

SCHOOLS CRICKET IN 1984

In a summer which favoured batsmen throughout the country, a feature of 1984 in English Schools representative cricket was the large number of centuries. M. A. Roseberry was especially prolific. After single-figure innings at Eastbourne for ESCA, he scored match-winning hundreds on successive days at Lord's - 112 for MCC Schools v NAYC and 117 not out for NCA Young Cricketers v Combined Services - followed three days later by 123 before lunch v Welsh Schools. In a strong English Schools batting side hundreds also came from D. J. Billington and I. Redpath, with M. A. Atherton, P. A. C. Bail, R. J. Blakey and T. R. Ward all making useful contributions. The bowling, less strong, had a good off-spinner in C. S. Mays, who was ably supported by the fast bowlers, N. B. Cheeseright, M. A. Robinson and I. R. Bussey, as well as by another off-spinner, D. G. Hills. M. L. Roberts kept wicket to a high standard to all bowling and was awarded the A. A. Thomson Award of the Cricket Society. Redpath received the Gray-Nicolls Award for the Len Newbery Trophy for the most improved schoolboy cricketer and Roseberry the Cricket Society's Wetherell Award.

After the win at Lord's, the games against the home countries were drawn. That against Wales, at Pontarddulais, was a high-scoring one, in which Roseberry made his 123 in 130 minutes before lunch, hitting two 6s and 21 4s. However, the middle order failed to maintain the momentum and England were dismissed for 272. S. James and R. James took Wales to 155 for two, but a good second spell by Cheeseright and a return of four for 71 from Mays saw them finish 34 behind. Billington scored a second-innings hundred (eleven 4s) and Wales's target, requiring 6 an over, was beyond them, although S. James and S. Maddocks put on 140 for the second wicket.

Overnight rain penetrated the covers before the side's first-ever match in Ireland, at Dublin, where the home side, put in, were rescued from 93 for seven by Kilgore's 52 not out in 27 minutes. England scored 198 for eight, 49 ahead, in their 55 overs and then the spin of Atherton and Mays had Ireland in trouble again. However, Kilgore, once more, and McCall added 57 and England were set to score 144 in 22 minutes plus twenty overs. They were going well at 80 for three, but two run-outs and the loss of Roseberry left them playing for a draw.

Rain having interrupted the game at Aigburth, Liverpool, on the first day when Scottish Colts were 57 for two, they declared at this score and England forfeited their first innings. Thanks to a half-century from Smith, Scotland reached 192 for six off 68 overs, setting England a target of 250 in just under two hours plus twenty overs. Roseberry and Redpath opened with 91, Redpath going on to an unbeaten century, but no-one else could maintain the run-rate and they finished 11 short with four wickets in hand.

Fine weather favoured the one-day game against the Zimbabwe Under-20 XI at Great Crosby, in which the visitors were bowled out by Mays and Hills for 194. Redpath, N. A. Willetts (a replacement for Roseberry, who had gone on a rugby tour to Australia), Bail and Billington, captain for the day, saw England to a comfortable six-wicket win to finish the season on a high note.

In 1985 a new venture, the "MCC Schools Festival", will take place in Oxford. Jointly promoted by ESCA and HMC Schools, with the backing of MCC, it will include the traditional HMC Southern Schools against The Rest, and an ESCA trial match; but, in place of the match between HMC Schools and ESCA, the best 22 players, irrespective of background, will be brought together in a match between MCC Schools East and West, after which the MCC Schools team will be chosen to play NAYC at Lord's.

HMC SOUTHERN SCHOOLS v THE REST

At Eastbourne College, July 21, 22. Drawn, after an exciting finish had left Southern Schools just 4 short of victory. Of the seam bowlers only Russell troubled the batsmen, but the off-spin of Mays always commanded respect. Holt's slow left-arm was steady and the leg-spin of Atherton, Hussain and Heath looked promising. The standard of fielding was excellent, notably that of O'Gorman at cover, while Garratt and Atherton excelled close to the wicket. Tyler played two solid innings, Willetts and Townsend struck the ball enterprisingly, and O'Gorman batted elegantly in the second innings.

HMC SCHOOLS v ESCA

At the Saffrons, Eastbourne, July 23, 24. Drawn. Electing to bat on a wicket of variable bounce, HMC Schools made slow progress against a tight attack in which Robinson bowled particularly well. ESCA's reply was dominated by a fine century from Redpath, who had put on 143 with Billington when Roseberry declared six overs before the close, only to be thwarted by bad light in his quest for a quick wicket. HMC Schools again struggled on the second day against the seam bowling of Cheeseright and Bussey, Atherton once more holding the innings together. ESCA, chasing 153 in 130 minutes, lost Bail, Roseberry and Ward for 40 and, after a brilliant leg-side stumping by Lister had accounted for Billington, they settled for a draw.

Details of the match between MCC Schools and the National Association of Young Cricketers may be found in Other Matches at Lord's, 1984.

Reports from the Schools

In contrast to 1983, the dry summer of 1984 brought few abandoned schools matches and, as in the first-class game, a wealth of runs. New records were set and eight schoolboys passed 1,000 runs; N. J. Lenham of Brighton (1,534), M. A. Roseberry of Durham (1,288), M. O'Connor of King Edward VI, Southampton (1,188), T. M. Lord of Bedford Modern (1,071), N. Hussain of Forest (1,070), R. T. Nuttall of Pocklington (1,053), M. A. Atherton of Manchester GS (1,013) and A. S. A. Townsend of Oundle (1,005). Lenham and Roseberry both passed the previous Public Schools post-war record of 1,277, set by I. C. Campbell of Canford in 1946, Roseberry scoring his runs at an average of 107.33, while eight averaged over 50 and five over 70. Atherton (61), Lenham (50) and Hussain (48) also took 40 or more wickets.

Abingdon's well-balanced side, with only one defeat, achieved a record nine wins, including those v Pangbourne, Oratory, Brentwood, Berkhamsted, Reading, Magdalen and Colchester. The opening batsmen, M. T. Boobyer and B. E. Woolley, scored centuries and passed 50 eight times each, while M. A. Marsden (left-arm fast-medium) was the outstanding all-rounder. For Alleyn's, whose varied bowling lacked penetration, G. Edwards (fast-medium) took five for 1 v Wilson's in his first season. The batting tended to be brittle, with only R. Preston reaching three figures. After a hesitant start, Allhallows finished the season well, thanks to a strong opening attack spearheaded by E. R. M. Gard, whose 58 wickets included eight for 27 v Milton Abbey, and P. J. P. Turner (fast-medium). W. R. Frost impressed with 105 v Wellington School in his first full season.

A talented Ampleforth side, though often failing to exploit winning positions, none the less beat Stonyhurst, Worksop, Pocklington and Blundell's. Under the astute captaincy of W. Beardmore-Gray the fielding was keen but the batting tended to disappoint. A young Ardingly side found it hard to bowl out opponents, but their batsmen provided some exciting finishes. In a disappointing season for Ashville College, the attack relied too much on A. Perkins (fast-medium) and the captain, J. C. Lister, who was their leading batsman and played for Yorkshire Schools and HMC Schools.

Previously unbeaten since 1979, Bablake lost to Solihull and King Edward's School, Birmingham; to the latter again in the final of the Birmingham and Warwickshire Under-19 Cup. Leading all-rounders D. C. Percival and fifteen-year-old E. T. Milburn represented Warwickshire Under-19. A young Bancroft's side was carried by the batting of the captain, J. P. Thomas. However, R. W. Hubbard, K. R. Gold and V. D. Masani batted promisingly. All-rounder Gold took eight for 93 v Incogniti, but an already weak attack suffered from the absence at the end of the season of their opening bowler, P. J. Savage.

Bangor GS, who enjoyed eighteen wins, were led by M. P. Rea, who took his school career aggregates to 2,654 runs and 103 wickets; he played for The Rest v Southern Schools as well as for the Irish Under-23 XI. The McCall brothers joined him in scoring centuries and R. B. Millar excelled behind the stumps with 39 victims (24ct, 15st). An inexperienced Barnard Castle side achieved three of their six schools wins - v King Edward VII Lytham, Solihull and University College School London - in their last three matches. E. P. Seery (fast-medium) captured 55 wickets, a school record. Serious injuries to two leading players hampered Bedford School, who none the less beat The Leys and Bedford Modern. G. S. Buchanan dominated the batting, well supported by A. Waldoock, M. P. N. Waterfield, the captain, and S. J. Purdy, while the young fast-medium swing bowler, J. E. Crooker, led the attack. The slow left-arm spin of M. B. Abington was a valuable discovery at the end of the season.

Bedford Modern's eight wins included those v Christ's College Cambridge, Queen's College Cambridge, Kimbolton, Wellingborough, The Perse and Stowe. T. M. Lord, whose school record of 1,071 runs included four hundreds, and N. A. Stanley established a successful opening partnership. Off-spinner P. A. Garratt's 65 wickets included eight for 14 v The Perse and fifteen-year-old A. D. McCarty took seven for 49 v Royal GS, Worcester. Lord and Garratt played for The Rest v Southern Schools. In a disappointing season for Berkhamsted, highlights were an innings of 119 before lunch by M. A. Hodges at the Framlingham Festival and a return of eight for 49 v Kimbolton by S. P. Hunt. Each of the first four Birkenhead batsmen made a century, while S. McGowan, an off-spinner, reached 100 wickets for the school and played for North and Midlands Schools. D. R. K. Windler, a seam-bowling all-rounder, topped both averages. Under the positive captaincy of R. J. Wilkinson, Bishop's Stortford College equalled the school record of nine wins. A strong attack which included three spinners bowled out the opposition eight times and was excellently supported by the wicket-keeping of P. Bashford. The side batted in depth, achieving seven of their victories chasing a target.

Highlights for Bloxham, in a season of poor results, were returns of eight wickets by J. Hartwell v Bromsgrove and S. Rozee v Worksop, as well as I. R. Davies's all-round performance v Dean Close when he made 70 runs and took seven wickets. A young Blundell's side recorded wins v Plymouth College and Canford, against whom R. K. Giles (slow left-arm), in his first season, took seven for 3. Unbeaten for the second successive season, Bradfield attributed their success to accurate bowling backed up by outstanding fielding. The captain and wicket-keeper, H. J. Norman, revealed outstanding qualities of leadership. Their opening batsmen, R. M. Layton and J. M. Tremellen, both passed 500 runs, the latter featuring in an unbroken second-wicket stand of 227 v Westminster with the left-hander, R. M. F. Cox. A six-match tour of Bermuda concluded the season.

Another successful season was reported by Bradford GS, whose strength was their batting: most of their ten victories came when they batted second. Openers P. A. Greenwood and J. B. Gray were consistent, while wicket-keeper A. A. D. Gillgrass and C. E. Nichols, both of whom played for Yorkshire Senior Schools, scored briskly in the middle order. The bowling was less strong, although A. M. Broadbent (fast-medium) performed admirably and much use was made of the spinners, I. J. McClay (left-arm) and T. H. C. Balaam (leg-spin). Brentwood's attack lacked penetration, leaving too many matches drawn. A. P. Connelly, in his first season, headed the batting averages and frequently held the innings together. In an outstanding season Brighton College won a record fifteen matches under the leadership of N. J. Lenham, whose 1,534 runs, including a double-century, set a new Public Schools post-war record. With 50 wickets, Lenham also headed the bowling, which dismissed thirteen sides, eight for under 100. He played for Sussex and was selected to tour West Indies with the Young England side in January 1985. An unbeaten century by G. Binns in their win over Monkton Combe was a highlight for Bryanston, who also beat Milton Abbey, the XL Club and Wimborne CC.

P. G. Edwards (slow left-arm, right-hand bat), the captain, headed the averages for Canford, who beat Downside and Bryanston. Particular features were an innings of 123 v Bradfield by J. R. Doble and the right-arm fast bowler, J. A. Rivett's hat-trick v Taunton - one bowled, two caught and bowled. For Charterhouse, who bowled out Eton to win by 114 runs, J. C. Golder scored 116 v Tonbridge, while A. J. Whitmore (fast-medium) returned seven for 47 v Harrow. Cheltenham College's experienced side did not perform as well as had been hoped, although R. P. W. Thompson hit a chanceless hundred in their win over St Edward's, Oxford. Finishing the season without a win, Chigwell could reflect on their inability to prise out the last batsmen to force a possible victory. They depended heavily on J. R. Maskey, who scored more runs and took more wickets with his leg-spinners than anyone else.

High hopes for 1984 were not fulfilled either by Christ College, Brecon, although their fielding was frequently noteworthy. J. W. Lewis played some pleasing innings, K. Noble hit the side's only hundred to win the match v Lisvane CC off the last ball, and there was some incisive fast bowling from P. D. Thomas, who played for Worcestershire Under-19. Playing attractive cricket, Christ's Hospital owed much to the powerful batting of P. J. Goodwin, J. A. Pritchard, C. J. Allen and A. R. Lambourne. However, the attack suffered from Pritchard's inability to bowl for much of the season, owing to a rib injury, although R. D. Mayo delivered his off-spin to good effect with support from Goodwin, who played for Sussex Under-19 Schools. For City of London D. M. Kutner took eight for 26 v Homerton.

Clifton reported a frustrating season, five defeats following good wins v Taunton and Blundell's. The captain, S. C. Hazlitt's 762 runs, including two centuries, were within 5 runs of the school record, and A. J. A. Cole, batting at No. 5, showed much promise. Colfe's blamed their failure to achieve victories from promising positions on the weakness of an attack which relied heavily on the left-arm opening bowler, K. Boxall, to achieve a breakthrough. The captain, A. Saleemi (medium), returned eight for 36 v Alleyn's and excelled as a hard-hitting batsman. For Colston's, who beat Bristol GS, Colham GS, St Brendan's and Prior Park College and featured in some high-scoring matches, the opener, J. N. Stutt, achieved a school-record 903 runs, including three hundreds. Enthusiasm and determination characterised the Cranleigh side, who defeated Epsom and Christ's Hospital. The bowling was tight, backed up by sound fielding, but the batting was less reliable, the middle order often proving prone to collapses.

The captain of Dame Allan's School, P. G. Clark, led by example, heading the batting averages, including an innings of 91 in an hour v Queen Elizabeth GS, Hexham, and taking the most wickets. T. Fitzpatrick was an effective opening bowler, while J. M. Waller and the left-handed O. C. Roberts batted well in a line-up which tended at times to be brittle. A series of uneventful draws summed up the season of Dauntsey's, whose bowling was often wayward. A. Brooks, who played the side's only three-figure innings and took the most wickets, emerged as a fine all-rounder. Dean Close were indebted for their successful season to the all-round ability of their captain, P. M. Vincent (left-hand bat, right-arm medium), who had scores of 100, 94 and 108 in three consecutive matches and played for HMC Schools. H. M. Davies-Thomas was a fine wicket-keeper and hard-hitting batsman; R. N. Lindsay was a quick, if occasionally erratic, opening bowler.

Denstone were too often let down by their batting, but with eight of the XI returning they hope for better results in 1985. For Douai, who enjoyed their best season since 1970, R. J. Weston took 58 wickets, including eight for 40 v Magdalen College School and seven for 41 v Pangbourne. Losing only to the XL Club in the last match of the season, Dover College owed much to the Australian left-hander, S. A. Bouvier, whose 925 runs at 71.15, including two centuries, were a school record. D. M. Carrión took 61 wickets - more than twice as many as the next bowler. Memorable for Downside was the drawn game v Taunton in which, chasing Taunton's 169 for nine declared, they finished with 169 for nine themselves. Dulwich flourished under the captaincy of C. J. Webb, an aggressive left-hand bat, who scored one of the side's three centuries. J. R. Hearn, who took more than three times as many wickets as the next bowler, equalled T. E. Bailey's school record of 61 wickets in a season, while wicket-keeper J. P. S. Jones equalled the school record of six catches in the match v Ampleforth. Outstanding for Durham was the captain, M. A. Roseberry, who collected a record 1,288 runs at 107.33 and 41 wickets. He captained ESCA and MCC Schools, played for Durham in the final of the Minor County Championship and was selected to tour West Indies with England Young Cricketers in January 1985.

The season of Eastbourne College contained some exciting close finishes. In the drawn match v Cranleigh, wicket-keeper F. J. Westlake rescued his side from 9 for four with a magnificent unbeaten 128 – only to drop the last Cranleigh batsman in the penultimate over. S. H. C. Cosstick batted consistently, and at times with aggression, and R. C. A. Clarke took the most wickets with his off-spinners. The Edinburgh Academy remained unbeaten in Scotland, owing much to J. D. Kudianavala, whose 922 runs included one century and nine half-centuries, and who took 42 wickets with seamers and 28 with leg-spinners. Delayed declarations were a feature of a frustrating season for Elizabeth College, Guernsey, although a good win v King Edward VI, Southampton, was a highlight. The fielding was sound, J. Vender excelling, and the bowling improved, but the batting often became bogged down. A talented Ellesmere College side failed to fulfil its potential. Games were lost because of wayward bowling and dropped catches, and although towards the end of the season J. Holmes scored three half-centuries, the batsmen overall failed to consolidate.

Without reaching the heights of the previous two years, Eltham, with a youthful team, provided tough opposition for most schools. L. A. O'Leary was a resolute opening batsman/wicket-keeper and B. A. Holcombe, although disappointing with the bat, was a hostile opening bowler. Emanuel, despite strong batting, led by the captain, I. M. Carrick, also a useful medium-fast bowler, had a disappointing season with only one win. High scores, often over 200, were a feature of many matches, but the fielding on the whole was untidy. Defeated only by Haileybury, Enfield owed their excellent results, including a first win v MCC, to the leadership of R. Eustance, their depth of batting and an excellent attack, featuring N. Jackett (slow left-arm) and the elder Taylor (right-arm fast), whose 62 wickets included eight for 13 v VRA (Amsterdam). A young Eton side, whose batting was often inconsistent, were carried by the fast bowling of C. G. M. Redmayne. The only three-figure innings came from N. E. Evans-Lombe – 104 not out v Radley. Highlights for Exeter were innings of 116 not out by I. D. Hayter v Blundell's and 101 not out by M. P. D. Dixie v Shebbear College.

Felsted were the most successful school at the Clifton Festival, with victories over Tonbridge, Eastbourne and Winchester. There was encouraging bowling by three Colts, R. P. Haywood, D. H. J. Griggs and B. J. S. Cooper, while P. A. Nicholls and T. I. Haynes formed a solid opening partnership. S. S. J. Miller hit two hundreds. Fettes College reported a better season than expected, with good wins v Glenalmond, Strathallan and Loretto. The batting relied on C. Davidson, and their main strength was the opening attack of N. Cheape and M. Illingworth. Undefeated for the second successive season, Forest recorded eight wins, including those v Felsted, City of London, Colchester and Westminster. N. Hussain was the first to pass 1,000 runs for the school since C. D. McIver in 1900-01: he hit five centuries and featured in an opening stand of 139 in 70 minutes v Felsted with the captain, M. D. I. Sheppard. Both represented Essex Under-19, while Hussain also played for HMC Schools and Essex Under-25. His 48 wickets included returns of six for 44 v Haberdashers' Aske's and six for 5 v Westminster, against whom he made 109. With eleven wins, Framlingham were unbeaten by schools. The XI was dominated by the captain, N. C. J. Holmes, and R. D. O. Earl, both opening batsmen and slow left-arm bowlers.

Although Giggleswick achieved only one win, they were well served by the opening attack of I. T. Robinson and A. J. Fowler, and encouraged by the promise of S. N. Youdale, a left-hand bat. A young Glasgow Academy side owed their successful season to a strong attack, especially R. J. Oliver, who took seven wickets in an innings on three occasions, and D. H. K. Robbins, both medium pace. Glenalmond's batsmen flourished, G. M. Sommerville scoring two hundreds and representing Scotland Under-19, while the young bowlers improved with experience.

Haberdasher's Aske's, fielding a relatively inexperienced team, found wins hard to come by, especially with a bowling attack which, with the exception of C. J. Davis (right-arm medium) and R. C. Downes (slow left-arm), was rather weak. A tour of Devon was undertaken at the end of the season. Excellent team spirit brought success for Haileybury, whose strength lay in their batting. N. R. Venning scored 113 not out v Mill Hill and 116 not out v Dulwich, against whom he and M. G. Smith put on 160 for the third wicket. Though a talented Hampton GS XI often relied on their lower-order batsmen to rescue the innings, good wins were recorded against John Lyon, St Benedict's, Latymer, Tiffin and Emanuel. Both C. Hind and A. R. Collins scored centuries, and together with J. P. Shepherd (slow left-arm) and S. J. Young (leg-spin) raise expectations for an even better season in 1985.

A young Harrow side were defeated only by Radley in schools matches. The batting was steady, while J. J. Pethers and D. B. M. Fox at fast-medium, and D. C. Manasseh and M. R. Middleton, both slow left-arm, caused most schools problems despite their relative inexperience. Hereford Cathedral School improved towards the end of the season. P. J. Butler, who will captain the XI in 1985, and L. H. Shutler played important innings, but in the attack there was insufficient support for D. C. Boucher (fast-medium) and the captain, N. J. Startin (slow left-arm). Highgate were disappointed with their results, although they scored good wins v The Leys and St Paul's. The batting relied to a great extent on N. K. F. Banks, while the bowling was carried by the seam attack of P. J. Haynes, who took the most wickets, and A. Margai. Hipperholme, too, were disappointed that their first uninterrupted season for twenty years did not bring better results. The batting was brittle, and there was no real support for the captain, A. Philburn, with the ball. For Hurstpierpoint, who beat Seaford, Worth, Reigate GS, Eastbourne College, Bloxham and Ellesmere, M. P. Speight's aggregate of 777 runs was a school record, as were his 38 catches behind the stumps.

In an improved season, Ipswich beat Woodbridge, Culford and St Joseph's, against whom the captain, T. Rollett, scored a chanceless unbeaten 104. J. Zagni and J. Bryden, who reached three figures v Framlingham, also batted well, while D. Patient was too sharp with the ball for most sides and the guile of S. Alderson puzzled opposing batsmen. The inexperience of a young Kelly College side showed especially in their batting, with only P. G. Shering and R. M. Summerell making runs regularly. The attack, steady and balanced, was let down by poor fielding. Unbeaten, Kent College enjoyed their best season for many years, thanks mainly to the solid batting of the captain, R. M. Hodgkiss, and A. J. MacGregor. An exciting seven-wicket win over Sutton Valence came off the last ball.

Highlights for Kimbolton were convincing wins v The Perse, when the captain, R. A. Johnson, reached three figures, and v Wellingborough, who lost seven wickets for 15 to the pace of A. W. Caswell. Winners of the Grammar Schools Knockout Cup, King Edward's, Birmingham, achieved thirteen victories. Outstanding were N. A. Willetts, with three hundreds in his 942 runs and a return of seven for 35 v Pocklington, and leg-spinner S. D. Heath, whose 57 wickets included five in a match on five occasions, with seven to 33 v Dudley. Fifteen-year-old N. Martin headed the batting averages. Willetts played for the English Schools as well as for HMC Schools at Eastbourne, where Heath represented Southern Schools. For King Edward VI School, Southampton, the captain, M. O'Connor, hit five centuries and an aggregate of 1,188 runs, 299 more than his school record of the previous season; he played for Southern Schools and Hampshire Second XI. P. May, with a mixture of off- and leg-spin, was the leading wicket-taker, while M. Hickman and J. Donaldson formed an effective opening attack. Hard work and excellent team spirit brought five wins and only one defeat for King Edward VI College, Stourbridge, for whom N. A. Barrett (slow left-arm) had a remarkable season, twice taking nine wickets in an innings and once capturing four wickets in four balls.

With a young side – seven of them under sixteen – King Edward VII School, Lytham, were encouraged by the promise of C. Lodge (off-spin) and I. Ball (medium), the all-round ability of the opening batsman, M. Hawthornthwaite, and the sound captaincy of R. Shannon. An enjoyable cricket festival was held at the school with University College School London, Solihull and Barnard Castle attending. A satisfactory season was enjoyed by an inexperienced King Henry VIII, Coventry, side who, with a wayward attack, achieved their best results when chasing runs. King William's College, Isle of Man, reported some exciting finishes. Their side depended on the captain, S. C. Watson, for runs – he hit three centuries – and A. J. Corlett (left-arm fast-medium) for wickets – five or more in an innings five times, including seven for 65 v Merchant Taylors', Crosby.

In another successful season, King's College, Taunton, recorded wins v Wellington School, Queen's Taunton, Canford, King's Bruton and Downside. Their success was founded on the batting of left-hander R. G. Twose, who made two hundreds, and J. T. S. Chippendale, as well as the bowling of H. D. W. Wordsworth and G. K. Barber (both fast-medium). Barber returned seven for 57 v Queen's Taunton and with Twose played for Somerset Second XI. A tour of Barbados was undertaken in August. In a strong batting line-up at King's College School, Wimbledon, J. P. Feltham and the left-handed P. J. Graham were prominent, the latter scoring 108 not out in a winning total of 135 v The Hague CC on a tour of the Netherlands. P. S. Noble, the captain, and M. Woolnough both bowled steadily throughout.

The all-round excellence of the captain, I. C. D. Stuart, who was selected for Southern Schools, was the foundation for the most successful season for ten years at King's, Bruton. A well-balanced attack, with two younger members, M. A. Walton (slow-medium) and C. G. Cowell (slow left-arm), making a significant contribution, was backed up by the high standard of fielding, led by the example of J. C. Enderby behind the stumps. A similar story came from King's School, Canterbury, who finished the season unbeaten after a thrilling finale v King's College School, Wimbledon, in their last match. Only once bowled out themselves, they dismissed eight other schools and were intelligently captained by R. W. G. Oliver. A young King's School, Chester, side had to wait six matches for their first win, but could take encouragement from the performances of the left-handed T. R. M. Jones, who hit 108 not out v the XL Club, and G. Park (off-spin), who returned seven for 49 v Sir John Deanes.

Another young side, King's School, Ely, won ten of their matches. M. Chamberlain's 792 runs were a school record, and opening bowler J. R. G. Bouverie took 41 wickets at an average of 8.00. In a satisfactory season, The King's School, Macclesfield, defeated King's Chester, King William's School (IoM), Bangor GS, Merchant Taylors' Crosby, Arnold and – for only the second time – MCC. C. J. Belfield and the captain, D. B. Rousham, were the leading batsmen, while D. G. Walker (fast-medium) and J. C. Sandford (slow left-arm) headed the bowling and were well supported by R. G. Diggle, until he was injured.

For The King's School, Worcester, who had a disappointing season, highlights were N. Marsh's century against Bablake and the consistent performances of J. Mackie. More attention to line and length would have helped the bowlers. Injuries to their captain, S. H. Clayton, and S. C. R. Cox, keeping them out of the side until after half-term, meant that Kingston GS got off to a slow start. None the less, Clayton scored the most runs, including a second successive century v MCC, and achieved a record three-year aggregate of 1,848 runs, surpassing by 19 the old record of R. D. A. Dodds. I. Robinson, batting at No. 8 or 9, scored 438 runs, including 85 in 55 minutes v Trinity, and fourteen-year-old R. A. White showed all-round promise.

In schools matches Lancing were beaten only by Tonbridge and Brighton – both off the last ball and the latter in the final of the Langdale Cup. J. D. Robinson made the side's only hundred – 130 not out v Brighton, against whom he and the captain, I. C. Martin, put on a record unbroken 205 for the third wicket, the total of 272 for two declared also being a record. In his fifth season C. S. Mays, who played for ESCA, HMC Schools and Sussex Second XI and was selected for the Young England side to West Indies in January 1985, scored the most runs and with his off-spin captured 38 wickets, including a hat-trick v Cranleigh. The leading bowler, though, was J. N. P. Davies, whose hostile speed and late out-swing brought 47 wickets, which was a school record for a fast bowler and included seven for 34 v Christ's Hospital. For Leeds GS, beaten only by Manchester GS in schools matches, A. F. Tyler, the captain, scored the most runs and played for HMC Schools as well as captaining Yorkshire Schools, for whom G. R. Tyler, the leading wicket-taker, also played.

Four early defeats for The Leys were off-set by impressive end-of season victories v Gresham's and St Paul's, the latter by an innings in a two-day match. J. D. R. Benson, an attacking right-hand bat, scored 977 runs, passing 50 eleven times and hitting three hundreds, as well as playing for Cambridgeshire in the Minor County Championship. Strength in every department left Liverpool College undefeated. The captain, P. D. Williams, headed the batting, and with A. N. Hughes established a record for the first wicket of 207 unbroken v MCC. A strong attack featured the pace of A. P. Hanson and Williams, supported by the off-spin of J. A. Brown.

Llandoverly College, unbeaten by schools, achieved good wins v Christ College Brecon, Hereford Cathedral School and Ruthin School. The captain, G. E. Owen (fast-medium), took 49 wickets, including six or more in an innings on five occasions; S. Meredith, the wicket-keeper, starting the season with three consecutive centuries, scored the most runs and represented Welsh Schools. Lord Wandsworth College managed only one win, although A. M. Blows scored two hundreds and, having given up his position behind the stumps to open the bowling, came second in the averages. A. J. Phillips emerged as a promising left-hand bat and wicket-keeper. The middle order of Lord Williams's College, Thame, often squandered the excellent start of their opening batsmen, A. Deans and G. Westlake, with the result that the side was bowled out for under 100 on three occasions. The attack lacked incisiveness and variety, although P. Jobson was always accurate.

In a season of rebuilding, a young Magdalen College School side beat Dean Close and Oratory and had an exciting tied match v Shiplake. With most of the side returning in 1985, prospects are good. A tour of Barbados preceded an unbeaten season for Malvern, whose captain, N. R. C. MacLaurin, excelled with the bat: v Clifton College he hit an unbeaten 152 out of a total of 189 for three. R. Wothers was an enthusiastic wicket-keeper, making some excellent stumpings, while J. M. Davey bowled his off-spin with admirable variation and control. S. F. Harris, who opened the attack, bowled tirelessly, often working up considerable speed and hostility: he also played several sterling innings. Confidence rose as the term progressed and notable victories were achieved v Shrewsbury, Rugby and Charterhouse at the end-of-season festival at Malvern.

Outstanding for Manchester GS was the captain and English Schools representative, M. A. Atherton, who also played for Lancashire Second XI. His aggregate of 1,013 runs and five hundreds were both school records. Bowling leg-spin he captured 61 wickets, taking six in an innings on three occasions, and was well supported by M. A. Crawley with the bat and I. D. Botterill (medium) and G. Yates (off-spin) with the ball. Team spirit was excellent, as was the fielding, especially that of C. Zis at slip and N. Davenport in the covers. E. M. C. Alexander claimed 34 dismissals behind the stumps. A young Marlborough side beat Clifton, St Edward's, Sherborne and Rugby, the latter by 12 runs after being 0 for four. In an exciting match v Wellington College, Marlborough lost their ninth wicket off the last ball, with the No. 11 batsman absent ill, but after reference to Lord's the match was declared drawn. The mainstay of the batting was J. E. J. Morris, while the burden of the attack fell on the opener, J. C. Makin, and the captain, R. T. Thicknesse, whose slow left-arm spin was missed in the last six matches when he was injured.

Merchant Taylors', Crosby, with two wins, were handicapped by brittle batting and an attack, spearheaded by the fast-medium pace of S. R. Edgington (left-arm) and T. J. Judge (right-arm), which lacked a genuine spin bowler. In the absence through illness of wicket-keeper J. M. C. Potter, thirteen-year-old R. W. Glynn-Jones showed promise behind the stumps as well as with the bat. Merchant Taylors', Northwood, equalled the school record of eleven wins, thanks mainly to sound batting, headed by G. Cornelius, and the astute captaincy and accurate fast-medium bowling of A. J. Cornish. There was good support at fast-medium by fifteen-year-old D. W. R. Wiles, whose seven for 37 v Westminster was a highlight; so too was M. A. St C. Stewart's 132 off 147 balls on another occasion. Less successful were Merchiston Castle, who depended too much on the batting of opener A. G. Young, and whose attack lacked sufficient accuracy and variation.

Millfield, with perhaps their strongest team ever, were unbeaten and won the Barclays Bank Under-17 competition. The strong batting line-up, with five players scoring centuries, was headed by P. A. C. Bail who played for the English Schools and, with J. C. M. Atkinson, for Somerset Second XI. A balanced attack began with M. T. Parkinson and Atkinson, followed by the spin of P. J. Stephenson, Bail and B. J. M. Clube. Notable wins were v Marlborough, Bristol University, Plymouth College and the XL Club. For Mill Hill the captain, R. S. W. Roberts, scored the most runs and headed the bowling averages. His conversion from off-spin to medium-pace unbalanced the attack, but was justified in his nine for 27 in the win over University College School London. Roberts concluded the match with a spell of nine for 9, achieved with no fielder other than the wicket-keeper within 25 yards of the bat, and with the last two batsmen, off successive balls, being stumped.

Milton Abbey, for whom C. G. Bevan scored the only fifty, were unhappy with their results, but Monkton Combe had more success, thanks mainly to the batting of A. P. S. McDougall, who became the first to score 500 for the school in a season since 1971. With A. P. Fussell, the captain, he contributed a number of substantial opening partnerships which were built upon by I. C. Reid at No. 3. The attack was less strong, but G. P. W. Stainthorpe (fast-medium) made steady progress during the season. Another sound pair of opening batsmen were S. P. James and the left-handed M. F. Kear of Monmouth. They were backed up by a strong middle order: four batsmen reached three figures and James did so on four occasions. G. A. Davies, the captain, had a fine all-round season, and was well supported by Kear and B. T. Kantolinn with the ball, although greater variety in the attack and surer fielding would have made the side more formidable.

Norwich's success in reaching the final of the Barclays Bank Under-17 Cup promised well for the future after a season in which the spin bowling of J. G. Crane (leg-spin), N. J. E. Foster and D. M. Orr (both off-spin) proved expensive and only three batsmen passed 50. The strong batting line-up of Nottingham HS was led by J. G. Morris, who reached 100 in 48 minutes v Ratcliffe College, taking his side to their target of 168 in 23 overs. J. A. Pitman played some match-winning innings, while the bowling revolved around the off-spin attack of G. D. Harding and the economical J. P. Heather.

The high point for Oakham in an indifferent season was the performance of D. A. Lewis, who took eight Ratcliffe College wickets for 26 and completed a haul of 95 in three seasons. Defeated only by MCC, Oundle beat The Leys, Mill Hill, Felsted, Rugby, Stowe and Uppingham. A. S. A. Townsend, the captain, was outstanding with 1,005 runs, the next highest aggregate being that of W. J. B. Ward at 368. J. S. Carr (leg-spin) took the most wickets, well supported by M. I. W. Russell (left-arm fast-medium) who, with Townsend, played for HMC Schools.

For The Perse School J. M. C. Stenner, the captain, was again an exciting stroke-player, with innings of 112 v Bishop's Stortford and 139 not out v St Edmund's, Ware. Forceful contributions came from C. P. Wass, whose 115 not out was crucial in the win v King's, Ely: at medium pace he also bore the brunt of the bowling. S. T. Whiteside (left-arm medium) took six for 40 late in the season to bring victory v Wrekin College. Pocklington achieved some fine wins batting second – notably v Sedbergh, St Peter's York, and The Edinburgh Academy – but their batting was prone to collapses. R. T. Nuttall, an astute captain, hit two centuries and became the first to top 1,000 runs for the school, while J. D. Nuttall (left-arm medium) took 67 wickets, just two short of the school record. A. M. Billington kept wicket splendidly and played for Southern Schools. Prior Park College won only one match – v Queen Elizabeth's Hospital, against whom A. A. D'Souza took six for 28 – in a season which began disastrously with five defeats in the first sixteen days. More was expected of the XI, but illness, injuries and an inability to take wickets upset predictions.

Radley, without one player from 1983's XI, beat Stowe (by nine wickets), Winchester, Marlborough and Harrow, the latter for the first time: a considerable achievement to which each member of the side made some contribution. N. E. Marsh scored almost twice as many runs as the next batsman and at fast-medium took the most wickets. Also rebuilding, Ratcliffe College did better than expected, defeating Rendcomb College, King's School Gloucester and Redknock School on an end-of-term tour to Gloucester. R. J. J. d'Mello was consistent with the bat, and A. P. C. Relton (left-arm medium) the best of the bowlers. For Reading, D. G. Purslow was a tactically sound leader whose 160 v Berkshire Gentlemen was the highest for the school in many years. Another noteworthy performance was the left-handed J. E. Grinsdale's 109 in the five-wicket win v Royal GS, Colchester.

The season for Reed's was characterised by prolific scoring, with A. P. Shiells (778), J. R. Jamieson (672) and the captain, A. M. J. Glass (628), all passing the previous school record. Lack of penetrative bowling left too many drawn games. Similar problems faced Reigate GS, with their youngest-ever side, although once the batting had overcome early brittleness, they achieved seven wins. Four three-figure innings were played for the side, including two in succession by the captain, J. D. Morgan, on a tour of the Channel Islands in July, during which he shared a third-wicket partnership of 219 with T. J. Lander. A young Repton side exceeded expectations by achieving seven wins, including those v Wrekin, Workop, Pocklington, Stowe and Cheltenham, against whom they recovered from the brink of defeat to win by 3 runs. Opening bowlers R. W. A. Pyne and P. J. A. Heathcote performed admirably, while the batting relied on the stylish N. P. Stocks, who hit two fine hundreds.

Defeated only by Shrewsbury in schools matches, Rossall attributed their success to solid contributions throughout the side. For Royal GS, Guildford, who reported last-over wins v Reigate, Wimbledon and Caterham, the batting was sound and the bowling unspectacular but steady. C. Livingston (fast-medium) showed promise in the later matches. Disappointed with their results, Royal GS, Newcastle lacked support for A. R. Hitchcock with the ball, although the batting was reliable, M. A. Reed and M. I. Scott usually providing a solid foundation and P. J. Hollis, a Colt, performing well at No. 3.

Fielding a strong batting side, Royal GS, Worcester, had their most successful season ever, with fourteen wins. Notable performances included an eighth-wicket partnership of 80 between D. M. Woodfield and I. G. Jinks to retrieve a desperate situation and bring victory over King's School, Worcester; also the dismissal of the XL Club for 45 and of Douai for 55 in reply to 230 for four declared. The captain, J. S. Phillips, scored 566 runs and took 54 wickets with his left-arm spin, while D. P. Spiller topped the batting averages in his first season; wicket-keeper A. J. Bottomer claimed a school record of 33 victims. A memorable victory for a young Rugby XI was the seven-wicket win v Clifton, against whom match figures of nine for 73 were recorded by H. Bhatia, who also took nine for 66 v Marlborough. Hundreds came from T. P. Skipper and D. J. Cleverly. Rydal were carried by the batting of their captain, J. T. Owen, for overall both the batting and bowling of the experienced members were bewilderingly variable. However, with most of the side returning in 1985, prospects are good.

Loss of form of some senior players and lack of experience of the younger ones left St Dunstan's with disappointing results, although with some promising Colts coming into the side, they, too, hope for greater success in 1985. G. Pointer was called up for Somerset Second XI. The captain of St Edmund's, Canterbury, A. P. Walton, scored a record 634 runs with two centuries, and took the most wickets. The strength of the side lay in the batting, with N. C. Hopper a consistent performer, and three of their wins came when batting last. An otherwise unmemorable season for St Edward's, Oxford, was brightened by D. A. Cane's 170 v Cryptics, which surpassed the school record of 164, set last century, and N. Goldson's record tally of 29 6s in the season.

Unbeaten by a school for the second successive season, St George's, Weybridge, owed their success to strong batting and a varied attack. T. J. G. O'Gorman, who headed the batting averages and took the second-most wickets, played for England Schools and MCC Schools. Although tending to specialise in drawn games, St John's, Leatherhead, were also unbeaten for the second consecutive season, thanks to solid all-round contributions from all members of the side. St Lawrence College, with a young side, could find encouragement for the future in wins v Sutton Valance, Sir Roger Manwood's and Kimbolton.

A strong batting order characterised St Peter's, York, with J. P. Atkinson hitting two hundreds and J. E. B. Burdass one. However, the bowling suffered from injury to the captain, G. Y. Taylor, and it proved beyond the attack to bowl out the opposing sides. A highlight was the seven-wicket win v MCC, the school's 214 for three including a stand of 180 in 68 minutes between Atkinson (103 not out) and Taylor (88). A young Sedbergh side found satisfaction in beating Durham, Stonyhurst and Glenalmond, against whom M. T. Alban (105 not out) and J. P. Cheetham (70 not out) put on an unbroken 187 for the first wicket. Despite a preponderance of drawn games, Sevenoaks played attractive cricket and were intelligently led by N. J. Polkinhorne. Promise was shown by two young players: C. J. Crang with the bat and A. Griffiths, whose slow left-arm bowling brought him seven for 45 v King's School, Rochester.

Never bowled out for the second successive season, the strong Shrewsbury XI won thirteen matches and lost only one, with A. D. Hobson, D. J. Pollock, J. O. Cadwallader and E. L. Home all playing three-figure innings and passing 500 runs. Outstanding with the ball was left-arm spinner R. P. Holt, who played for The Rest at Eastbourne and whose 68 wickets, including five in an innings on five occasions, took his school aggregate to 130. For Simon Langton GS, who were beaten only by Allhallows, relative inexperience was off-set by the influence of R. I. James, in his second year as captain. A feature was the return of seven for 38 v Allhallows by S. P. Sloman (fast-medium), who played for Kent Schools as did M. C. Dobson, a slow left-arm bowler and right-hand batsman who also represented the county schools at Under-16 level. Weak batting, with only one fifty scored, hampered Sir Roger Manwood's ambitions. V. C. Marsh, at medium pace, took seven for 20 v Queen Elizabeth's, Faversham.

With an attack lacking penetration, Solihull achieved six of their eight wins batting second. Not that the batting was always dependable. The captain, S. Frost, hit the side's only three-figure innings – 111 not out v University College School, London – although J. Brunskill played two match-winning innings and W. Swift became increasingly difficult to remove as well as excelling in the field. Too many winning opportunities were wasted by Stamford for whom G. M. Canham was a reliable batsman/wicket-keeper, and there was promise in the performances of all-rounder R. P. C. Plant and leg-spinner S. Atkinson. In the win v Oakham, Stamford rallied from 23 for four to 157 for seven. Also against Oakham, Stowe's C. Whitmore (fast-medium) returned eight for 15, going on to collect 49 wickets, despite persistent problems with injuries. In an inexperienced Strathallan side, N. H. McKee scored more than twice as many runs as the next highest, passing 50 nine times. The pace of T. J. Pawson often disconcerted the opposition. In a season of rebuilding, the batting of Sutton Valance relied heavily on the captain, J. P. Sunnucks, who was ably supported by S. P. Walton with the bat and R. J. Ashton (left-arm medium) with the ball.

Lack of a strike bowler handicapped Taunton School, for whom three centuries apiece were scored by N. J. Pringle and R. J. Bartlett, who represented The Rest and Southern Schools respectively. Pringle also played for Somerset Second XI. Tiffin began their season well with N. A. Legg scoring 117 in 92 minutes in their first match, v Royal GS, High Wycombe, and A. M. Morley-Brown making 124 not out in their second, v Emanuel. Slow left-arm spin bowlers M. R. Coote and W. Shermer again formed the core of the attack, good support coming from K. C. P. Pamphilon (medium) and S. P. Randall (fast). Tonbridge, with wins v Lancing, Wellington, Clifton, Bedford, Merchant Taylors' Northwood, Dulwich and Pembroke (Adelaide), lost only to Felsted in schools matches. The strength lay in their batting, which produced totals of more than 200 in thirteen of their nineteen matches. The left-handed R. Owen-Browne hit one century and seven half-centuries; fifteen-year-old J. I. Longley followed him in the averages. The wicket-keeping of J. J. Longley attained a high standard and, although the attack was less potent, M. A. Hardcastle (off-spin) and W. J. Chaloner (left-arm medium) collected 77 wickets between them.

Highlights for Trent College, unbeaten by a school, were the nine-wicket victory v Oakham and one by 133 runs v Pocklington. Under the leadership of H. J. White, an excellent team spirit and aggressive out-cricker prevailed. T. P. Statham, who played for England Under-15, took eight Plymouth College wickets for 38. Powerful batting and a positive attitude brought some exciting last-over victories for Trinity, who lost only one school match. N. W. F. Redwood, as captain, led by example, taking most wickets with his leg-spin and scoring two hundreds in his 913 runs. Wicket-keeper D. H. Cooper's 923 runs included one hundred. An inexperienced Truro XI achieved mediocre results, although seven batsmen made fifties, P. S. Holmes showed all-round ability, and R. M. H. Bell revealed considerable potential as a seam bowler.

Occasionally inconsistent batting and lack of penetration in the attack brought a high proportion of drawn games for Uppingham, whose opponents often looked more interested in preventing defeat than in seeking victory. A. G. W. Lewin, with an unbeaten 126 v Felsted, looked a fine prospect as a wicket/keeper-batsman, while a return of seven for 31 from J. S. Williams brought a win v Ampleforth in a low-scoring match at the Oundle Festival. Despite the loss of several experienced players at the end of 1983, Victoria College, Jersey, had a successful season, founded on the batting of the captain, P. L. Lalor, the bowling of J. M. W. Giles and the all-round efforts of C. M. Graham.

The strength of Warwick's XI was in the batting, with large totals being compiled. Three batsmen reached three figures, N. M. K. Smith (son of M. J. K.) doing so twice. Lacking a genuine slow bowler, the attack consisted mostly of fast-medium seam, spearheaded by S. J. Holdsworth, which was in general short on accuracy and steadiness. Wellingborough were pleased with their tally of four wins v schools, including an outstanding performance v Stamford. Wellington College, however, were disappointed to win only their last two matches v Repton and Bedford – attributing their lack of success to a below-average attack. G. R. Reynolds played for HMC Schools. Under the positive captaincy of J. W. Hine, Wellington School played some entertaining cricket. N. C. Hall-Palmer bowled with considerable efficiency, while Hine and T. D. Over batted stylishly.

Unbeaten in their first eight games, Westminster suffered defeat in four of their last five, blaming their demise on the batsmen's failure to realise their potential and build on the early-season successes, such as C. J. A. Morrell's aggressive 114 v Bradfield. Inexperience resulted in weak batting performances by Whitgift at the beginning of the season, although five wins were gained in six matches at the end of term and on a tour of the Netherlands, where R. Slatford took four wickets in four balls v VOC Rotterdam Youth.

In the first half of the season, William Hulme's GS drew their first match and won the next six, bowling out the opposition on each occasion – a new school record. Following a four-week break for half-term and exams, the batting lacked its earlier confidence, but there were some exciting last-over decisions. G. P. Benson took five for 6 v Rydal and his fellow-opener, M. J. Cross, five for 20. Despite six wins, Winchester, with more consistent batting, could have done better. The captain, I. L. M. Henry, who represented Southern Schools, played a key all-round role, while J. D. Dean bowled his left-arm spinners to good effect and J. D. R. Bygrave marked his last season for the XI with a glorious unbeaten 124 v Tonbridge.

For Woodbridge, S. Reeve had an outstanding season, while R. Jack achieved the side's best return of seven for 25 in his final game. Woodhouse Grove relied heavily on B. S. Percy, whose leading aggregate included 165 not out v Hawks CC, although his bowling was more expensive than in previous years. N. A. Ledgard had a good all-round season; M. E. Fox and C. R. Kippax, with the bat, showed promise for the future.

Workshop's young side improved as the season progressed, although they missed their stock seamer, J. P. Wilkins, out for six games because of illness. J. F. Grieveson scored a fine unbeaten 101 v Ellesmere College while Wilkins, with two half-centuries and a long bowling stint, won an award at the Woodard Festival. Lack of experience left Wrekin College with unfavourable results, although A. W. Hartley was a useful all-rounder and J. W. Whitfield an effective slow left-arm bowler. A more successful season was reported by Wycliffe College who beat Bristol GS, Marling, Colston's, Cheltenham College II, Kingswood and Hereford Cathedral School. P. Rowley scored heavily in the later matches; R. Hair (fast-medium) and A. Dickenson (off-breaks) were the pick of the attack.
