently. Six of the side stay on, with Manners again captain.

Merchant Taylors did well, winning seven of the twelve games played and losing only two of the seven school matches. They won those with King's, Canterbury, Christ's Hospital, Imperial Service College and Berkhamsted, experienced defeat against Douai and Beaumont, and drew with Aldenham. In the last-named fixture, Maxwell, who took in all 48 wickets for less than 10 runs apiece and claimed most credit for the success, secured six wickets for 36. Fox was the most consistent of the other bowlers. Apart from collapses against Douai and Beaumont, the batting was reliable, Kettle, Hart and Roper doing able work. The ground fielding reached a high standard and Weston kept wicket well. Old colours staying on: Roper (captain), Harold, Wood, Fox, Maxwell, Weston and Roberts.

Mill Hill went through the melancholy experience of not winning a single match. Felsted, Highgate, Dulwich, Berkhamsted, St. Paul's and Leys all defeated them and Aldenham and Cranleigh drew. Dexter headed the batting averages but received little support from his colleagues. A heavy burden rested upon Webster and Scarf, who often bowled with scarcely a rest. Six old colours will be at Dexter's disposal this season.

Monkton Combe might be described as victims of over-keenness, for a plague of mumps visited the twelve boys who were enthusiastic enough to return for practice before term-time. Consequently the team was completely disorganised and, as finally constituted, played together in only three matches. In the circumstances, the results—one win, four losses and five draws—possessed little significance, but the eleven, though sometimes timid in batting, did well when pressed. During a tour in the West undertaken by eleven boys, two masters and the "pro," two out of the four matches were won. Powell, captain for the second year, can call upon six old colours.

Winning the matches with Trent and Bedford Modern, Oakham drew with Wellington and lost to Worksop. Both wins were the occasions of fine individual feats. Fisher, the captain, hit up 121 not out against Trent and Grier took nine Bedford Modern wickets for 23. These two will again be available, as well as Pollard and Donald, two bowlers of merit, Bradfield, Savage and Towns. The loss of Hamer, an all-rounder, and of Kirk, a first-rate batsman, will be felt.

In taking 79 wickets, Connaughton, captain of Oratory, set up a school record during a successful season which included wins against Beaumont, at Lord's, and Douai. Oratory were a great fielding side. Most of their runs came from Bodenham, Hurford-Jones, Connaughton, Binyon and Kelly. Hurford-Jones, the new captain, will have as many as nine old colours at his command.

Oundle, who beat Bedford and Leys, drew with Stowe and lost to Uppingham, were enterprising but rather unreliable in batting, and the bowling suffered from lack of variety. The fielding, however, was always good and sometimes brilliant. The outstanding members of the team were Mills, not sixteen years old, who had a batting average of 67, Conradi, Ringrose and Gilbert among the batsmen, and Shaw, who took 37 wickets for less than 15 runs each.

Old colours staying on: Payne (captain), Gilbert, Shaw, Mills, Brittain, Conradi and Nicholls.

Radley must be accounted one of the strongest as well as one of the most fortunate sides of the year. They demonstrated their powers by winning in a single innings over Bradfield and Lancing, over Stowe by seven wickets and Westminster by nine wickets. At Sherborne, the last two men stayed in for nearly an hour to save the game, thus exemplifying the claim that everyone in the side could bat reasonably well. When it is added that the real strength of the team lay in bowling and fielding, it becomes clear that Radley escaped most of the trials which normally beset a school. Falkiner, keeping a perfect length at a pace just above slow, took 68 wickets, including 14 against Bradfield, and Birks, captain again this year, if a trifle erratic, put up some fine performances, twice dismissing eight batsmen in an innings. Of the batsmen, Sell, though unorthodox in method, stood out by himself, Mackarness, despite occasional failures, showed himself to be a good natural player, and Medrington and Falkiner were a sound opening pair.

Old colours staying on: McIntosh, Grosvenor and possibly Hamilton.

The Repton team was young and inexperienced, Fisher being able to call on only two old colours, Barnett and Hughes, both medium-paced bowlers. Fisher, himself the most reliable man in the attack, was unfortunately unable to play in the Uppingham match. As expected, the batting proved weak and too much depended upon Sale and Laing, the opening pair. Repton lost to Uppingham and Malvern and drew with Shrewsbury and Rugby. Six old colours remain under the continued captaincy of Fisher.

Rossall, with only two members of the 1936 eleven, never really recovered from several heavy defeats early in the season, although they did well to dispose of a strong Sedburgh side for 54 and to hold their own with Shrewsbury until the last innings. Though Heaton and Pocock made some useful scores, the remainder of the batsmen possessed few scoring strokes. Heaton, slow left-hand, the mainstay of the bowling, generally kept the batsmen playing. Lashmar, medium-right and Spry, slow off-breaks, enjoyed spells of effectiveness. Smith kept wicket soundly. Eight of the side, captained by Heaton, will be available for 1938 and better fortune is expected.

Rydal, in a dismal season drew with Birkenhead, lost by ten runs to Merchant Taylors', Crosby, and also to Liverpool. The bowling was adequate. Mellor, Kingston and Tattersall could all keep a length and Blackburn's leg-breaks met with some success. The fielding, too, was fairly good, but the batting was feeble throughout. Blackburn will continue the captaincy with six old colours under him.

St. Edmund's, Canterbury, after an unpromising start in matches against clubs, jumped into form in school games, beating St. Lawrence, Sutton Valence and King's, Rochester, and having the best of draws with King's, Canterbury and Dover. Baylis was the outstanding batsman and Screeton, Lidgey and Pinhey, of whom the latter two are returning, bore the burden of the attack.

St. Edward's won three, lost four and drew ten of their matches—many of them after having the best of the play. Henderson will captain the side in 1938 with Waldron, Churcher, Thursfield and George to support him. Great things are expected of Lewis, a stylish bat, but a new wicket-keeper and an opening pair of batsmen must be found. New fixtures arranged for this season include Bradfield and the M.C.C.

In winning five of their six school matches, St. Lawrence owed a great deal to the individual prowess of Colley and Gardner. Colley headed the batting figures and Gardner, the new captain, finished at the top of the bowling averages. Bridge, Dixon and Drayson all had their good days with the bat, and the fielding in the last few matches reached a high level. Larsen and James, the change bowlers, brought variety to the attack and a well-balanced side recorded victories over King's, Canterbury, Dover, Whitgift, Sutton Valence and Berkhamsted.

Old colours staying on: Drayson, Bridge and Larsen.

Considering that seven members of the successful 1936 eleven were available, St. Paul's did not fare as well as expected. They beat Felsted and Bedford by six wickets, Brighton by eight wickets and Mill Hill by ten wickets. On the other hand, they lost to Leys by five wickets and Dulwich by 83 runs. Yeatman, with nearly 500 runs, a fine bowling record and more catches than any other member of the side, played his part as captain to perfection, and Mischler, with a similar scoring feat and excellent wicket-keeping to his credit, was also outstanding. Totton and Russell between them took 74 wickets and Hasler was a valuable member of the attack.

Of a very young Sedbergh side, at least eight will be returning this year. Three matches against schools were won by big margins, though rain saved them from defeat in the game with Rossall, when the batting broke down badly. Sedbergh seldom encountered hard wickets—not a helpful experience for an untried side—but

D. J. F. Watson, the new captain, and Edwards made progress as batsmen and the virtue of steadiness marked the bowling of Ayre and R. W. W. Watson.

The only victory of a disappointing Sherborne season came against Downside in the last match of the summer. They lost to Blundell's and, after being 80 runs ahead on the first innings, to Tonbridge, and drew with Radley and Westminster. The Westminster match would have been won but for missed slip catches. Glennie, the captain and wicket-keeper, headed the averages and Martin, Chignell, who will lead the side this year, and Williams made runs. Maddison bowled admirably at times.

That Shrewsbury, unbeaten, won eight and drew the other three of their matches, was due to team-work rather than to any one individual. At the same time, mention should be made of Pooley's fast-medium bowling throughout the season, and Baird's batting in the second half of June and in July. A feature was the number of close finishes, Shrewsbury Town being beaten by five wickets in the last over of the day, Malvern by four runs, the Cryptics by three runs, and the Shrewsbury Saracens and Uppingham by three wickets, the last-named with five minutes to spare. Groves succeeds Blagg in the captaincy and will be assisted by seven old colours.

Stonyhurst, who won five and lost four of their twelve matches, started badly, failing to win one of the first five games. Then they improved, winning five and losing only one of the remaining seven. Weak bowling caused the early lack of success, but later McQuaid bowled his leg breaks really well and came out with the fine figures of 34 wickets for less than 10 runs each. With no outstanding batsman, the team seldom made the runs expected of them. The fielding and catching were good, Costigan, a most successful wicket-keeper, stumping fourteen and catching five.

A seven-wickets defeat from Radley comprised the one blemish on Stowe's remarkably successful season. On this occasion the batting broke down and only a ninth-wicket stand saved the side from complete collapse. Stowe gained a victory by ten wickets over Westminster and drew with Oundle, Haileybury and Bradfield. Strong in batting, they recorded eighteen individual fifties, but Sherrard, the captain, outdistanced the rest with 678 runs and an average of 56.50. He hit a century against I Zingari, 99 not out against Haileybury and over 50 in each innings from the Oundle bowling. Buchanan, however, might have rivalled or even eclipsed him but for injury. Playing eight innings, he totalled 294, including 101 during which he hit the ball out of the ground five times. Robinson receiving insufficient support, the bowling occasionally failed, though Phillips, Walsh and Earle all did good work at times.

Old colours staying on: Earle (captain), Hastings (wicket-keeper), Phillips, Webster, Lowcock, Roche and Stobart.

Taunton proved their enterprise in batting when, having dismissed Blundell's for 286, they obtained the runs for the loss of seven wickets in two hours and a half. The great need was for an attacking fast bowler. On several occasions, after making an encouraging score, they could not get the other side out, although Walmsley, slow-medium left, placed good performances to his credit. Williams batted splendidly in most games, and Robison and Maclean played numerous good innings. These three will be at school this year.

University College School set victories over Berkhamsted, Bedford Modern and City of London against a heavy defeat by Leys and a less serious reverse at the hands of King's College School, Wimbledon. Drakeford was a powerful batsman, a good wicket-keeper and a capable captain, Warnock a useful opening bat and Ryder a skilful slow spin-bowler.

Old colours staying on: Freeman (captain), Hall, Record, Fleming-Griffin, Suttill and Reid.

Interesting and exciting cricket marked the doings of Uppingham. They beat Repton after a number of extraordinary changes of fortune and Oundle as the result of some hard hitting; defeated Shrewsbury in an even game and lost to Rugby after a recovery and declaration. The Haileybury match was drawn, but produced some excellent batting. A general weakness on the leg stump detracted from the soundness of the rungetting, which also suffered from indecision in calling and slack running between wickets. Against these defects could be set great recuperative powers. Much strength lay at numbers 6 and 7 in the batting order, Pershke being most consistent. The bowling was steady, though too much work fell upon three mainstays, who fortunately proved dependable. Bainbridge at cover and Gillespie, at mid-off, stood out in an excellent fielding side.

Wellingborough, playing eleven matches, won two and lost seven. With six old colours, a better record had been expected. Of an unreliable set of batsmen, J. H. Reddy was easily the best and occasionally Day and Charnock showed promise, but a general absence of correct footwork and sound defence spoiled much of the play. The bowlers lacked both variety and length, but the fielding was consistently good, Charnock being outstanding. R. D. H. Reddy kept wicket well.

Westminster deserved a better record than one win, eight losses and three draws. They gained their one victory against Charterhouse and time alone robbed them of wins over Wellington and Sherborne. Calway was the only outstanding batsman, but both Andrews and Sinclair displayed fair consistency. The captain, Stocker, unfortunately did not find his form until late in the summer. Calway's 50 played an important part in the Charterhouse match. The bowling never looked dangerous, though Eyre accomplished steady work in the school matches. Wilkinson kept wicket ably, conceding no more than sixteen byes in as many innings. Old colours staying on: Gawthorne (captain), Calway, Eyre (both medium-fast bowlers), and Woodbridge (slow left).

Opportunities missed at critical moments accounted largely for Wellington's failures in school matches. Haileybury, Marlborough and Bradfield defeated them and the Charterhouse and Westminster games ended in draws. Though Eddison and MacLeod usually gave the team a good start, the batting of those who followed left much to be desired. McCall, when "under way," played attractively and Gracey showed considerable promise. The bowling lacked venom and, in the absence of real pace, not enough use was made of spin bowlers. Although the record of three won, five lost, two drawn reads rather dismally, Wellington accomplished two excellent performances in beating M.C.C. and Old Wellingtonians, in each case after a race with the clock.

Weymouth won three, lost six and drew two of their matches, beating Canford and Victoria College, Jersey, drawing with Monkton Combe and losing to King's, Bruton. The side suffered from the lack of change bowlers, for Stone and Rowland, the opening pair, received poor support. The batting, never strong, improved as the season progressed. Old colours staying on: Peachell, Rowland, Stones, Lemon, Hopkins and Waugh.

Whitgift enjoyed their best season since going to Haling Park, for they won six of the school matches, drew one and lost three. Graves was invaluable, batting and bowling with wonderful consistency and Bird proved reliable with the bat, figuring in several substantial first-wicket stands. Bangs and Foster also rendered good service. A notable performance was the scoring of 244 runs for six wickets in two hours and a quarter to beat M.C.C.

Workshop defeated Wellingborough, St. Peter's, York and Oakham, but lost close and exciting games with Trent and Denstone. The batting was unsteady, with Walker alone outstanding, but the bowling gave full satisfaction. Rhodes—a good name for a bowler if ever one existed—took 77 wickets for less than nine runs apiece, and will probably have another two years in the eleven. Tomkins, a left-hander, should give him the right support.

Wrekin, with only three old colours and the captain, Pelmore, handicapped by a strained back, lost to Denstone and Bromsgrove and beat Ellesmere with some ease. Denham towards the end of the season played some good innings. Grace and Wilford showed promise as batsmen and Fulton and Smith as bowlers. These five, as well as Pelmore, are still at school.

IN SCOTLAND

Edinburgh Academy without a success in school matches, suffered defeats from Fettes and Loretto and drew with Watson's, Merchiston and Glenalmond, but the side was better than the results indicate. Cosh, who will be captain again, made close upon 500 runs and averaged nearly 33. Five other old colours stay on. Fettes won three and drew two of their school matches, beating Loretto, Merchiston and Edinburgh Academy and drawing with Watson's and Glenalmond. The outstanding batsman, Turner, obtained an aggregate of 528 and an average of 44, and was well supported by Mitchell and Fordyce. Marjoribanks, Mitchell, Fordyce and Orr all took wickets.

Rain interfered with all but two of Glenalmond's school matches. In these exceptions Loretto won a capital game, despite a valiant last-wicket stand, and Fettes drew a desperately exciting and even struggle. Anderson, the captain, again batted well. Of the bowlers, Douglas took most wickets, Mann was often dangerous and Munro came on well. Kerr is the new captain, and six old colours are staying on. During a fairly successful season Loretto beat Edinburgh Academy, Watson's and Glenalmond, lost a close game with Merchiston by four runs, and were well beaten by Fettes. The side could bat down to No. 8, but, apart from Gillespie, the captain, who always scored quickly and well, no one was really consistent. Dewar's leg-breaks again met with considerable reward in school matches, his best feats being eight for 48 (including the hat trick) v. Edinburgh Academy, six for 68 v. Watson's, and five for 53 v. Glenalmond. McNeill, Gillespie and McInroy also achieved some useful performances. Old colours staying on: Dewar, McNeill, Cunningham, Simpson, McInroy and, possibly, Nairne. Merchiston Castle, captained by W. Q. Ballantyne, won five matches, lost three and drew nine. Ballantyne himself headed the batting averages, with Gruer the most successful bowler.

IN IRELAND

Belvedere, Dublin, a young team, were defeated in the final of the Leinster Schools Senior Cup after showing good form in earlier matches. Byrne, the probable captain for this year, and the outstanding bat, played stylishly with a delightful variety of strokes, and promises to follow in the steps of two famous Old Boys, E. A. Ingram and J. C. Boucher. Campbell College, Belfast won six and lost six of their sixteen matches. There were two outstanding personal performances, Pollock, the captain, scoring 666 runs with an average of over 55 and Huet taking 58 wickets at a cost of a shade more than 10 runs apiece.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Owing to the death of Mr. A. Podmore when this article was in the early stages of preparation, it was necessary to ask a number of schools for information which had been sent previously. For any inconvenience caused, I tender apologies, for the kind assistance given by Headmasters, games masters and school captains, I offer grateful thanks.

ETON v. WINCHESTER

At Eton, June 25, 26.

Drawn. Eton made such a splendid recovery after being 71 behind on the first innings that they declared and set Winchester the task of scoring 259 in two and a half hours. The fast-medium bowling of Garrow, who brought the ball back sharply from the off, caused considerable trouble to Eton. Alexander and Dix also bowled well and Davy showed capital form behind the stumps. Hard hitting by Alexander and Proud put Winchester in a good position, but the best innings of the match came in Eton's second innings from Curling. Curling used a variety of well-timed strokes, his driving being particularly effective. The arrears were cleared for the loss of one wicket and the Winchester attack was thoroughly mastered. Winchester experienced some anxious moments, but although Eton claimed the extra half hour they could not force a victory.

ETON v. HARROW

At Lord's, July 9, 10.

Eton won by seven wickets. A bold declaration by Watson, the Harrow captain, after Holt had hit a magnificent century, produced a glorious finish to a fine match. Eton took up the challenge with commendable enthusiasm and brought about the first definite result in the series since 1931. They were set to score 159 and hit off the runs in 95 minutes, the winning stroke being made when quarter of an hour of extra time remained for play. Much credit was due to an innings of hard driving by Barnardo.

Harrow entered the game with a fine reputation and their supporters were encouraged to hope that the team would bring about the victory which has eluded them since 1908, but the importance of the occasion appeared to affect the batting and, on winning the toss, the side were put out for 118. That Harrow failed to do themselves justice in their first innings was proved the next day when the Eton bowling was freely punished.

Though the light was none too good when the game began, Seligman and Carp found run-getting comparatively easy and the total reached 39 before Seligman, in pulling, hit his wicket. From that point everything went favourably for the Eton bowlers and, after the opening stand the best resistance was offered by the last pair who, putting on 22, carried Harrow's total into three figures. No doubt Harrow were disturbed by early disasters—three men played on as soon as they went in.

Banister, chief cause of Harrow's cheap dismissal, bowled right hand, with mixed pace, generally rather slow. His off break brought him most of his wickets and he certainly accomplished a remarkable performance from the practice ground end. When eight men were out for 83, Banister had bowled eleven overs for 19 runs and six wickets, the last four in succession, but Hayward and Stuart spoiled his analysis. Mann, whose fourth delivery broke the first partnership, turned the ball from leg and took 3 wickets. Harrow's innings ended by one o'clock. Before lunch Eton scored 22 for the loss of Curling whose leg stump was struck by an in-swinging and owing to rain during the interval play did not proceed until twenty minutes past three. Then in twenty-five minutes before the rain returned four wickets fell for 17 so that half the Eton side were out for 39—incidentally the value of Harrow's first stand. This remarkable change of fortune was brought about by Stewart, a fast-medium bowler with a fine action, who was put on at the end from which Banister wrought such havoc. On a damp surface Stewart was almost unplayable and he took four wickets for 18 runs.

At this stage Harrow were completely on top, but further heavy rain helped Eton for when the game was continued at quarter past five Stewart experienced great difficulty with his foothold. The soft pitch no longer favoured the bowlers and muddy patches presented the fieldsmen with further trouble so that in spite of failing light Mann and Boughey were able to retrieve Eton's disastrous position. Mann quickened the scoring with powerful on drives, but when 34 he nearly lost his wicket. He cut a full pitch from Stewart hard and wide of second slip, and Henriques by a great effort got both hands to the ball only to drop it as he lost a foothold. The total at that point was 96 and with Boughey playing well in placing the ball to leg and off driving, he and Mann stayed until stumps were pulled up at seven o'clock with Eton 13 runs ahead and half their wickets in hand. On Saturday morning the pitch had become fast again and Stewart and Stuart, bowling unchanged, disposed of the rest of the side for the addition of 40 runs. Mann and Boughey increased their sixth wicket partnership to 102 before the captain was bowled by a ball which came back and Boughey continued to show good form until a ball kept low and beat his defence.

Soon after Harrow went in again two heavy showers held up the game. The first wicket fell at 34, Carp being caught at second slip and then came the best innings of the match, for Holt, a batsman of physical strength, punished the bowling so severely that in ten minutes under two hours he scored 111 out of 157. An expert in cutting, Holt also pulled and hooked superbly, besides hitting splendidly through the covers, but he seldom employed the drive. His best strokes were sixteen 4's. There was one period when Harrow again stood in danger of breaking down, for three men were out for 46 before Watson and Lithgow rendered Holt valuable assistance in stands which yielded 56 and 89 respectively.

In making such light work of their task in the fourth innings, Eton were much indebted to Walker, who made a bold assault on the bowling and scored 46 out of 71. Harrow fielded brilliantly and stopped many vigorous strokes, but their bowling was not equal to the occasion and one definite chance was missed. Excitement had its effect and Eton were presented with a liberal supply of full tosses and half volleys. When Watson went on at 78 he dismissed Boughey by means of a catch at mid-off at 102, but he kept himself on too long and Mann punished him mercilessly, 18 runs coming in one over which virtually settled the issue. In desperation the fast bowlers, Stewart and Stuart, were brought back but Barnardo went on driving hard and reached his 50, Mann hooked and drove anything loose and Eton galloped to a victory which was only made possible by Watson's declaration.

Of the 108 matches played, Eton have won 43, Harrow 35, and 30 have been drawn. This is the generally published record, but Harrow men object very strongly to the game in 1805 being treated as a regular contest between the two schools, contending that it is no more correct to count that than the fixture in 1857 which has been rejected.

The one-day matches between the two schools during the War are not reckoned as belonging to the regular series.

Thirty-four three-figure innings have been played in matches between the two schools, as follows:—

CLIFTON v. TONBRIDGE

At Lords, July 26, 27.

Clifton won by 96 runs. Mutter and Scott each played a big part in the victory. Besides scoring 134 runs Mutter dismissed eight batsmen, while Scott, who was appearing in the fixture for the fifth time, took 11 wickets. Mutter and Gibbs both showing good style, scored 128 for the second stand, and Scott and Heaven were enterprising, but the remaining batsmen did little. For Tonbridge, Thompson twice batted brilliantly while Cox, a left-hander, hit splendidly in front of the wicket. When Tonbridge wanted 298 to win with four hours left, Thompson and Bousfield gave them a grand start by taking the score to 126, but no sooner were they parted than Mutter and Scott with skilful slow bowling carried everything before them.

RUGBY v. MARLBOROUGH

At Lords, July 28, 29.

Drawn. In a game of contrasts Rugby gave a brilliant exhibition with the bat and Marlborough, intent on avoiding defeat, defended with the utmost stubbornness. Elliot set Rugby a fine example by driving beautifully for an hour and Clark hit a perfect century. Small in stature, Clark invested his cuts, drives and leg strokes with remarkable power and his 129 included one 6, one 5 and sixteen 4's. Kershaw, a left-hander, helped in a stand of 116 and also reached three-figures. He timed the bowling admirably and hit two 5's and twenty 4's. Lacy-Scott batted four and a half hours for Marlborough whose first 171 runs actually occupied as much time as Rugby's 425. Despite their dour methods Marlborough failed to avoid the follow on, but an opening stand of 88 by Graham and Lacy-Scott dashed Rugby's hopes of victory. Marlborough owed nearly everything to Lacy-Scott, who in each innings pursued a stone-walling game with extraordinary patience.

CHELTENHAM v. HAILEYBURY

At Lords, July 30, 31.

Cheltenham won by seven wickets. Victory went to the side superior in every department—tactics, batting, bowling and fielding. Despite a hat-trick at 132 by Jones, Cheltenham indulged in a feast of run-getting and, declaring at tea-time, succeeded in taking five Haileybury wickets for 84 runs before the first day's play ended. Brooke-Taylor batted soundly in each innings. The bowling of Geary stood out as the best individual performance of the match. He kept a good length at medium pace, varied his flight cleverly and, above all, wrought destruction with a wisely used "yorker." With this type of delivery alone he bowled six batsmen. Following a good display in the first innings, Jones was promoted to open when Haileybury followed on and his stand of 79 with Harrison looked likely to avert defeat but a deadly spell by Geary, in which he took the first six wickets for 26 runs, swept aside any hopes of Haileybury saving the game.

LORD'S SCHOOLS v. THE REST

At Lords, August 2, 3.

Lord's Schools won by 43 runs. Two well-matched sides provided a fine game. When four men were out for 46, Mann combined sound defence with admirable pulls and drives until cleverly caught. He hit fifteen 4's and Scott, who drove well, stayed with Mann while the eighth stand yielded 110. The Rest lost six wickets for 96 by tea, but Proud, hitting one 6 and eight 4's, drove the slow bowlers with assurance and brought about a recovery. In their second innings Lord's were more consistent and Elliott and Hoyt both batted attractively. The Rest tried nine bowlers, but only Falkiner and Shirreff commanded much respect. Glennie and Webb gave the Rest a satisfactory start by scoring 46, but Scott and Mann (both slow) bowled with effect. Sharp hit well and Shirreff shaped so confidently that the Rest seemed likely to save the match but he sacrificed his wicket in going for a sharp single. Both Glennie and England kept wicket in most efficient style.

THE ARMY v. THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

At Lords, August 4, 5.

The Army won by six wickets. A patient innings lasting 3 hours by Thompson, who excelled in clever placing of strokes, gave the Schools a satisfactory start, but The Army were more consistent. Hudson played admirably against good length bowling and, very strong on the leg side, he hit fifteen 4's. Scott bowled leg breaks cleverly for the Schools and he showed his ability as an all-rounder by driving and cutting attractively in each innings. When the Schools had lost six men for 100, Mann and Scott put on 106, and Mann, who began cautiously, made some fine hits before setting his opponents to score 178 in less than two hours. Helped by mistakes in the field, The Army accomplished the task with only seven minutes of extra time left.
