

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS IN 1975

By REX ALSTON

The end of term four day festival at Eastbourne brought together some of the best cricketers from the Headmasters' Conference Schools and from the E.S.C.A. Both games were drawn, but not before a few boys had stamped their personality on the cricket. Pride of place goes to the Tonbridge all-rounder, M. J. Kemp, whose fast bowling gave him eight for 31 for the Southern Schools v. The Rest. Despite being bowled out for 54, the Rest rallied in the second innings and achieved a draw, I. G. Peck (Bedford), K. E. Claughton (King Edward's School, Birmingham) and S. K. Lax (Leeds Grammar School) all making useful scores. Two of the best batsmen of the year, C. S. Cowdrey (Tonbridge) (75) and M. K. Fosh (Harrow) (81) were largely responsible for the Southern Schools total of 235 for nine. The most successful bowler for the Rest was J. P. Pearce, the slow left-hander from Ampleforth—four for 56 in 21 overs.

In the second match H.M.C. Schools v. E.S.C.A.—Kemp was again to the fore with 76 in eighty minutes, including one 6 and thirteen 4's. Six wickets were down for 74 when he was joined by the Winchester captain D. M. W. Beeson (57) and together they put on 89. Some good fast-medium bowling by P. Allott (Cheshire) (four for 72) was chiefly responsible for keeping the School's total down to 219 for eight declared. E.S.C.A. replied with 200 for six declared, thanks largely to a third wicket partnership of 118 between G. Fowler, wicket-keeper and left-hand batsman (Lancashire), who hit ten 4's in his 51, and P. Ingham (Yorkshire), ten 4's in 71. Steady bowling by another leading schoolboy, the Radley captain, N. F. M. Popplewell, (two for 60 in 23 overs) in support of the opening bowlers Kemp and A. J. Robson (Glenalmond) kept the E.S.C.A. batsmen in check. In the Schools' second innings, Claughton, Cowdrey and D. J. Rock (Portsmouth Grammar School) all reached the 40's in a total of 178 for eight declared, three later batsmen all being run out chasing runs. But E.S.C.A. had no difficulty in saving the game, their captain C. Lamden (City of London) making 96 not out out of 141 for two.

The scene then moved to Lord's, where an M.C.C. side chosen from the Eastbourne boys played a team from the N.A.Y.C. in a two-day trial. The game was drawn after an exciting finish in which the Schools just failed to win by two runs with eight wickets down. M. McEvoy (Essex) (61) and K. Tomlins (Middlesex) (41) were chief contributors to the N.A.Y.C. total of 160 for nine declared. Allott (four for 49) and Kemp (three for 36) doing most of the damage. The Schools replied with 206 for five declared—Cowdrey (88), Fowler (50). N.A.Y.C. were soon in trouble in their second innings against the off-spin of Beeson (four for 39), and the slow left-arm of A. Patel (Willesden High School) (three for 62), but their captain, P. Parker, (Sussex) played a fine innings (89 not out) and the Schools was set to make 175 in eighty minutes. Wickets fell regularly as they chased the runs, and they came so near to winning through a swashbuckling 55 by Kemp, run out off the last ball.

The all-round standard in this game was extremely high, and the team chosen from it had an easy eight-wicket victory in a 55 overs match over a not so strong Combined Services side, who never recovered after losing three for 9 to Allott and Kemp. They were all out for 143 and Cowdrey (41) and McEvoy (48 not out) knocked off the runs without calling on the wealth of batting to come. On all three days some splendid catches were held, the ground fielding was athletic and Parker, unlucky not to make the full Young England side, excelled at cover point.

Looking to the future and the possibility of some of these boys moving into first-class cricket, McEvoy seemed the best organised batsman, who can also bowl a bit. Cowdrey, an admirable and thoughtful captain, was little behind him in style and application, and Fowler and Ingham should do well in a higher class, the one as wicket-keeper and stroke player, the other as an all-rounder. Popplewell, Beeson and Fosh, all with impressive school records, had little chance in these games to show their undoubted potential, whilst Allott, with his high action and ability to move the ball both ways, and Kemp, genuinely fast for a boy and an aggressive stroke-maker, could go a long way, given the opportunity. This was obviously a strong year for Schools cricket, and many talented boys failed to get into any of the representative sides through no fault of the Selectors, who had an embarras de richesses from which to choose.

One senses, from analysing reports from all over the country, that schools cricket is in good heart, with batsmen enjoying firm pitches and bowlers having to rely on length and accuracy for results. Comments on good fielding and team spirit were frequent. Mill Hill, one of the best sides of the year, complained that John Player League fields were often placed against them after a few overs of a full-day game, presumably because T.V. show so much "forty-overs nonsense"—a pertinent and worrying criticism which could easily be countered by the commentators if pointed out to them. Cricket is flourishing, especially at Blundell's, where enthusiasm was well sustained and six teams lost only nine games between them, and at Glenalmond, where the Indoor School benefits are obvious. At Strathallan, they are worried about the influence of exams in April and early May and again in July which, with competition from sailing, hockey, athletics and golf, tend to bring down standards, and interest in cricket has declined. It is good news that Scottish Schools are starting their own Association.

Unbeaten teams, i.e. by other schools, included Felsted, where the over-rate never went below 20; Kelly College for the second year in succession, where the fielding was excellent; Sevenoaks for the sixth year in succession. Their record would have been even better if three schools had not hung on for a draw with nine wickets down, and a good spinner was badly needed; George Heriot's, where J. Stevenson was a strong captain and team spirit was excellent; King William's, Isle of Man, who had only four wins but were only bowled out once; Millfield, who had one of their best batting seasons, were unbeaten during term, making 284 for five (a record) in beating Clifton by 113, but they came a cropper on an end-of-term tour; Oundle, who had four wins and no losses; Bradford Grammar School, with seven wins and no losses. Others to suffer only one defeat were Hardy's, (Dorchester), Mill Hill, Radley, Leeds Grammar School, Worcester Royal Grammar School, Fettes, Brighton, Wycliffe, Plymouth and Pocklington, whilst Llandover won seven out of nine and Edinburgh Academy six out of eight.

The following Schools had varying degrees of success and were pleased with their season: Sedbergh had their strongest side for years with batting down to number eleven. They had two good batsmen in D. H. W. Mount and J. Rogers and all-rounders in R. W. D. Birchenall and W. B. Wilkinson. King Edward's, Birmingham led by Cloughton, did well with heavy scoring and all-round bowling ability. At Perse there was much enthusiasm for cricket, and the first eleven were a good batting side, but their bowling was inconsistent. Plymouth College's success was due to all-round team effort. Their only loss was on an end-of-term tour to Colston. Mill Hill enjoyed their best season since the war, their only defeats coming from Oundle and one on a Dutch tour. The basis was good fielding and catching, and depth of batting. Queen Elizabeth's, Wakefield had a young side who achieved twelve draws, mainly in their favour. They were pleased to hold their own in the Stonyhurst Festival.

Shrewsbury were good and entertaining. Their particular star was N. C. Crawford, leading run-maker and wicket-taker, who made 140 before lunch against Charterhouse. They also had two good spinners. Clayesmore, with their best batting side for years, were well led by J. W. G. Douglas, an enthusiastic fast-medium bowler. Aldenham found their best form in the Isle of Man Festival after a good home season. Their captain, S. C. Lewis, played for the Welsh Schools. Repton's young side were bowled out only once, by M.C.C. Their batting was better than expected, but the bowling was disappointing—hence a crop of draws. Cheltenham Grammar School gained impressive results. Their young seam attack bowled the opposition out five times for less than 70 and Crypt, Gloucester for 20 in 13 overs. Trent College relied on three pace bowlers and keen fielding, but lacked a good spinner. L. Taylor, their captain, was their best bat.

Harrow had a fine side, beating five other schools, including Eton, who were overwhelmed by an innings and 151 runs. Radley achieved a record number of wins over Schools (seven), falling only to the powerful Harrow side, by three wickets. Popplewell was an outstanding captain as well as being one of the best all-rounders of the season. Six schools were out for under 110 through enthusiastic bowling and fielding.

Leeds Grammar School, who included the heaviest scorer of the season, Lax, gained eight wins against other schools. M. J. Shoesmith tied took 24 catches at short-leg. Worcester Royal Grammar School tied with Solihull. T. S. Curtis, only 15, made five 50's in his 500 runs. Eastbourne organised their sixth successful Festival and their XI developed encouragingly. Their leading players were N. B. Prentis (595 runs) and P. A. Burt (33 wickets). R. C. Leader (120 not out) and R. I. Gourlay (93) hit a record third wicket partnership of 175 against King's, Canterbury. Bedford had one of their best seasons since the war, and they were very close to three more wins. The leading players were their captain, Peck, and a fifteen-year old, R. J. Boyd-Moss (slow left-arm), who took 41 wickets and made 384 runs.

Bloxham had their best side for six years, with especially strong batting. C. I. Cooper did a double hat-trick against Wellingborough, 19–10–18–6. Edinburgh Academy lost only two matches against schools, both narrowly. They were a strong bowling side headed by the fast-medium E. J. Paton, who achieved analyses of nine for 19 and seven for 24; he took six wickets each against Loretto, Fettes, and Merchiston, and altogether 51 wickets against schools for an average of five apiece. Oakham suffered their first defeat—by Manchester Grammar School—since 1973, and tied with Bromsgrove. St. Lawrence, Ramsgate enjoyed their best side for several years. The bowling was well-balanced but the batting not reliable. N. O. S. Jones, captain for the third year, was a useful all-rounder and tactically astute.

At Birkenhead the young side was very successful in always sending in their opponents. They owed much to the leadership of M. C. J. Sissons. Bishop's Stortford had a successful year under G. N. Tee, who was the best batsman and bowler and took the most catches. They possessed two good quick bowlers in A. M. Goreing and C. N. Ireland, a leg-spinner, J. C. Douglas, as well as Tee's slow left-arm. Their number eleven went to the wicket only once in 15 games. There was enthusiasm and team spirit in Brentwood's fine season. N. D. Watson was a positive captain and batsman, and C. D. Lee a highly successful all-rounder. Douai had a good captain and batsman in A. Hill and no school looked like beating them. Epsom lost only once against schools in term time, but had a poor tour. They had a good pair of opening bowlers, M. R. Havard (in-swing) and P. F. Spink (out-swing).

Fettes were a well balanced side, well lead by A. W. D. Darling. They gained four decisive wins against schools and were beaten only by Edinburgh Academy. Glenalmond lost only twice against schools—George Watson's and Radley at the Downside Festival. The all-rounder A. J. Robson (301 runs and 57 wickets) was the School's best batsman and bowler (fast-medium). He took four for 4 against Royal Grammar School, Lancaster, performed the hat-trick against Loretto, and finished with 150 wickets in his three years.

King Edward VI, Stourbridge reported a good season due to accurate bowling and outstanding batting by J. Thomas and A. Dickens. The feature of King Henry VIII, Coventry's strong side was the batting of D. B. Mann, and the bowling of B. S. Baines (captain) and N. D. Dodd. Merchant Taylors', Northwood's young side was most successful. They possessed two good bowlers in G. Turner (fast-medium) and M. Hood (slow left-arm); the batting relied heavily on their opening pair R. Marsden and C. Cook. Oundle had an unusually strong side, with batting down to number eight and seven bowlers supported by good fielding. This was an exceptional year in every way and their captain, A. J. Murley, deserved credit as a promising batsman with a good cricket brain.

Tonbridge were one of the outstanding sides of the year, winning eight out of eleven against schools; only Felsted extended them. They were headed by two of the best cricketers of the season, Cowdrey (captain) and the all-rounder Kemp. The Wellingborough side was their best for years, thanks largely to the batting and bowling of their captain P. J. Marlow. Bradford Grammar School, enjoyed a splendid season with seven wins and no losses against schools. They had an outstanding leader and all-rounder in N. J. Topham. The high spot in Blundell's successful year was a tie with Sherborne at 107 each. Pocklington was another school to have an outstanding season. They won ten and lost only one out of 16 matches against schools with a team which had no stars, but possessed batting depth and varied bowling and a fine captain in D. C. Osborne. Reading were undefeated at home but lost three times on tour.

In Sutton Valence's promising young side, M. R. Benson and D. C. G. Foster (15) put on 208 for the second wicket against the Sutton Valence Club, and Foster (98 not out) followed with all ten wickets—9—4—10—10. Magdalen College School, Oxford were strong in batting; all their nine wins came when batting second, but their bowling was unbalanced. N. M. Boddington (fast-medium) and R. Wood (off-spin) shared 80 wickets. Wellington gained five wins and lost only twice against schools. They were well led by R. L. Smith-Vaughan (62 wickets) and their fielding and catching were excellent.

Brighton possessed strong batting, but their bowling lacked penetration. They were unbeaten in term but lost on tour to Solihull. In a large number of draws number eleven (mercifully) never had to bat. Ellesmere had two good batsmen in C. B. Butler, who played at Eastbourne, and who made 92 in fifty minutes to beat Rydal, and C. D. Edwards, whose 152 not out in a total of 278 for two against Shropshire Gentlemen was a school record.

Whilst aggregate and averages sometimes belie class and must depend on the strength of the opposition, anyone who makes 1126 in 21 innings as did S. K. Lax of Leeds must be a pretty good player. He made four centuries, three of them against schools. So must the following who made 700 runs or more in all school matches. J. G. Tutty, the Mill Hill captain made 987 which gave him a career record of 2097. He finished the season with a century for the N.C.A. against Canada at The Hague. I. G. Peck (Bedford) made 979 and was honoured with the captaincy of the Rest at Eastbourne. Shortly behind him was his rival captain C. S. Cowdrey, whose 966 for Tonbridge included three hundreds and seven fifties and who was rated a mature leader.

Another heavy run-getter was R. Moulding (Haberdashers) who set a school record of 896 and also took 31 wickets. M. Olive scored 780 for Millfield; Trinity, Croydon had two fine batsmen in R. M. B. Oakes, who set two school records, 834, and a top score of 164 not out, and N. J. Conquest, who totalled 744. I. D. Coleman made 832 for Emmanuel and M. K. Fosh 778 for Harrow. G. A. Pearson, the Perse captain, hit nine fifties and one hundred in his 760. His companion, S. W. Graves, set a school record in making 137 not out against Ipswich. J. A. Claughton made 748 for K.E.S. Birmingham and M. R. Benson 714 for Sutton Valence. T. D. W. Edwards hit two centuries in his 682 for Sherborne and S. Clothier made more runs (664) than any other for St. George's, Weybridge since 1955.

Some of the best batsmen qualified as all-rounders. Lax and Peck both took wickets, 42 and 30 respectively, but probably the best of the season was N. F. M. Popplewell (Radley) (720 runs and 61 wickets). He played in the representative matches and also for Buckinghamshire in the Minor Counties Competition. Others to be picked for Eastbourne were N. J. Kemp (Tonbridge) (488 and 48); N. C. Crawford (Shrewsbury) (671 and 46); A. J. Robson (Glenalmond) (301 and 57); P. G. Ingham, (Ashville, Harrogate) (680 and 28); N. Price (Malvern) (585 and 31), who made two hundreds in a week against M.C.C. and Harrow and C. J. Palmer (Oakham) (440 and 48) who topped both bowling and batting averages for the second year.

Others who enjoyed a good season were I. R. Payne (Emanuel) (644 and 66); P. J. Honey (King's School, Macclesfield) (647 and 26, slow-medium right arm); N. J. Topham (Bradford Grammar School) (696 and 53) made one century and five 50's and took four wickets or more six times; C. D. Lee (Brentwood) (816, school record, and 37); D. M. Fullbrook (Reading) (479 and 39, off-spin); D. R. Pringle (Felsted) (587 and 37) and A. C. G. Dunning (Leys) (455 and 27) who played two fine not-out innings, 107 v. Old Leysians and 74 v. Oundle, and took six for 29 against Highgate.

The leading wicket-taker of the season was A. D. Bromley (Colston, Bristol) fast-medium, who set a school record of 75 wickets, including analyses of eight for 12 and eight for 22. King Henry VIII, Coventry had two fine bowlers in B. S. Baines, whose 70 wickets gave him an aggregate in four seasons of 195, and his companion N. D. Dodd, who twice took seven in an innings and whose total of 63 included a hat-trick. R. L. Smith-Vaughan (Wellington), fast-medium, took 62 for 11 each, including eight for 37 against Stowe and played at Eastbourne. M. G. Howat (Abingdon) (fast-medium) broke the school record with 62, average 9.8, including eight for 35 v. M.C.C.

G. E. Marsden (Trinity, Croydon) opened the bowling for the fourth season and took 61 wickets. E. J. Paton (fast-medium) took 58 for Edinburgh Academy and M. J. Cornett also 58 for King's, Rochester. A. J. Yearwood (Dean Close) took 56 wickets with the unusual combination of off and leg breaks. Epsom had a good opening pair in M. R. Havard (51), and P. F. Spink (33). G. Turner took 51 for Merchant Taylors' Northwood and A. C. S. Pigott 58 for Harrow, including eight for 47 against the strong Radley side. M. C. Thompson (Exeter) (slow-medium) took 51 for only 5.21 each and S. A. Bell of Leeds played for an English Public Schools Eleven. He and his companion T. J. Towler each took 48.

Specific mention of slow bowlers included off-spinners J. S. Hutchinson (Manchester Grammar School) (43); Beeson (Winchester) (42); R. Wood (Magdalen College School, Oxford) (42); A. M. Fine (Clifton) (32); M. A. R. Jeffery (Hurstpierpoint) (30) and G. W. Taylor (Canford) (30), who took eight for 30 against Sherborne.

Leg-spinners were few and far between and were headed by S. G. Rich (K.E.S., Birmingham) (49); D. I. Riley (St. Peter's, York) (36) including eight for 18 in 21.4 overs v. Giggleswick; R. Moulding (Haberdashers) (31) and D. A. Young (Queen Elizabeth, Wakefield) (28).

Chief of slow left-handers was J. P. Pearce (Ampleforth) 45 for 13 each and a career record of 141; J. M. Haworth (Queen Elizabeth, Wakefield) (44); C. M. Bryant, the Bryanston captain, 44 for 19.75 each, and a career record of 136; P. G. Stavely (Durham) 40 for 8 runs each; R. Boyd-Moss (Bedford), (41); G. N. Tee (the Bishop's Stortford captain) included six for 8 v. Culford and six for 12 v. Perse in his aggregate of 39 for 10.8 each. I. R. McCormich (Birkenhead), in his first full season, took 37 for 7.78, including five for 1 v. Liverpool College and six for 14 v. William Hulme G. S.; R. D. Loudon (Edinburgh Academy) (37 as well as opening the batting); I. K. Callaghan (Shrewsbury) (36) and S. C. Murray (Marlborough) (34).

Wicket-keepers, who were often good batsmen as well, were headed by A. T. Scott (St. George's, Weybridge) and S. W. Gwyther (Mill Hill) who were on opposite sides at Eastbourne. N. Crane (Haberdashers) was an outstanding keeper and batsman as were P. R. Downton (Sevenoaks); M. C. J. Sissons (Birkenhead); R. S. Long (Dean Close) (655 as an opening bat); A. J. L'E. Wallace (King William, I. of Man) (19 wickets and 600 runs) and T. J. Head (Lancing) (600 and "an immaculate keeper"). I. M. Wilson (Oundle) was in his fourth year; F. P. Watson (K.E.S., Birmingham) was "above average"; D. Wright, captain of the strong Leeds side, took 27 wickets and A. Good (King's, Rochester) took 24 catches and made seven stumpings.

Several schools confessed to a disappointing season and included amongst them were some of the best known. Cheltenham, especially against schools; Eton, who had no outstanding players and gained only one school win (against St. Paul's); Haileybury, whose batting and bowling lacked confidence, but who fielded well; Malvern, whose bowling was steady but whose batting never did itself justice; Ampleforth, whose slow wickets did not encourage batting.

Hurstpierpoint played much good cricket and had five out of 6 draws in their favour; Cranbrook, though they had many high-scoring games; Dauntsey's, where K. G. Shortland bowled tirelessly and N. Stafford played some powerful innings; Durham, who tied with St. Bees, King's, Rochester, where two good opening bowlers, S. Bishop and M. Cornett, could not make up for inconsistent batting; and St. George's, Weybridge, who failed to justify the talent available, despite having two representatives, Scott and Clothier, at Eastbourne.
