

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS IN 1972

By REX ALSTON

The year 1972 was an important one for the fifteen school cricketers who toured the West Indies under the title of England Young Cricketers. The true pitches, without much bounce, helped the batsmen and provided a searching examination for the bowlers. As J. T. Ikin, the manager, said, "The art of slow bowling is learnt on these wickets", and fortunately the team had three who came through the test with enhanced reputations. Barclay and Miller, off-spinners, and Reidy, slow left hander, took most of the wickets, the captain, Barclay, particularly excelling with his flight and length. The three fast bowlers, Booth, Good and Milner found the conditions frustrating, but worked away with great heart. Unfortunately, Booth, the best and most experienced of them, was injured early in the tour and was never really fit, and this threw a big responsibility on the other two.

Eight of the batsmen made at least one fifty, and Johnson and Clinton, both left handers, each scored a century, and made over 400 runs, as did Snowden, the Cambridge Blue. With batsmen thriving and bowlers toiling, the only way to achieve results was by declarations, and both sides indulged freely in this difficult art; the one defeat by the Guyana Schools came after Barclay had declared twice and Guyana once.

The chief weakness on tour was the number of chances missed in the field. Senior cricketers will sympathise with the boys because Englishmen—young and old—take time to accustom themselves to the bright light of the Caribbean.

As a send off to the tour a three-day festival was arranged at Lord's—a two-day fixture with the Combined Services which the boys won by five wickets, and a one-day match against the M.C.C. which they just failed to pull off. These replaced the usual Lord's fixtures between E.S.C.A. and the Public Schools, and between a Schools XI and the Combined Services. On this evidence, the E.Y.C. were a well balanced side, containing several all-rounders; Johnson showed himself a steady slow left-hander, Reidy a hard-hitting batsman, and Barclay as polished a bat as any in the team. Miller was another robust stroke maker and Gardom, a number four batsman, was a useful leg-spinner. Clinton, who had impressed with his Edrich-like concentration in 1971, was unable to play at Lord's. Snowden, after his season with Cambridge University, was the most experienced player in the team, and his 80 and 62 against the Combined Services had much to do with his side's victory. He would be an even better batsman if he was not so right-handed.

The boys showed a pleasing desire to go for their strokes, particularly when Gardom, Miller and Reidy were chasing victory against the Services, and when Gooch, McLaren and Reidy showed a proper appreciation of the needs of the one-day game against M.C.C. Gooch, second wicket-keeper to Willis-Stovold on tour, showed his versatility by bowling medium pace and making quick runs. This aggressive approach was maintained in the West Indies; Gooch and McLaren in particular delighted their Manager by hitting the ball back over the bowler's head and over extra cover.

Most of these boys have already attracted the attention of their respective county authorities and have played in second XI and Minor county cricket. Indeed, McLaren played a useful part in Bedfordshire's Minor Counties Championship victory over Yorkshire II. The Under-25 competition between the counties was another valuable source of experience for promising schoolboys.

The averages and summarised scores will be found at the end of this section.

Here at home, despite the abominable weather which particularly affected cricket in the north and west—such adjectives as diabolical and frustrating abound in reports of masters in charge of cricket—many schools had successful and in some cases unbeaten seasons. Cheltenham were unbeaten for the first time since 1928 and their captain, K. D. G. Thomas, scored 857 runs and took 37 wickets. Nottingham High School were also unbeaten and won 10 of their 24 matches. Their best batsman had the evocative name of R. E. Dexter. Another unbeaten side was St. Peter's, York, excellently captained by wicket-keeper-batsman S. P. Coverdale, with P. R. Wilkinson a genuinely fast bowler. Ipswich were unbeaten against school sides for a second year running; they had prolific scoring batsmen in D. H. Knights, the captain, and J. Turner, each of whom made centuries before lunch and took part in three century opening stands and five of 50 and over. Another centurion was R. J. Evans, who had six consecutive innings of over 50. The leading bowlers were both off-spinners, D. R. Adams and N. M. Poole. Obviously Ipswich could do with tougher opposition.

Canford played some exciting cricket and were unbeaten. A. R. G. Peters was an able captain, the attack was well balanced, and C. C. Taylor was an outstanding all-rounder. Brentwood were unbeaten by any school, whilst Felsted won five of their first six school games; their first three batsmen, G. G. Menzies, J. E. Hopkins and M. A. Bond, each scored over 500 runs. Another unbeaten and quick-scoring side were Oakham, whose leg-spinner, A. T. Browne, took 41 wickets, including nine for 51 against Kimbolton. Others in their differing spheres who were unbeaten were King William's College, Isle of Man, Reed's Cobham, Sevenoaks, for whom C. J. Tavaré made 794 runs, and Llandoverly, whilst King's Canterbury, after losing early to Dulwich, were unbeaten during the rest of the term.

Tonbridge were an impressive side, playing positive, attractive cricket; they won eight games against schools and owed much to the captaincy and batting of S. R. R. Edlmann, the mature batting of 14-year-old C. S. Cowdrey, K. C. P. Box-Grainger and J. P. D. Piper, the all-round ability of M. E. Allbrook, batsman and off-spinner, the fast bowling of J. H. Day and the slow left arm of C. M. Davies. Merchant Taylors, Northwood had an aggressive fast-scoring XI, with P. J. Hill outstanding in batting and bowling, and Mill Hill enjoyed their best season for a decade. P. J. Dean made three centuries and raised the post-war record total by nearly 200 runs. He and the captain, H. P. Manton, both scored centuries against Felsted. J. R. Barnes headed both the batting and the bowling at Repton who, apart from a thrashing from Cheltenham, had a good season. Their captain and all-rounder, H. J. W. Wright, was chosen for the Public Schools against E.S.C.A. Pocklington won 12 matches, more than ever before, and lost only one, thanks to a fine all-round team performance. The most notable win was at Haileybury, where D. Stollmeyer hit two 6's in the final over to reach 100 not out.

Others who reported good seasons were Taunton, their best for six years, due to outstanding fielding and bowling, with P. J. Gregson taking six for 10 against Downside, and Whitgift, their best since 1946. They were a good all-round side and "we have a leg-spinner, praise be!"

Despite the cold and the damp, good news comes from Scotland. Edinburgh Academy won six of their seven school matches, drew the other and were undefeated. The seam bowling of W. G. D. Loudon and the slow left arm of T. F. McLeod ensured that no school side scored more than 150 against them. Glenalmond had a most encouraging season, losing only one school match, against Edinburgh Academy. Prospects are good here because they have set a fashion by having an indoor cricket school, which results in keen competition for places at every level. At Loretto, D. J. M. Hutchinson, right-hand fast-medium, had some astonishing figures against other schools, including four for 8, five for 32, six for 27 and eight for 22, but everything in Scotland paled before the feat of the left-arm K. R. Gillies, who took all 10 wickets for 16 against Merchiston.

Three other bowlers who will remember 1972 with pleasure were K. R. Brook, who did the hat-trick for St. John's Leatherhead against Epsom, N. M. Clewett, who did the hat-trick for Bristol Grammar School in the last over of a match, and Imran Khan, an unusual schoolboy who, having toured with the Pakistan team in 1971, completed his studies at Worcester Royal Grammar School, where he understandably monopolised the batting and the bowling and did the hat-trick against King Edward's Birmingham.

Such a list indicates that cricket is in a healthy condition in a cross section of schools up and down the country. One unhappy note was, however, struck at Stockport, where the impression has grown that some captains were more intent on avoiding defeat than on going for a win. This was exemplified by a spate of fielding first and then sitting on the splice. Stockport won four of their 12 matches and were unbeaten.

Coming to further individual performances, T. E. Harris, the Radley captain, who was in the West Indies party, led a well-balanced strong side, with a good leg-spinner in N. E. G. Wright. At St. Edmund's Canterbury, the batting was dominated by the aggressiveness of N. G. T. Smith. J. G. W. Davies (famous initials!) was a splendid opening batsman for Queen Elizabeth's Wakefield, and for King Edward's Birmingham R. G. Pope and J. G. Winspear both made over 500 runs. At Denstone, A. J. Hignell added to his growing reputation, and at Bishop's Stortford, the slow left-arm bowler T. S. Smith, the captain, took 61 wickets, including seven for 8 against Forest School and eight for 3 against Perse. The Liverpool College captain, K. Siviter, was a talented all-rounder, as was N. K. Howick of Elizabeth College, Guernsey, where J. R. Lelièvre was an invaluable off-spinner.

Other batsmen to shine were J. C. Lepp in a Harrow side short of penetrating bowling, and G. Knew of Wyggeston, who had a trial for Leicestershire. R. A. Barnett was captain of successful Solihull, and Merchant Taylor's, Crosby owed much to their captain R. G. Lewis. Other names worthy of mention in this review were M. E. Stearns and A. J. M. Stileman of Wellington, the latter taking 48 wickets to add to the 67 of 1971, making his total of 115 already a Wellington record. R. C. Tolchard, the youngest of the Leicestershire Tolchards, was the leading batsman at Malvern, as were M. Mills at Cranbrook, N. S. Blake at Winchester, J. M. W. Oakley at Bedford, A. Payne at Gresham's, Holt, T. J. Mynott at Eastbourne, F. D. Booth at Emanuel and J. Wood at Leeds, whilst D. Elder of Bryanston was considered a quite outstanding schoolboy batsman. The captain of Alleyn's, R. Davis, hit two centuries and two further scores of 93 each, and at Shrewsbury, the medium-paced swing of R. C. Boys-Stones virtually carried the bowling, but perhaps the most noteworthy individual performance of the season belonged to D. Vincent of Woodhouse Grove School, Yorkshire, who made 200 not out in one innings, averaged 94.57 and in addition headed the bowling with 25 wickets at 7.40 each.

It was good to read how many masters emphasised the value of spin bowling. Leg-spinners who received favourable mention included J. J. Isles at Wrekin, T. P. Rees at Clifton, M. J. Ford of St. Edmund's Canterbury and C. D. Sherrin of Malvern. Of slow left-handers, special mention was made of a highly promising 15-year-old J. P. Pearce of Ampleforth. W. J. Rogers, the Sedbergh captain, was the mainstay of his side, G. D. Shuttleworth of Work-sop had a good season as had J. C. E. Crawford of Monkton Combe, D. I. Owen of Glenalmond, S. B. Parry-Crook of Fettes, and R. J. Pringle of Gresham's, Holt.

Top of the off-spinners list was R. N. Richards who took 79 wickets for Merchiston, and others to do well were D. K. E. Scott at Canford, A. F. Denson at Nottingham High School, M. S. J. Wilkinson at Ipswich, A. G. Richardson at Hurstpierpoint, and C. J. Tucker at Price's, Fareham, who took eight for 13 against Portsmouth High School. If some of these slow bowlers develop and move into first-class cricket, England will not be short of future talent. Not many genuinely fast bowlers appeared, apart from P. R. Wilkinson of St. Peter's York, J. C. Bodansky of Cranleigh, K. Smith of Haberdashers' and A. W. Geldart of Ellesmere.

Some of the better known schools did not shine in 1972. For instance, Haileybury won only one match out of 12, Charterhouse none out of 16, Harrow none out of 11 and Uppingham none out of 13, though three of their batsmen made over 400 runs each, but the large number of drawn games were partially due to the bad weather.

Here follow the summarised scores and averages of the England Young Cricketers in the West Indies:—
