

PUBLIC SCHOOL CRICKET IN 1934.

By A. PODMORE.

As in the previous season, the weather conditions in 1934 were all that could be desired, only occasional thunderstorms, mostly in the North of England, interrupting the course of the games. During the fourteen days at Lord's, which frequently have suffered serious interference in past years, rain stopped play for no more than three hours in all, though the Young Surrey Amateurs were not so fortunate at the Oval a month later. Towards the end of term some grounds suffered, especially with regard to the outfield, because of a general shortage of rain.

The fielding, notably in the big schools, maintained its high standard of excellence, and was at its best at Lord's, notwithstanding the terrible state of the turf in front of the Tavern. The catch by which P. M. Studd dismissed the Hon. N. H. Villiers in the Eton and Harrow match will not be forgotten by those who saw it. The Harrovian ran nearly twenty yards and, at deep mid-wicket, took a very hard skimming hit inches from the ground, falling over in making it. It earned him the Ebrington Cup for the best catch of the season. The Army set a wonderful example of fielding on the first day of the Schools' match, and the boys ran it very close. M. M. Walford, the Rugby captain, who had previously brought off three brilliant catches, effected two more at deep square leg and long off, and N. W. D. Yardley (St. Peter's, York) was always prominent.

Some notable batting performances were achieved during the term on the hard, true wickets. N. W. D. Yardley (145) and S. A. Newman (74) established a first wicket record of 232 for St. Peter's, York; J. D. L. Dickson (Marlborough), going in ninth against Liverpool, hit up 90 in thirty-five minutes; E. R. Speak (175) and R. Bagnall (81) scored 256 out of a total of 295 in two hours for Leatherhead; A. N. A. Boyd, the Eton captain, made 153 against the Eton Ramblers, 57 against the Free Foresters, and 111 against Charterhouse in consecutive innings; A. F. T. White (115) and M. T. Jennings (142 not out) put on 250 for Uppingham's first wicket against Cambridge O.U's.; F. W. Cole completed his century in forty-two minutes following a declaration by the Haberdashers, and in partnership with A. R. Millard (51 not out) scored 153 in forty-eight minutes to win the game on time for Bancroft's; R. M. Hollis (60) and M. A. Peters (33 not out), added 100 for the last wicket of Charterhouse, who beat Christ Church, Oxford, by 22 runs; for Tonbridge, who lost seven wickets for 63 against a score of 261 by Blackheath, L. D. Gardner (93) and J. O. Graham (106), newcomers to the eleven, hit off the runs without being separated, the winning hit being made on the stroke of time; after losing three batsmen without a run scored, Alleyn's declared with seven wickets down for 194 and beat M.C.C. by 19 runs; N. L. Lupton, captain of Pocklington, scored 126 against Ripon Grammar School in a little over an hour, and took six wickets for 10 runs.

There were several delightful stroke-players, notably, Pawle (Harrow), Foster (Winchester), Villiers (Eton), Hayfield (Haileybury), Day (Tonbridge), Calvert (St. Lawrence), Hamp (Malvern), and Davies-Scourfield (Winchester).

Still, batsmen did not have matters all their own way and several good bowling feats were recorded. Conditions seldom favoured left-handers, but T. G. L. Ballance's record of fifty-three wickets for 11 runs each at Uppingham speaks for itself, and B. R. Darewski was consistent for Haileybury. B. K. Totton took six wickets for 7 runs for St. Paul's against Leys. The faster right-handers were better suited. Among notable achievements was that of J. S. Foster (Cheltenham) who, early in the season, obtained six Malvern wickets for 21; R. R. Bond made a successful first appearance for Harrow by taking six for 22, and R. W. W. Howell, of St. Edward's had the unusual experience of dismissing six Oriol College batsmen for only 19 runs in an innings of 173. H. R. A. Beresford, the Rossall captain, secured seven for 17 against Sedbergh and eight for 18 against the Masters, and the last five wickets of the Bournemouth Club fell at Ramsgate to J. R. Sharpe, St. Lawrence, without a run being scored.

In the circumstances, with the conditions so much in favour of batsmen, the bowlers realised the urgent necessity of keeping a length, though in some of the important matches there was a tendency to bowl short. The wicket-keeping again reached a high standard, and was a feature of the fortnight's cricket at Lord's. The bugbear of the "two shoulders," and "safety first"—not only in the play, but in "declaring"—was still in evidence. On the other hand, several captains believed in the theory that if one gave one's opponents a chance of making the runs, one possessed a better chance of getting them out, and, even at the expense of losing now and then, had the more enjoyable season.

The Eton and Harrow match for the greater part followed on the lines of the last few years, little enterprise being shown in the batting, but it finished in a blaze of glory. Harrow were the better side except in the all-important department of fielding, and there is no doubt that failure to hold their catches robbed the side of a big chance of a long-delayed victory. Undoubtedly they had the worst of the wicket, but they had only themselves to thank for the big score Eton put up. Boyd, the Eton captain, who batted so consistently through the season, contributed a careful 100, but he should have been caught in the slips at 10, in the outfield at 41, and again in the slips at 95. On the other hand, Villiers, who completed a brilliant 50 in fifty-five minutes, was out to the great catch by Studd to which reference has been made. Among other bright interludes in the game, the spin bowling of the 15-year-old J. P. Mann calls for special mention. The pitch certainly gave him great assistance and he was indebted to Magill and his elder brother for exceptional catches at cover and extra mid-off, but he got an enormous amount of work on the ball and had all the Harrovians guessing. After another dull period, during which Harrow, having followed on, wiped off the deficit for the loss of three wickets, came a magnificent effort by Pawle which will always be remembered by those who saw it. Two hours remained for play and, his side being safe from defeat, Pawle saw his opportunity and took it with both hands. He cut, drove and slashed the tired Eton bowling to all parts of the field, 104 runs being added in an hour, and then he declared leaving Eton fifty minutes in which to make 107 runs for victory. Pawle had scored 94 the previous year and his 93 represented magnificent cricket; but even finer was the truly splendid spirit he showed in denying himself the coveted century because there still remained a chance—even if a thin one—that Harrow might bring off a win. This was indeed "cricket" in the very highest sense of the term. Eton accepted the challenge, but in the end had to be content to play out time.

Interest was sustained in the Winchester and Eton match all through the two days, honours being fairly divided. In much good cricket, each held the advantage in turn, Wilson, Pilkington and in the second innings, Rees-Davies, bowling very steadily. Wilson, a son of C. E. M. and a nephew of E. R., bowled thirty-four overs for 54 runs and five wickets with an accuracy worthy of the family tradition. He was mainly responsible for the downfall of six Eton wickets on the second morning for 98 runs. The Winchester fielding was always keen and accurate, with Foster, in the slips, P. A. T. Holme, at cover point, and Eggar especially worthy of notice. Foster brought off three typical slip-catches and one from a mishit over his head on the leg side. Eton, for whom Fisher kept wicket really well and Magill excelled at cover point, committed one or two mistakes in the first innings, but made amends in the second. Much of the batting was bright and enterprising, Davies-Scourfield and Foster each time opening Winchester's innings confidently, and Scott, who for the only time in the season lost his in-swing almost completely, proving his all-round worth in two useful displays. The younger Holme gave great promise for the future. Dixon showed a welcome return to form for Eton in the highest innings of the match, and F. G. Mann shaped well.

CLIFTON V. TONBRIDGE.

Tonbridge beat Clifton by 173 runs, but the sides were so evenly matched that, had Clifton seized their opportunities when Tonbridge led by only 83 with four wickets down in their second innings, the result might well have been reversed. Then Day gave two easy chances, but afterwards made no mistake and carried his bat for 130. Clifton being set 267 runs to win in just over three hours, Nuttall and Horsford started well, but with the exception of Weston, who hit hard for 121 in the first innings, the rest did nothing. It was Day's match as, in addition to scoring 201 runs for once out, he took, with his left-hand lobs, four wickets for 52 runs. Weston did great work for Clifton, dismissing five batsmen for 74 and scoring 145 runs.

RUGBY V. MARLBOROUGH.

The Marlborough batsmen, so successful in the trial games, failed again, as has so often happened when they come to the lively wickets at Lord's, and Rugby won easily. The wicket-keeping of Jelf for Marlborough and of Steel for the winners reached a high standard, but the feature of the match was the all-round play of Walford, the Rugby captain. He fielded brilliantly at cover point, took nine wickets with his medium-paced left-hand bowling for 67 runs, and, at a critical period, played the best innings of the match. Steel batted soundly to begin with, and West, who bowled untinglingly, besides taking five wickets for 54, hit wholeheartedly. For Marlborough, Hewan, the captain, if experiencing some good fortune, showed pluck.

CHELTENHAM V. HAILEYBURY.

Haileybury went to Lord's with the reputation of being the best all-round team to represent the school for many years. It came as a mild surprise, therefore, when Norris, upon winning the toss, sent Haileybury in to bat. However, Foster, who bowled at a good pace and turned the ball quickly, at once justified his reputation by clean bowling three batsmen with only seven runs on the board. Childs, as in the previous year, steadied the side, but seven wickets were down for 102 when P. K. Mayhew came in to hit up a cheery 59, and Gale and Annison gave further proof of the batting strength by adding 49 for the last stand. Against varied bowling and admirable fielding, Cheltenham collapsed. Next morning, Pope, Eagar, Norris and de Castle played with great pluck and determination, but Haileybury, set 73 runs to win, obtained them for the loss of two wickets.

Two representative sides had been selected for the Lord's Schools and The Rest, the most important fixture of the Schools season, in which the Lord's Schools just failed to drive home an advantage gained on the first innings. Darewski might have taken a risk and declared a quarter of an hour earlier, but possibly he had heard rumours of C. G. Toppin's furious hitting in similar circumstances in 1925. As it was, the Rest finished 120 behind with three wickets to fall. A beautiful innings of 92 by Pawle—his third in two seasons at Lord's—the bowling of Ballance and the wicket-keeping of Hayles and Brodhurst were features of the game. The fielding was as good as anyone could wish to see, and Walford brought off three brilliant catches in different positions. The batting was sound all through and Mayhew and Hayles hit up 71 and 53 in two bright eighth wicket stands for the Lord's Schools.

Against the Army, the Schools gave the best display of batting and fielding seen since the inauguration of the match in 1920. Yardley put together a great innings of 117—the first century scored against the Army. He played every stroke with the ease of the batsman who knows where to place his feet, and combined an impregnable defence with splendid power in driving. Walford proved his value by helping Yardley to add 89 for the sixth wicket, and Mayhew made a bright if somewhat unorthodox 56 (not out) in thirty-five minutes before the innings was declared at 303 for eight wickets. A beautiful innings by R. E. H. Hudson, supported by R. J. Packe and P. M. Hughes, enabled the Army to lead by 16 runs. Nuttall, who hit very hard, and Yardley obtained 84 for the first wicket in the Schools second innings, Bell played sound cricket, and Pawle scored with delightful freedom, sending up the second hundred with only two wickets down. Four more batsmen fell in trying to get runs in a hurry, and the Army were left 200 runs to make in an hour and a half—a severe but not impossible task. Hudson and C. P. Hamilton made 73 together, and when bad light stopped play 105 runs had been scored in just over three-quarters of an hour for the loss of two wickets. Although, throughout the Army's two innings, Darewski kept an admirable length, the bowling on the whole was disappointing.

It may have been the dull overcast weather or the reaction from the brilliance of the cricket earlier in the week, but at any rate the first day's play in the Young Amateurs and Professionals match was almost depressing. The Professionals occupied three hours and three-quarters over a total of 192 and the Amateurs' fielding did not compensate. Emmett and Compton made some good strokes, but little enterprise was shown, K. Cranston (Liverpool College) bowling 23 overs, 11 maidens, for 36 runs and 4 wickets. The Amateurs, with the exception of Cranston, C. L. Edgson (Stamford), and D. M. Matthews (Felsted) were little more venturesome, being all out for 164. Putner troubled most of the batsmen with his leg-breaks. In marked contrast to the methods employed during the opening stage, Putner hit freely for 126, reaching three figures in eighty minutes. Declaring at 213 for five, the Professionals left their opponents three hours in which to get 242 to win. E. B. Calvert (St. Lawrence) played a steady innings, but Putner and Turvey, the slow bowlers, supported by keen fielding, carried all before them until J. M. S. Burrow (Denstone) and B. H. Fisher (Eton), who also kept wicket very well, added 71 for the ninth wicket by the best cricket of an innings that closed for 153.

THE COLTS MATCH.

The Colts match, which concluded a most enjoyable fourteen days, brought to light some very promising young cricketers. The players were all under 16 on May 1 and many of them should be heard of in their school elevens in 1935. Some have already made their names, notably J. M. Pollen, a hard-hitting batsman from Downside with all the left-hander's strokes, and F. F. Richardson, an all-round left-hander, who will captain Westminster this summer. Harrow produced two fast-medium bowlers in D. W. Stuart and W. G. Stewart, whose names may well cause confusion in 1936, and the most promising batsman seen during the fortnight was perhaps M. D. Watson, a son of H. D. Watson, who played two beautiful, wristy innings of 38 and 24 (not out) without a mistake. Eton had a diminutive batsman in D. Curling, the possessor of a good eye and excellent wrists.

THE OVAL WEEK.

Rain interfered considerably with the annual week at the Oval. It robbed the Young Amateurs of a victory over Essex and saved them from almost certain defeat by Kent. The Middlesex match was won by a wicket on the stroke of time. With the exception of J. M. Lomas (Charterhouse), who possessed a considerable range of strokes and a very strong defence for so young a player, there was no outstanding batsman on the Young Surrey Amateurs side. With brilliant exceptions in K. R. G. Campbell (Dulwich) and Lomas, the fielding on the whole, and particularly in the slips, disappointed. R. West (Rugby) saw accepted only one chance of the many offered from his bowling during the week. He and D. E. Young (K.C.S., Wimbledon), leg-breaks, bore the burden of the bowling and between them accounted for thirty-one of the forty-two wickets which fell, Young taking nineteen for 14 runs apiece and West twelve for 16 each.

Little more than an innings each could be played in the Essex match and the visitors, with six wickets down in the second innings, finished only 11 runs on.

Thanks mainly to two good innings by Lomas and the bowling of West and Young, Surrey beat Middlesex, the same two bowlers hitting off 25 runs for the last wicket without being separated. D. E. C. Steel (Rugby), who opened for the visitors, fell in each innings to a brilliant catch.

The final match with Kent produced the best cricket of the week. D. M. Harris (Sherborne) with 78 was the main contributor to Surrey's total of 216, and in reply the visitors lost three wickets for 28. P. G. Foster (Winchester) who hit freely and D. A. S. Day (Tonbridge) then added 142 runs. Foster and A. M. Hayfield followed with a partnership of 163 in a little over an hour, when Foster was finely caught at cover point for a delightful 165. Hayfield completed a chanceless hundred and the innings was declared at 367 for six wickets. At the drawing of stumps, Surrey stood 46 runs behind with four wickets down in the second innings.

The Eton eleven of 1934, under the captaincy of Boyd, made very little history and will not long be remembered. This is the more to be regretted since the side opened the season on Upper Club with three extremely good performances. They all but defeated Liverpool and gained smashing victories over the M.C.C. and Butterflies. But cricket played on Upper Club in May, though idyllic, produces form that is altogether misleading. Visiting batsmen, somewhat out of practice, cannot sight the ball, and the home bowlers find the task of taking wickets much easier than is good for them. The selection of the eleven would probably be simplified were all the matches played in the brighter light of Agar's Plough, which revealed very serious shortcomings. The batting of Boyd was extraordinarily successful, but he and his illustrious predecessor are dangerous models, and it is difficult to say how far they are to blame for the prevailing Eton fault of whipping the leading shoulder round to square leg and presenting the whole front to the bowler. Such a movement kills the cut and makes all off-side play streaky. Every member of the side except Magill, the two Manns and Campbell committed that crime, and only Boyd and Villiers, the left-handers, were good enough to get away with it. Boyd enjoyed a wonderful season, as would Villiers, had he exercised the same patience as his captain. Of the rest, F. G. Mann showed by far the best technique. Pilkington and Magill made good scores on occasions, and Dixon, who played excellently at Winchester, made, at the end of his last season, some return to the form of his early days.

Rees-Davies, easily the most pertinacious of the fast bowlers, was not really fast enough and Campbell became more and more innocuous. The former has a poor action; the latter lost entirely what was once a good one. Pilkington, an old hand who varied his pace cleverly, and Magill were better than they looked and a search for a slow spinner soon revealed the fact that J. P. Mann was easily the best. He can be, as the Harrovians know, very good indeed. His bowling at Lord's formed one of the three memorable things in the season. The other two were Boyd's batting throughout the year, and Villiers' innings (not forgetting Studd's catch which dismissed him) against Harrow. Wild, a young and quick left-hander, should be very useful this year. Fisher was one of the most notable of recent Eton wicket-keepers, and the fielding vastly better than that of the previous year, Magill being outstanding at cover point. Fisher, next year's captain, will have Rees-Davies, the two Manns, Wild and Cassavetti (12th man) left to help him. Batsmen and a steady bowler are urgently needed.

That Harrow commanded the best all-round side of the last few years will readily be admitted. Of the twelve matches played, three were won, including that at Charterhouse, and a particularly fine victory against I.Z., whose score of 254 for seven (declared) the school passed with four wickets down, thanks to a quick century by Carris; six were drawn—three well in Harrow's favour—and three lost. As to the defeats, the Harlequins and Crusaders both won after the school had declared, and the only occasion when the batting partially broke down was against the M.C.C., who succeeded by 72 runs. The batting was sound all through—nine of the side averaged over 20—and the bowling possessed variety with Duveen, left-hand, and Bond and Kaye, fast-medium, Carris, left-hand, and Stogdon. Bond, who delivers the ball from a good height, but at present is apt to slow up on the bowling crease, proved a great acquisition, and Duveen bowled as well as ever, but seldom found a wicket to help him. The fielding was generally reliable and the catching safe.

The poor cricket shown by the eleven for the greater part of the two days at Lord's was therefore all the more disappointing; but the magnificent display by Pawle in the concluding stages of the game more than made amends. It was as brave and unselfish cricket as has ever been seen in the historic match and a fitting climax to the school career of a great captain. With eight of the side remaining, under Studd, for next year, including Carris, Duveen, Stogdon, Kaye, Neumark, Bond and Joynson, and many promising colts coming on, there is little fear for the future of Harrow cricket.

Winchester, a really good batting side, possessed in Foster and Davies-Scourfield a dangerous opening pair and both stroke-players. M. W. Holme missed the first month of term, but filled the breach at No. 3 with sufficient success to promise well for the next two years. Eggar not only saved the side by his dogged defence on many occasions, but also showed his ability to score exceedingly fast. Grover had an "off" year with the bat, but proved an efficient wicket-keeper and revealed judgment and perception as captain. Of the remainder of the batting, it suffices to say that No. 10 on several occasions was tried as No. 1. The bowling lacked variety, as the main work in attack fell on Scott, Bryan and Wilson, all three medium-paced right-hand. However, they all knew how to bowl a length, and Wilson's five wickets in the Eton first innings may well be a foretaste of many successes during his next two years. Scott's in-swingers to a leg-side field gave the side an encouraging start in practically every match with two or three cheap wickets. Townsend's leg-breaks were very valuable against Charterhouse when he took five wickets. In the field, the team lacked its usual quickness. There were, however, four fine individual fieldsmen, P. A. T. Holme, at cover, Foster, at first slip, Eggar and Wrench. The one-day matches at Charterhouse and Harrow were drawn without advantage to either side, but Winchester defeated Marlborough convincingly, Eggar (93) helping to add 120 runs in something like three-quarters of an hour after lunch. Eton gained a lead of 32 runs on the first innings and had slightly the best of the position at the close, but not all the honours, for, Wilson dismissing five batsmen for 54, a collapse occurred on the second morning on a plumb wicket. Prospects for the coming season are encouraging with Eggar as captain, and Foster, Faber, Wilson and M. W. Holme to support him.

The Rugby Eleven failed to do themselves true justice throughout the season until, at Lord's, they defeated Marlborough by nine wickets. In all the club matches, the school fared much better than against other schools. They beat a powerful Butterflies' Eleven, and Steel and Kershaw put on 164 runs for the second wicket against a very strong Foresters' side. On the other hand, they lost the Clifton match when, with all their wickets in hand, they needed only 129 runs to win, and Uppingham beat them when they had no more than seven runs to get and four wickets to fall. Rugby and Repton met for the first time, Repton winning by three wickets. Walford, the captain, never really came off till he showed at Lord's what a fine all-round player he is. Steel and Kershaw were the sole consistent run-getters on the side, the former reaching his 500 runs during his innings at Lord's. West proved a really fine bowler when things went well with him, taking forty-seven wickets for under 12 runs apiece. Very steady fielding made up for any weakness in the bowling which, apart from West, reached no high standard. Walford set a brilliant example and Steel, who will captain the side this year, filled the breach behind the wicket very effectively. Kettle, Dewar and Appleby will also be available.

With six old colours—including three bowlers, and the wicket-keeper—Marlborough had every reason to anticipate another successful season. Actually, they were a little disappointing, for they won only three matches, lost four and drew four. In a strong batting side, No. 10 was just as likely to (and did) make as many runs as those much higher up, but the bowlers did not come on as much as expected. Cheltenham were beaten by an innings and 95 runs, Hewan, the captain (106) and Cheales (94) making a big stand for the second wicket; time saved Wellington from defeat and rain spoiled the Harrow match. The team collapsed on the livelier wicket at Winchester and again at Lord's against Rugby. Jelf, a very promising stumper, superseded Fletcher behind the wicket, the latter retaining his place in the side for his batting and fielding. Heyland, who played only in the later matches, headed the batting with an average of 41, and Whitehouse, Hewan and Dickson showed great improvement, but Harbottle, the left-hander who promised so well in the previous year, did not experience the best of luck. The fielding generally was good. With Hewan again captain, and Whitehouse, Harbottle, Dickson, Westwood, Fletcher, Cheales, O'Regan and Jelf staying on, Marlborough should be in a happy position in 1935.

Cheltenham, with four matches won, four drawn and four lost, showed much better figures than in 1933. Of the four school matches, however, those against Marlborough and Haileybury were lost by big margins and that with Clifton—largely spoiled by rain—left drawn. Main credit for the victory over Malvern belonged to Foster, who took six of the first seven wickets for 12 runs and brought about the dismissal of the visitors for 91. Against Marlborough, Foster secured a wicket in his first over, but then an epidemic of dropped catches allowed the next partnership to realise 204 runs. Against a powerful Haileybury side at Lord's, he sent back the first three batsmen for seven runs when Cheltenham won the toss and put their opponents in, and he bowled consistently well all through the season. Making the ball do a little either way, he came quickly off the pitch and rarely failed to get an early wicket or two. Norris kept wicket really well throughout the summer and was an excellent captain. Arengo-Jones was much the best batsman, but Eagar, out of luck, failed to make as many runs as expected. Powell was steady, and Pope and de Castle showed great promise for the future. The bowling lacked variety, Pope and Arengo-Jones, medium-paced right-hand being similar in type to Foster. With all the side except Norris, Arengo-Jones and Fisher, again available, the outlook for 1935 is promising.

Able to call upon eight old colours, Haileybury fully realised expectations, losing only to M.C.C., Crusaders and Gentlemen of Herts., and beating all their school opponents, including Uppingham—for the first time since 1913—in addition to Caius College, Googlies and Foresters. The games against Wadham College, Old Haileyburians, F. Pawle's XI, Cryptics and Incogniti were drawn, mostly in favour of the school. The strength of the side was reflected by the inclusion of four representatives in the Public Schools XI at Lord's against the Army. They possessed a large number of all-rounders, including a first-rate wicket-keeper in Hayles, and they played as a team, with every member able to get runs. Six of the side averaged over 25—and they hit the ball. Purdy and Ridler were a sound opening pair; Hayfield, who scored over 600 runs, combined a great variety of strokes with sound defence; Childs, a player with a true cricketer's temperament, should again make many runs this year, and P. K. Mayhew and Hayles formed an ideal No. 8 and 9. P. K. Mayhew, fast-medium, Darewski, a left-hand spinner, Hayfield, leg-breaks and googlies, Gale, leg-breaks, C. P. Mayhew, left-hand, and Annison constituted a varied and accurate attack supported by good ground fielding and very safe catching. Finally, Haileybury were fortunate in their captain, Darewski, who handled his bowling with judgment. With Hayles, P. K. Mayhew, Childs, Purdy and Annison remaining, they should still be well up to the average this year.

Although able to include six members of the 1933 eleven, Clifton did not meet with the success anticipated, for the batting proved disappointing, and Scott, a young leg-break bowler who may come into his own this year, scarcely fulfilled early promise. On the other hand, M. H. Anderson, the wicket-keeper, had few superiors in the schools, and Nuttall was a safe and brilliant cover-point. Inasmuch as they beat Rugby and had much the better of a rainy draw with Cheltenham, the season cannot be written down as a failure. At Lord's they looked to be gaining the upper hand against Tonbridge on the second morning, but were outplayed in the concluding stages.

With an aggregate of over 400 runs, Nuttall was a most consistent opening batsman, but he accomplished little in the inter-school matches. Heath and Weston showed themselves attractive hitters with not much pretence to soundness, and Lapage often rendered valuable help. As to the bowling, Scott took 37 wickets for just under 18 runs apiece; Weston (slow-medium right), always ready to experiment, put in much useful service, his nine Rugby wickets for 47 being a fine performance, and Heath worked indefatigably; but Lapage rarely combined pace with accuracy. Watkins, slow-left, improved considerably. Six old colours, including M. H. Anderson, Weston and Scott, staying on, the side should do well, but sound batsmen are sorely needed.

A useful average side, without a tail in run-getting, but with no really good bowler, Tonbridge won four and lost three of their fifteen engagements. The batting stood them in good stead on several occasions and a fine eighth wicket partnership brought a brilliant win over Blackheath, when, after the loss of seven men for 63 in reply to a total of 261, Graham (106) and Gardner (93) won the match without being separated. The first three inter-school matches were drawn, and the season finished with a somewhat unlooked-for victory over Clifton, Day, with scores of 71 and 130 (not out) being mainly responsible. Apart from Day, who hit with immense power and was not afraid to get his left foot to the pitch of the ball, the most consistent batsmen were La Fontaine, the captain, and Graham, who also improved considerably as a wicket-keeper. While the ground fielding reached the average, the catching was poor—a fact the more unfortunate in view of the meagre bowling resources. Great credit fell to Flower, Popple and Parsons, who kept at it hard in face of missed catches and plumb wickets. Cobb is the new captain and Parsons, Thompson and Hobbs are also returning.

The Westminster season was only moderately successful, three matches being won, three drawn, and six lost. They beat Wellington, drew with Stowe and Radley, and suffered severe defeats from Sherborne and Charterhouse. The batting was fairly strong, centuries being scored by Hobbs (2), Alderson and Angelo, but the cares of captaincy weighed heavily upon Angelo, who until the last match of term against the Old Boys, failed to reproduce his form of the previous year. Still, Angelo, with his leg-breaks, achieved most success among the bowlers the others never looking dangerous on the hard wickets, and the eleven deserved credit for developing into a particularly good fielding side, with Alderson outstanding. Richardson, a left-hand all-rounder who played in the Colts Match at Lord's in 1933 and 1934, will captain the side in 1935, and Symons, Rayne and Stocker, of the Old Pinks, remain in addition to Lygon, Currie and Cunliffe, who appeared in several matches.

When Lomas was available, Charterhouse possessed exceptional batting strength and were well up to standard in bowling and fielding. Unfortunately illness kept him out of the team for three weeks in the middle of term and prevented him from appearing against Eton and Harrow. Westminster were beaten by eight wickets and Wellington dismissed for 127 after Charterhouse had declared at 348 for three wickets. The games with Winchester and Eton ended in draws, that with Harrow being lost by nine wickets. Field and Lomas were the most reliable of the batsmen, and Richards, the captain, played three fine innings, including a century against Wellington. Paynter and Reynolds also made useful scores on occasions. Power, a good opening fast bowler, Diver, medium right-hand, and Hollis, a slow spinner, shared the bowling. Wilson, who succeeds Richards as captain, was hardly so successful as in 1933. Other colours remaining are Lomas, Power, Hollis, and Reynolds.

A side of good average ability, Repton won five matches, lost four, and drew two, but the batting to begin with disappointed. Barrett, who, against Shrewsbury, made 81 not out on a wet wicket when only two other members of the side reached double figures, was the one consistent batsman, though later Montgomery ran into form and scored a beautiful century against the Repton Pilgrims. The main strength of the team lay in the bowling of Foster and Greswell, the former a medium off-spinner who varied his pace skilfully, and Greswell an in-swinging with deceptive flight. Ashton and Seaford, both fast-medium right-handers, bowled well at times, and Coghill, by taking with his leg-breaks seven wickets for 53, bore a leading part in the defeat of Rugby. Montgomery will again captain the side, and Willatt, Bagnall, Lowcock and Murray are staying on.

Malvern commanded a useful all-round side, with however, a lack of variety in bowling. The fielding attained a high level throughout and the captain, Cope, gave a lead in all departments of the game. All the eleven showed ability with the bat, though Moss alone obtained a century—a fine effort of 107 (not out) in the Repton match. The Shrewsbury game was drawn, Cope and Hamp (who played a beautiful innings at the Oval in September) engaging in a big stand at a critical point; that with Cheltenham lost by 88 runs, and defeat experienced from Wadham and Christ Church, Oxford, the Foresters and Old Malvernians. Willis-Dixon bowled courageously and well deserved his thirty wickets. Brodhurst, who derived little help from the fast wickets, should prove deadly under different conditions. Brodhurst, captain, Willis-Dixon, Greatbatch, Henson and Rogers remain for this year.

On the whole Shrewsbury experienced a successful season. They beat Rossall by ten wickets, lost to Repton and Uppingham by five wickets and played a drawn game at Malvern. The batting was strong all through, but the bowling, apart from that of Howell, who, owing to a strain, could play only half the season, was not specially effective. The absence of Howell, who revealed considerable pace, was severely felt against Repton and Uppingham. He took nine wickets for 49 runs against Rossall, and Thornycroft played a fine innings of 134 in an even draw with Malvern. In a low-scoring game at Uppingham, the home side led by 13 runs on the first innings. The Shrewsbury Saracens were defeated in an innings, Best, who will captain the eleven this year, being top scorer with 64, and nine of the eleven altogether reaching double figures in a total of 376. The efficient wicket-keeping of Stanbury stood out among excellent fielding. Best will have the assistance of Thornycroft, Warman (who performed the "hat-trick" against Rossall), Marrian (86 not out v. Rossall), Robinson, an opening batsman, and Wild, a change bowler.

Maintaining their wonderful record—as they had done at Rugby football—Uppingham won nine of their twelve engagements and lost only one. Rain interfered with the Old Boys match—only one innings apiece could be played—and the school just failed to force a win in the one-day game with Oundle. Jennings, a newcomer, removed anxiety at the beginning of the summer regarding the problem of finding an opening batsman by assisting White to put on 249 in the first match, and later Blake proved a reliable first-wicket partner. Much of the batting disappointed, however, and though Bell, White and Ormsby did consistent work, the injury which kept R. J. McCosh out of the team was much to be regretted. Once again the side owed much to the left-hand bowling of Ballance, the inspiring captain, who took 53 wickets for 11 runs apiece, and who received splendid support from Gillespie and Watson. Watson, bringing off some first-rate catches at short leg, won the fielding prize, and Horsfall showed promising form behind the wicket. The only defeat—by ten wickets—came from Haileybury. Repton were beaten by an innings and ten runs, Blake playing a fine innings of 86, and Shrewsbury by five wickets. Put in at Rugby, Uppingham were all out for 105. With 93 up and six wickets in hand, Rugby seemed assured of victory, but the last five wickets fell for two runs, Uppingham winning in a sensational finish by four runs. Bell will captain the eleven this year, and Ormsby, Jennings, Samuel, Gillespie and Horsfall are also available, in addition to R. J. Fearson, who kept wicket in 1933.

Varied bowling brought a fair measure of success to St. Paul's, Feldman, a slow spinner with an occasional googly, and Totton, left-hand, with valuable assistance from Alexew and Crebin comprising an able attack. Moon and Boswood were the most consistent batsmen, and Passmore and ffennell, the latter of whom hit up 119 against Eton Ramblers, also did capital work in run-getting. There are seven old colours left for 1935 and four others who played for the eleven.

If they could not be said to have had a bad season, Dulwich on the whole, disappointed. They beat Bedford and St. Pauls', drew with Brighton and Tonbridge, and suffered defeat at Mill Hill. Considering that he followed such an experienced leader as H. T. Bartlett, Holliman achieved notable success in his first year's captaincy. His batting improved beyond all expectation and he bowled his leg-breaks better than ever, keeping a far steadier length. The batting was strong, but lacked both enterprise and resolution. Beaumont, a very useful opening batsman, Knight, Haycock and Campbell all rendered Holliman great assistance, but Booty, who had promised so well, fell right away. Denby, a left-hand colt, justified his inclusion by his vigorous batting. There was plenty of variety in the bowling with Chiverall and Campbell, medium-pace, Silkin, slow leg-breaks, and Beaumont. Silkin, who easily headed the averages, bowled uniformly well throughout the summer. The fielding greatly improved as the term went on, and by June little fault could be found. Holliman will again captain the side this year, and will have the help of Haycock, Silkin and Denby.

While Bradfield gained victories over Wellington and strong sides of the Foresters, Authentics and Old Wykehamists, they suffered seven defeats, including those from Radley, Lancing, and Stowe, and played three drawn games. They had three good fast-medium bowlers in Raynor, Hunter, who took forty-five wickets for less than 15 runs each, and Allpass, but no leg-break bowler. Concerning the batting, everyone played at least one good innings, but it broke down in the school matches. Paine, who obtained 561 runs, finished the season brilliantly and scored over 400 in his last eight innings, including 112 v. S.C.R., 74 v. Wellington, 69 (not out) v. Lancing, 66 v. Incogniti and 60 v. Butterflies. Raynor, a keen captain, the two Wilsons, and Williams, a useful wicket-keeper, did best among the other batsmen. Slow in the field to begin with, the side improved considerably as term went on. Buckham, Heathcote and R. G. Wilson will be available for 1935.

After their successes of the previous year, Wellington disappointed, but there is plenty of young talent for 1935. Only four old colours were left, and satisfactory opening batsmen could not be found to replace D. F. Furlong and G. L. Auret. Unfortunately, Bird alone of the old colours revealed his true form. He kept wicket extremely well and, by constant practice and determination, made himself the most reliable batsman on the side—he headed the averages with 40. The bowling was weak. Wakelin, slow left-hand, received little support, though Eddison and Pedraza showed promise early in the term. After an encouraging start against the Incogniti, there came a really creditable win over the R.A.S.C., but this was the one victory of the summer. Marlborough had the better of a drawn game at Wellington, Haileybury won in an innings at Haileybury, and the Westminster, Charterhouse and Bradfield matches were also lost. Eddison, McCall, Pedraza, Hunter, Roberts and Mc L. Forster, will probably be staying on this year.

Strong in batting and possessing variety in attack, Sherborne had a good side in 1934. Four centuries were hit for them and eight batsmen averaged over 20. Robinson, Clarke, Bell, Wilson and Williams bowled effectively at times. Downside, against whom Robinson and Harris each scored a hundred, Blundell's and Westminster were beaten convincingly and Sherborne took honours in drawn games with Tonbridge and Radley. Eldridge made 104 not out against Dorset Rangers and Sherley-Price, who will captain the side this year, and Bell enabled Robinson to declare against the Old Boys at 381 for six wickets. Morgan revealed great promise behind the wicket and the fielding, except in the slips, reached a high level, the throwing in being specially good. Eldridge and Harris are returning this summer.

St. Edward's maintained the high standard of recent years, and of eighteen matches played, six were won, including all the school fixtures, nine drawn, and three lost. Four players were largely responsible for this. Butterworth, the captain, scored 690 runs and took forty-four wickets; Dixon and Reid, the opening batsmen, four times shared in partnerships of over 100, and Howell headed the bowling averages with forty wickets for just over 14 runs apiece. Maclaurin developed a soundness in defence which should stand him in good stead, and Cooke and Lawson played several attractive innings. Totals of over 200 were frequent; the bowling revealed plenty of variety, and Lawson proved a most efficient wicket-keeper. Dixon, the captain, will have Cooke, Reid, Maclaurin and Holley with him this season.

An outstanding feature of the Bedford season was the batting of Burton, the captain, who scored 735 runs, including two centuries, with an average of 43. He watched the ball closely, possessed a fine defence and, going in first, set an inspiring example. Weakness in bowling prevented the side from winning more matches. No fewer than nine were drawn, only three won, and five lost. Percy and Emmer, medium pace, and Rawlins, slow left, took over thirty wickets each, but they received no support, and a fast bowler was sorely needed. Two of the school matches were won, St. Paul's being beaten by one wicket at West Kensington, and Leys by 155 runs, largely because of a hurricane century by Walker, who hit up 105 in just over an hour; Oundle had the better of a drawn game, and the Dulwich match was lost by three wickets. Bedford's first three batsmen left without a run scored against Dulwich, but thanks to a great innings of 81 by Panton, the wicket-keeper, the total reached 211. Panton, the new captain, will have with him five other old colours, August, Cook, Percy and Emmer, the opening bowlers, and Holladay, a promising wicket-keeper.

As had been anticipated, Blundell's experienced an unsuccessful season, four matches being drawn and the remainder lost. The boys were very young, but began to show improvement towards the end, and time alone baulked them from victory in the last game of the summer against Sidmouth, when the eleven gave an excellent all-round display. Norman was easily the most successful batsman, but Wynne, the captain, could do little right. The bowling honours were evenly divided. Lloyds, this year's captain, kept wicket excellently. Four other old colours—Beach, Walker, Morant, and Insley—remain, with Peirce and B. A. Smith, who got into the eleven as Senior Colts.

The Oundle eleven, up to the average, remained undefeated in school matches, Leys being beaten fairly easily and drawn games played with Uppingham, Stowe and Bedford. The two last-named ended in Oundle's favour, but time robbed Uppingham of victory. Stuart, who will captain the side this season, proved the best Oundle all-rounder for some years. He scored 567 runs and took 39 wickets at a cost of 15 runs each. Maw, Payne and Plummer also batted consistently and Newsholme, the captain, and Maw, both scored centuries against Stowe at the Oval. Ling and Knox played some useful innings. Cowan, fast, Stuart, Newsholme and Llewellyn did best in bowling. Marment kept wicket splendidly. Stuart, Maw, Marment, Ling, Knox and Llewellyn are expected to return.

After a rather shaky start, Stowe became a really good combination. Of the school matches, those with Radley and Bradfield were won, drawn games were played with Westminster and Oundle, and Haileybury, met for the first time, triumphed by two wickets in a fine struggle. The batting was strong. Lucas turned himself into an opening batsman, Buchanan was consistent, Goldschmidt played some brilliant innings, and Langley, with a wide variety of strokes, did exceedingly well in his first year. Mallett, Krabbe, Oliver and Clive all rendered good support. The fielding reached a high standard, with Brown outstanding, but the bowling was weak. Buchanan proved the most reliable and Goldschmidt and Macoun lent valuable assistance, but Lucas suffered from muscular trouble and could not do himself justice. Mallett succeeds him in the captaincy and will have the assistance of Goldschmidt, Krabbe, Buchanan, Clive and Lynch-Staunton.

Canford surpassed any previous achievements. After a poor start—the first four matches were lost—they won seven of the remaining ten fixtures and shared honours with Eton Ramblers and the Hampshire Hogs. The match against Captain Hambro's eleven was lost in the last over of the day after the school had declared. Unusually strong in batting, Canford declared against Victoria College, Jersey, at 224 for four and scored over 300 runs against Hampshire Hogs and the Old Boys. Milman captained them admirably and kept wicket skilfully all through; Whitwell and Yeomans, the opening pair, had much to do with the successes, and Lovell, Phillips, Whelon, who made a brilliant century against Captain Hambro's eleven, and Verney could be relied upon. Taylor, leg-breaks, took 42 wickets for just over 13 runs apiece, and Yates, fast-medium, Treasurer, left-arm medium, and Thorpe, medium, backed him up finely. The fielding generally was good. Notable victories were gained over M.C.C. by four wickets and Free Foresters by eight wickets, the school scoring 224 for two in the latter match. With Phillips (captain), Yeomans, Whelon, Thorp and Taylor staying on, the outlook is very promising.

For the third consecutive summer Cranleigh had seven old colours left, and they developed into one of the most powerful elevens ever to represent the school. They lost only to the Masters and a useful Incogniti team in the last match of term. After putting up a grand struggle at Highgate, where they have not won for many years, they gained convincing victories over Epsom (by seven wickets) Christ's Hospital (by eight wickets) and Mill Hill (by ten wickets). Cranleigh's chief strength lay in bowling. Foot and Loates, who took 50 and 45 wickets respectively, proved a formidable combination, and Reynolds, left-hand, bowled well when called on. The batting did not attain to the same heights, but Cox, the captain, scoring two centuries, showed great promise, and no fewer than eight of his colleagues played innings of over 50. The fielding was for the most part, sound, and Cox captained the team admirably. Black, MacRobert, Shelley and Jeans stay on for this year.

Though only two matches were won outright, Merchant Taylors' second season at Sandy Lodge was, in many ways, more satisfactory than the first. While they lost to Christ's Hospital and Berkhamsted, the school claimed honours in most of the drawn games. Most of the credit for this must go to Barnes and Camp, who rarely failed to put up a useful stand for the opening partnership; Harrison, Gibbon and Balkwill made some valuable scores, but the rest of the batting was a little disappointing. Barnes, who will captain the side this year, hit up 156 not out against the Stoics in just over two hours and a quarter, and carried off the bowling honours. Balkwill and Harrison also remain, in addition to several others who played occasionally.

With seven old colours Mill Hill met with less success than anticipated. Murray-Wood carried off the batting honours although Young and Newman were a reliable opening pair. Harris did best among the bowlers, and Shooter, fast-medium right, and Murray-Wood, leg-breaks and googlies bowled well on occasion. Gotch, Jones and Downing proved useful changes. The first school match—against St. Paul's—was lost, but centuries by Newman and Murray-Wood brought an easy win over Highgate. Thanks to the bowling of Shooter, the School beat Dulwich, and defeats by Felsted, Cranleigh and Leys brought a rather disappointing season to a close. Murray-Wood will captain the side this year and Gotch, Young and Dean are again available.

Felsted, a well-balanced team, possessed two really good all-rounders in Matthews, the captain, and Bullough, but the former did not reproduce his magnificent form of the previous year when he headed both batting and bowling averages. Gardner, Baylis, and Ward all made runs and Sugden and Ward strengthened the bowling. Chatfield-Clarke, a reliable batsman, showed distinct promise behind the wicket. They beat Mill Hill by five wickets, lost to Leys by 90 runs, and owing to rain had little more than two hours' play against St. Paul's. Matthews, will captain the side for the second season, and will have the assistance of Chatfield-Clarke, Bullough, Baylis, Jaggard, Ward, Sugden, and Bawden.

From a disastrous start Leys, never really recovered, the early matches, with the exception of that against University College School, who were beaten easily, resulting in overwhelming defeats. Then under Leigh's captaincy the eleven began to take shape. They beat Felsted and Mill Hill, but lost the last match of the term to Bedford. Jordan, Lauder and Kelshall were the most reliable batsmen and Park the one really successful bowler, his leg-breaks bringing him a deserved reward of 40 wickets. The fielding showed improvement, Hudson and Leigh being conspicuous, while Farrington was safe behind the wicket. Lauder, Kelshall, West, Myers and Hudson are expected back this summer.

Following three successful seasons, Sedbergh's record—two matches won, seven lost, and two drawn—make rather dismal reading. The side, however, was young and inexperienced, and had there been even one seasoned batsman, the results might have been far different. Many scored their twenties and thirties, but no one amply took the place of Mitchell-Innes. For the first time for some years Sedbergh, were without a left-hand bowler. The lack of real pace, though Learmonth, Grieve, Cockcroft, and Turnbull worked hard, was serious. The ground fielding and catching reached a very high standard, W. A. Turnbull, the captain, setting a fine example behind the stumps. The team achieved a good performance in defeating Stonyhurst, but the other school matches—Rossall and Ampleforth—were lost. The nucleus of an eleven remains for this year.

Stonyhurst played seventeen matches, of which eight were drawn, five lost and only four won. Uncertain batting accounted mainly for this rather disappointing record. O'Brien and Moran played some very good innings, St. Lawrence was always sound and Kelly and Weidner at times showed good form. Moran, unfortunately, was away for nearly half the matches. Todd was easily the best bowler. The School beat Rossall by five wickets, but Sedbergh won by the same margin. The Giggleswick match was drawn owing to rain. Weidner (captain) St. Lawrence, and Edridge are available this summer.

Winning every school match, Ampleforth fared exceptionally well. When Waddilove—the best all-rounder—did not come off, others made sufficient runs to win the matches or to avoid defeat more than four times. The strength of the side lay in the bowling. Wells, slow left, and Waddilove, medium-paced right, formed an effective attack, and were ably backed up by Dalglish, with Walter and Gillow as additional changes. Walter, Munro, Wells and Dalglish are available, so the attack should again be strong.

Though an epidemic of measles spoiled the season, causing the cancellation of two school matches, St. Peter's, York, were well up to the standard of 1933. Yardley, the captain, was once more a tower of strength and, in addition to scoring nearly 600 runs and taking thirty-one wickets for 12 runs apiece, he fielded brilliantly at cover-point. His choice for the Rest v. Lord's Schools was more than justified, and he made a century against the Army—a feat never before achieved by a schoolboy. Dodds, thirty-five wickets, and Mackintosh, a valuable slow bowler, who came out with a batting average of over 50, bore the burden of the attack. Newman should have six old colours under him this year.

Giggleswick enjoyed a very successful season. They won six matches, drew three, and lost only two—one, to St. Peter's, York, by 10 runs, and the other by five runs. Convincing wins were gained over St. Bees, Leeds, Skipton G.S., the Craven Gentlemen and a strong scratch eleven which included Wilfred Rhodes. Gallagher, the captain, and Abbs were outstanding all-round cricketers, the former heading the batting averages and taking forty-six wickets for 12.22 runs each. Abbs headed the bowling with forty-one wickets for just over 11½ runs apiece. Six of the eleven are staying on.

A definite improvement occurred in St. Bees cricket. Some remarkably good performances were put up against the club sides, although the school collapsed against Giggleswick. Boucher captained the side well and headed the batting and bowling averages; Kempston scored a century and Graham, Gowen, Joyce and Henderson all did well. Akam, who took nearly fifty wickets, rendered Boucher great assistance. Graham succeeds Boucher in the captaincy, and, with ten of the eleven available, the standard should be maintained this summer.

After a poor start, King's, Canterbury, finished with flying colours. Of the first six matches, they lost four and drew two, but then, in turn, beat Sutton Valence, Eastbourne, St. Edmund's and Dover, and drew with Merchant Taylors. The best match of the term was at Eastbourne. Eastbourne declared at 276 for eight and left King's a little over two and a half hours to get the runs which, thanks to a fine innings by Jervis, they succeeded in doing. With five old colours, the school has every reason to look forward to an equally successful season.

After losing four of their first five matches, Brighton, thanks mainly to the all-round form of Paterson, wound up with six wins against seven defeats and one draw. Time alone prevented them losing to Dulwich. They engaged in many exciting finishes, overcoming Lancing and Repton Pilgrims each by one run, and going down by a similar margin before the Dolphins and Old Brightonians. Christ's Hospital also gained a narrow victory by 13 runs. Paterson, sound and reliable batsman and medium paced bowler with an in-swing, headed both sets of averages, scoring two centuries, and Rea, the captain, and Hollebone, who each hit a hundred, rendered splendid assistance in both departments. Keen, Buckley, Habley, Simmonds, Thompson and Sharpe are expected to be in the team again.

St. Edmund's, Canterbury, had an indifferent season, winning only one of their five school matches and losing the other four. They did better against the Clubs, winning four and losing four matches with two unfinished. The main fault lay in the batting, which proved very inconsistent. Hickman alone averaged 20, and he had seven "not outs" to help him. A feature of the season was the bowling of Armstrong, who took 43 wickets for just over 14 runs each. Armstrong will captain the eleven this summer and will have the assistance of Screeton and Riley, old colours.

St. Lawrence experienced their best summer for many years, winning eight of the eleven matches played, and drawing the other three. A great deal of this success was due to Calvert's batting and captaincy and also to the bowling of Beney. Calvert, who afterwards played with success for Buckinghamshire, proved a sound opening batsman, and a quick scorer with a variety of strokes. Beney, with an easy run up to the wicket, bowled at a good pace and occasionally turned sharply from the off. Colley, Sharpe and Jones were all useful bowlers, and the batting was reliable all through, Pleydell being very consistent and Sharpe, Cooper, and Colley playing many good innings. In an excellent fielding side, Monk showed efficiency as wicket-keeper. Monk, Sharpe, Colley, Jones, and Gilbert are returning.

Eastbourne, who won five, lost five, and drew three matches, proved stronger in batting than in bowling. King's, Canterbury, beat them in fine style following a declaration by Eastbourne. The School received heavy defeat, by over 200 runs, at Oxford from St. Edwards, but, thanks to a fine innings of 78 by Harris, they decisively overcame Christ's Hospital, and drew with Lancing. Eastbourne with their last man in requiring seven runs to win. Good victories were obtained over Eastbourne Club, Blue Mantles, Stragglers of Asia, and Eclectics. Hepburn and Folker generally gave the side a sound start, and Dickson, Harris, Jackson, Craib, and Wilson could all make runs, Dickson, who will captain the side this year being specially reliable. Tothill, Philcox, Loder and Craib accomplished most among the bowlers. Dickson will have with him all last year's eleven with the exception of Hepburn and Folker, who have gone up to Cambridge, and Loder.

Christ's Hospital, thanks to all-round team-work, and not, as in the previous season, to a few individuals, showed marked improvement. The main features were the consistent batting of McRae and Davis and the steady bowling of Lucey, but the team never really broke down, and Perry, Henderson, Edward, and Lucey, all rendered useful service. The catching was fairly good but the weakness, as in former years lay in the ground fielding. Lucey and Thompson of the old colours remain.

Dover experienced a poor season, losing eight matches, drawing three and winning four. They suffered defeat in four of the first five games, but showed considerable improvement towards the middle of term when they won three successive school fixtures. The batting was never consistent and the bowlers lacked support in the field. Parsons, who took six wickets cheaply against Coutts Bank, will captain the side this summer. Barrett also remains.

Beaumont's eleven of 1934 was the strongest for some years. Of twelve matches, they won six and lost only one, while of the five drawn games, three went definitely in the school's favour. For the second year in succession, the side did not lose a school match. Decisive victories were gained over Oratory at Lord's, Leatherhead, Imperial Service College, and K.C.S., Wimbledon. The captain, J. K. Cantopher and Dewar, carried off the batting honours, the former making 100 against the Imperial Service College and 124 (not out) against Leatherhead, and Dewar 100 (not out) against the Old Boys. McNiven played several good innings and Magoris, Pritchard, and Wolf more than once showed up prominently with the bat. P. G. Cantopher for the third consecutive year was the mainstay of the bowling, taking 52 wickets for just over 13 runs apiece. Hetreed and Whittingham gave him useful assistance. McNiven, who opened the innings, and Seward, a safe wicket-keeper, are the only old colours left.

After a poor start, Oratory School had quite a fair season, winning seven, losing nine, and drawing one of their seventeen matches. At the end of May, the ground record was broken with a total of 325 for nine wickets against War Office Officers, and two days later the school went even better with 361 for nine wickets against Douai. The annual match at Lord's resulted in a victory for Beaumont after a well-contested game. K. N. Percy, the outstanding player on the side, could not play in all the matches. He bowled quite fast and set a fine example in the field. His brother, B. Percy, bowled slow spinners and took 52 wickets. This will be his fourth year in the eleven, and Botting, the wicket-keeper, Warren-Codrington, Pettit, and Coulston also remain.

With seven matches won, three drawn in their favour, and only four lost, Douai had every reason to look back with satisfaction. Of the five schools met, Oratory alone beat them. Leighton Park, Emanuel, and Reading were defeated and Beaumont drew when a victory might well have been forced. Pooley, the captain, set a splendid example, especially as he took on the responsibility of opening the innings, and Norton proved an excellent partner. Long, with a free and polished style, was the most reliable bat on the side, but Smith, whose stroke-play left little room for criticism, hardly realised expectations. Long, Pooley and Smith bore the burden of the attack, Smith taking 28 wickets for 10 runs apiece, Pooley 30 for just over 13, and Long 47 for slightly less than 14. Long accomplished the best performance of the season, making 52 (top score) against the Romany and taking nine wickets for 49. Ryan conceded few byes, but the catching of the side was deplorable. O'Brien will be captain this year and McNair is also returning.

Some improvement occurred in the University College School eleven, but they suffered greatly from youth and inexperience. They could not find a bowler of any pace, and the responsibility of making runs rested on one or two batsmen. Wreford, the captain, who headed the batting averages, and Campbell, who kept wicket well throughout the season, were the best players; Goldstein did sound work as an opening batsman, and the play of the three all-rounders, Keyworth, Beverly and Rees, suggested they will do well this season. Wreford will again captain the side and as Drury, in addition to all the above is again available, U. C. S. should make further headway.

Winning three and drawing three of their eight school matches, Whitgift had a fair season. Henley, who scored an excellent century against a strong Croydon side, and Lambert were the most successful batsmen and Bangs, a colt who came into the side late in the term, fully warranted his choice both as batsman and bowler. Bowes and Christophers divided the bowling honours and Voller met with some success with his slows. Merrett, Lambert, Christophers, Vennings and Voller remain for this year.

An epidemic of measles which caused the cancellation of the Sedbergh and Giggleswick matches, and created large gaps in the team spoiled the 1934 season for Durham. Grey, who bowled leg-breaks and googlies, was the mainstay of the side, coming out top of both batting and bowling averages. Scott will captain the side this year and Bailey and Ayten, also stay on.

Highgate failed completely to fulfil the hopes that had been cherished regarding 1934. With five old colours and plenty of promising material, they should have done well, but poor fielding, disregard of length in bowling, and unintelligent placing of the field ruined any chance of success. The school drew an exciting game with Cranleigh, who finished needing eight runs to win with one wicket to fall; luckily saved the match against Aldenham; suffered a decisive defeat from Mill Hill, and gained a solitary victory over King's, Canterbury. Of individuals, Woodward kept wicket well and Monk and Tucker did capable work, but some of the seven old colours who remain will need to show considerable improvement if they are to retain their places.

With only one colour left, King's College School had to build up a new side. They suffered heavy defeats from Leatherhead, Beaumont, and Harrow second eleven, while Berkhamsted and City of London, each triumphed by six runs, but they beat King's, Canterbury, Epsom and University College School. The worries of captaincy probably accounted for Young failing to maintain his form of 1933, but nevertheless, he was the mainstay of the side. Dickinson proved the surprise of the season. Although only just 15, he stood second to Young in the batting averages and kept wicket excellently, stumping eleven men and catching nine. Young and Kendle generally shared the attack, but Mackie, slow leg-breaks, headed the bowling averages. It is probable that Young (again captain), Stokes, S. G. Wise, Ryves, Mackie, London, Dickinson, Dann and D. A. Wise will be available this summer.

Of a very young Imperial Service College eleven, Laing, a hard hitter, useful bowler and good field, was the outstanding player. Only one match was won, but the side put up good fights against M.C.C. and Incogniti.

Leatherhead, who won nine matches, lost three, and drew three, produced one of their best sides for a long time. With six old colours, under the captaincy of Speak, who set a splendid example with both bat and ball, the team soon settled down, despite an early set-back from the Imperial Service College. J. L. C. Jones, in taking 59 wickets with his leg-breaks for 10.24 runs each, established a school record. Speak obtained 28 wickets for less than 12 runs apiece and, scoring 600 runs, including a big innings of 175 against K.C.S., Wimbledon, proved a capable all-rounder. Chalmers, the wicket-keeper, will be captain in 1935, and he will have the help of J. L. C. Jones, Senst, Saunders, and M. C. Jones.

Aldenham enjoyed much success, winning seven matches, drawing five, and losing three—to Keble (Oxford), Pembroke (Cambridge) and Mill Hill School. Hunt, Warwick, Barrell, Blake and Davies all made runs consistently. The bowling if not deadly, was steady, Collier, Hunt and Easby taking most of the wickets. Hunt, a fine all-round cricketer, captained the side admirably. The fielding appeared to be above the average and a few lapses did not prove expensive. Davies at times gave brilliant displays behind the stumps.

Winning eight matches and losing only two, Berkhamsted, who were unusually strong in batting, could look back with satisfaction upon their doings. They registered totals of over 300 against St. Lawrence and M.C.C., whom they defeated for the first time. Campbell, Pennington—a very promising all-rounder—and Woodford all returned aggregates of over 500, but the bowlers, despite sound and sometimes brilliant fielding, did not fulfil expectations. In 1935 Pennington, Salter, Owens, Dix and Bell will again be available.

An exceptionally young side, Bishop's Stortford, in winning three, losing five and drawing three matches, could consider their performances satisfactory. The batting lacked consistency, but Sharp and A. S. Tee played some good innings. There was, however, strength in the bowling, with Dawson, the captain, fast-medium, J. K. Tee, a slow spinner, and Mogford doing the best work. A. S. Tee will captain the side this year, with Sharp, Bywaters, Smith, Stirling, Adams and Clark to assist him.

That Bromsgrove showed great improvement on recent years was to a large extent due to the slow spin-bowling of Jones, who received splendid help from D. A. and C. D. E. Turner. Jones took 51 wickets for less than eleven runs apiece. The batting, however, proved unreliable, and let the team down badly when they had established a good position against St. Edward's. The other five school matches were won. In 1935 the captain will be D. A. Turner and, with seven of last year's side left, including the bowlers, he should command a strong team.

City of London won five matches, lost six and established a superiority in the three drawn games. Bolton, the mainstay of the batting, possessed a variety of strokes and a sound defence. Landy, who varied his pace and run-up to the wicket, created a post-war record for the school by taking fifty-four wickets in fourteen matches.

The season at Cranbrook was remarkable chiefly for the brilliance of Clark's batting. On four occasions only did he fail to reach 50, and he surpassed W. E. W. Jacob's school record of the previous year by 27 runs. He failed for the Young Amateurs at Lord's, but later in the month played a good innings for Kent Second XI. Kitchen, in addition to hitting one century, proved the best fast bowler the school has produced since J. H. Johnston in 1923. Prosser succeeds Clark in the captaincy.

Rydal were too young and inexperienced, but Burton, Howarth, Littler and Wooller should all develop into class batsmen. Of the bowlers, Costain, slow, usually kept a length and Parker, fast-medium, often did well, but he received little help from the slips. The fielding, on the whole, was good, Downes, the captain, keeping wicket admirably. As the whole team, with the exception of Butterworth, are staying on, the outlook for this year is excellent.

Difficulty in filling the vacancies left from the previous year prevented St. Edmund's, Ware, from really settling down, especially in batting. Birch, who headed the averages, showed great improvement and Cussen and Shepherd did well, but Hayward failed to recover from a run of bad luck early on. In bowling, Stanley, the captain, who took 43 wickets for less than 13 runs apiece, and D. Bryan-Gower did practically all the work. Stanley will captain the side this year, and with Birch, Cussen, Shepherd, and Hayward available, the prospects are bright.

Taunton could point to only a moderate record, but several of the eleven should make good cricketers this year. The Blundell's match could not be played. Wild, the captain an outstanding personality, scored over 600 runs and took 40 wickets with in-swingers, and Nicholson, a left-arm googly bowler, headed the bowling figures, taking 34 wickets for less than 15 runs apiece. Strivens, leg-breaks, played in the last few matches. Seven of the eleven are staying on.

Strong in batting but lacking variety in bowling, Worksop experienced a first-rate season. Rennie, who will probably captain them this year, headed the batting averages and put together centuries against Eton Ramblers and Yorkshire Gentlemen, and Lousada, the captain, played a fine innings of 106 against the Lincolnshire Gentlemen. Martyn and Walton each took over 40 wickets at a cost of 17 runs apiece. The most notable performance of the summer was an innings victory over Yorkshire Gentlemen, and the team also offered strong opposition to Eton Ramblers and Sir Julien Cahn's eleven. Eight of the eleven, including Rennie, Martyn and Walton, will again be available.

With eight old colours and most of the second eleven to call upon, Wellingborough anticipated a fair measure of success, but though they won the two school matches - with Trent and Worksop - the side, largely because of indifferent fielding, failed to do itself justice. Garne, the captain, played a few brilliant innings, and great improvement was shown by Turnbull, a useful all-rounder, but too often the early batsmen lost their wickets to careless strokes. Wells was the best member of an attack that clearly lacked variety. The team showed up best in drawn games with M.C.C. and Old Wellingburians. Vials, Turnbull and Cherrington are expected to return.

Wrekin put up some commendable performances against strong club sides, but the form in school matches disappointed, the games with Bromsgrove and Ellesmere being lost by narrow margins, and that with Denstone drawn. Moore, the captain, and Wood were the most successful batsmen, and Milne improved more than anyone, he and Wild generally opening the innings with a useful partnership. Haynes, Milnes and Greenhow bowled consistently, but the attack never became really formidable. In a smart fielding side, Dove, at cover, proved positively brilliant. Crabtree, Dove, Milnes, Brown, Du Pre, Rooke, and possibly Wild will be available this summer.

Although victorious over King Edward's, Sheffield, Wakefield G.S., Pocklington and Lancaster, Leeds Grammar School scarcely did as well as had been expected. Shepherd again batted brilliantly, including three centuries in an aggregate of 600 and averaging 70, but no one gave him much support, and the bowling, which depended largely on Smith and Capes, proved only moderately effective. Shepherd will once more captain the team and is likely to have at his command old colours in Atkinson, Capes, Warburton, a very promising young batsman and reliable wicket-keeper, Webster, Briggs, Wormald and Bolton.

Weakness in fielding was the main cause of Trent winning only two matches in the term, although two school games brought defeats by extremely narrow margins. Snell and Clark carried off the honours in a rather moderate batting side. Pallett and Clare, the chief bowlers, worked tremendously hard but, with the exception of Obolensky, the wicket-keeper, they received poor support. Clark, who revealed promise as a batsman, is the one full colour remaining.

Altogether Edinburgh Academy experienced an interesting season. The fielding at times reached a very high standard, notably against Merchiston and M.C.C., and another feature was the medium-paced bowling of the captain, J. A. Stevenson, who took over 50 wickets. In school matches, the Academy defeated Loretto, Merchiston, and George Watson's and lost to Fettes and Glenalmond after very close finishes.

Glenalmond, whose form against club teams once or twice proved unsatisfactory, showed to advantage in school matches after a bad start. They registered useful scores against George Watson's, whom they defeated, and in a drawn game with Fettes. The Loretto match had to be put off owing to rain, but Edinburgh Academy were beaten by one wicket in a desperate finish and Merchiston by 30 runs. Mudie, an admirable captain, Keiller and Gregoire were the mainstays of the batting, and Gregoire, who bowled consistently throughout the season, received plenty of help in the later matches. Milne, who kept wicket splendidly, will captain the eleven this year, and other old colours who will figure under him are Gregoire, Anderson, McDowall, Williams, and possibly Ferguson.

Merchiston failed to do themselves justice. The batting often lacked initiative and the bowling, though steady, suffered from the loss of Drummond, with a strained knee, early in the season. Gummer and Herd, upon whom most reliance depended, accomplished some useful performances. Gummer, the mainstay of the batting, was overworked, and did not touch his previous season's form until late in the term, but Webster and Mathers, both hard hitters, frequently came to the rescue. The fielding left little to be desired and Harper, who will captain the eleven this year, proved himself a first-class wicket-keeper. Herd, Webster, and promising cricketers in Yellowlees, Mathers, and Farnie (half colours) will be returning.

The following are the destinations of some of the members of last year's school elevens:—

WINCHESTER v. ETON.

Played at WINCHESTER, Friday, Saturday, June 29, 30.—For the third successive year, the match was drawn. Winchester batted pluckily on a pitch that gave bowlers increasing help. Foster pulled with effect, and Holme, Faber and Potts made runs skilfully from varied bowling. Bryan, taking an examination, did not bat on Friday, but joined the attack when Eton replied on turf that had fully recovered. Dixon, once let off, scored freely by strokes in front of the wicket. He and Magill made 56 for the opening stand, and Eton finished the day only 77 behind with eight wickets intact. On Saturday, thanks largely to the medium pace bowling of Wilson, the innings closed for the addition of 109, Eton thus leading by 32. Davies-Scourfield driving powerfully, Winchester declared and set their opponents 145 to get in forty-five minutes, but interest evaporated long before that.

ETON v. HARROW.

Played at LORD'S, Friday, Saturday, July 13, 14.—Although compelling Harrow to follow-on against arrears of 137, Eton found the game go against them and for the third year in succession the big schools match was drawn. Harrow, giving a much improved display in their second innings, thanks largely to a capital innings by Pawle, were able to declare with three men out for 243 and then dismissed as many of their opponents for 47.

By winning the toss, Eton gained a big advantage, but in putting together a total of 306 they owed much to good fortune in the way of missed catches. Boyd, the captain, who scored a hundred out of 176 enjoyed no fewer than three escapes, the first when he had made 42. These errors naturally detracted from the merit of his innings and he showed somewhat cramped style during a stay of three hours and a quarter. His best stroke was the drive, which brought him most of his nine 4's.

Following some slow cricket Dixon helped his captain put on 64 and then the brightest batting was shown by Villiers. After losing Boyd, fourth out at 176, Villiers drove with such vigour and brilliance that with eleven 4's he hit up 66 out of 106 in seventy minutes before falling to a grand catch at deep mid-on. Much of the Eton batting was over careful and after Villiers left the remaining five wickets fell for 69, of which Rees-Davies, the last man, and J. P. Mann put on 26.

Eton took nearly five hours and a quarter over their 306 runs against bowlers of whom only Duveen, slow left-arm with a natural break-back, presented real difficulty. Duveen was the outstanding bowler in the 1933 match.

Carris and Pelham gave Harrow a good start by scoring 51 together in an hour before the drawing of stumps on Friday, but rain during the night, if doing little more than lessen the pace of the pitch, had a moral effect upon the batsmen next day. The anticipation of difficulties that did not exist caused weak batting which, coupled with faulty judgment in running, resulted in the fall of all ten wickets in the course of two hours and forty minutes for 118 runs.

J. P. Mann, whose slow leg-breaks received rather unwarranted respect, did most damage, and he came out with an analysis of five wickets for 66 runs, but he sent down so many loose deliveries that he might have suffered severe punishment.

The Harrow opening pair, naturally showing care when going in a second time, took an hour to obtain 38 runs, but although Carris remained quiet—his 39 occupied him two hours and twenty minutes—Joynson hit up 45, including seven 4's, out of 70 realised by the second wicket.

With three men out for 113 came the finest batting of the match, Pawle and Stogdon putting on 130 in eighty minutes. Then Pawle, to the surprise of everybody, declared when needing only seven runs for his hundred—a useless personal sacrifice in view of the fact that only fifty minutes remained in which Eton might get 107 for victory or be dismissed.

Pawle in his fine innings made a splendid effort. Thanks to perfect timing he drove with power and pulled and hit to leg with effect. He treated all the bowling alike and with a 6 and fourteen 4's scored his 93 out of 135 in ninety-five minutes. Two awkward chances in the long field were small blemishes in a glorious piece of batting.

Eton at first appeared likely to make an effort to accomplish their task, but after the loss of two batsmen for 13, they turned quiet and the possibility of a definite result disappeared.

Of the Harrow eleven all but Tindall, Pulbrook, Collins and Heaton played in the previous year. Eton included only Boyd, Dixon, Villiers and Pilkington who had the experience; among their new players were two sons of F. T. Mann, the former Middlesex captain.

Of the 105 matches played, Eton have won 42, Harrow 35, and 28 have been drawn. This is the generally published record, but Harrow men object very strongly to the game in 1805 being treated as a regular contest between the two schools, contending that it is no more correct to count that than the fixture in 1857 which has been rejected.

The one-day matches between the two schools during the War are not reckoned as belonging to the regular series.

Thirty-two three-figure innings have now been played in matches between the two schools, as follows :—

173 D. C. Boles	(in 1904), Eton	112 A. W. Allen	(in 1931), Eton

In making his 183 Boles set up a new record for the match, beating the 152 obtained in 1841 by Emmius Bayley, afterwards the Rev. Sir John Robert Laurie. M. C. Bird in 1907, by scoring 100 not out and 131, performed a feat without precedent in the match. In 1932, N. S. Hotchkiss, who played a three-figure innings in the previous year's match, scored 109 and 96, following these scores in 1933 with 88 and 12.

CLIFTON v. TONBRIDGE.

Played at Lord's, Monday, Tuesday, July 30, 31.—Two splendid innings and clever lob bowling by D. A. S. Day went a long way towards giving Tonbridge a handsome victory over Clifton by 173 runs. With the exception of Day, Salmon and Weston, the batting of both sides proved disappointing, while the Clifton fielding fell a good deal below the School's usual high standard. Day gave an excellent display of all-round hitting for an hour and a half and scored 71 without offering anything like a chance. Salmon, on the other hand, should have been out when 43 and again when 58, but he brought off some good on-drives during a stay of just over two hours. Clifton made a bad start, losing half their wickets for 89, but Weston stayed off a collapse and at the end of the day his side stood 91 behind with four wickets in hand. This they reduced to 46 next morning and did so well that they got down four Tonbridge wickets for 37. Weston hit sixteen 4's while scoring 121 out of 161 in two hours. Mistakes in the field proved very costly to Clifton. Day gave a chance of stumping when 13 and he should have been caught a run later. He made such good use of his escapes that, hitting nineteen 4's, he went on to score 130 out of 205. Clifton, set 268 to win in three and a quarter hours, concentrated on playing for safety, but after an opening partnership for 41 they broke down badly.

RUGBY v. MARLBOROUGH.

Played at LORD'S, Wednesday, Thursday, August 1, 2.—Rugby always looked the stronger side and the match ended before lunch on the second day in a win for them by nine wickets. M. M. Walford, the captain, played a big part in his side's easy victory. He dismissed nine batsmen for less than eight runs apiece with his left-arm slow; made the highest score of the match and set a fine example in the field. Marlborough collapsed badly at the start, the only batsman to play the good bowling with confidence being Hewan, the captain, who in forty minutes hit up 48 out of 57. Rugby, too, fared badly, losing seven wickets before taking the lead, but thanks to Walford, who scored 70 out of 87 in an hour, including nine 4's, they gained an advantage of 74. The Marlborough batting broke down in sensational fashion on Thursday. Five men were out before the arrears were cleared off and with the last three wickets all falling at the same total Rugby needed but 15 to win.

CHELTENHAM v. HAILEYBURY.

Played at LORD'S, Friday, Saturday, August 3, 4.—Haileybury, regarded as the strongest School side of the year, proved much too good for Cheltenham and won by eight wickets. They received something of a shock when, sent in to bat, they lost seven wickets before lunch for 125 runs. Afterwards, however, they recovered well and never lost their grip on the game. Bringing the ball back sharply from the off, Foster, a fast medium bowler, did so well at the start that he sent back three men in four overs for four runs. P. K. Mayhew hit extremely hard and in just over half an hour scored 59 out of 64, including eleven 4's. Nine men were out for 162, but Annison and Gale, in a spirited last wicket stand, put on 49. P. K. Mayhew followed up his fine driving with some capital bowling, and in one spell of an hour and forty minutes he sent down seventeen overs for 15 runs and four wickets. Half the Cheltenham side were out for 34 and with nobody showing any real resistance they had to follow on 134 behind. They gave a much better display at their second attempt, but Haileybury were set only 73 to win. De Castle hit eight 4's while scoring fifty in an hour.

LORD'S SCHOOLS v. THE REST.

Played at LORD'S, Monday, Tuesday, August 6, 7.—Varying fortune, free batting and clever bowling, supported by keen fielding, kept a drawn game full of interest and enjoyment until the very end of extra time. The Rest had not known defeat in this game since 1923, and, perhaps for this reason, they did not seem to regard as impossible their task of getting 311 runs required for victory in three hours on a worn pitch. The loss of two wickets for 16 runs failed to check their enthusiasm, but half the side were out for 96 before confidence had reward in a stand for 69 by Butterworth and Waddilove. When Butterworth was stumped after showing capital hitting powers all round the wicket for an hour and a quarter the prospect favoured Lord's Schools but Ballance followed up some admirable bowling by plucky batting which saved his side. Slow left-hand with skill in fighting the ball he dismissed three men in the course of seven deliveries early in his first turn and he came out with a record of nine wickets for 116 runs in the match. Pawle played the highest and best innings. Going in when Nuttall and Boyd had fallen for 23 runs, Pawle scored his 92 in two hours. He drove with plenty of strength both to the off and the on, his hits including a 6 and ten 4's. Hayles, another free scorer, had seven 4's among his well-timed strokes, and on the second day his stand with Mayhew produced 53 runs in twenty minutes. Bell used his height to get to the pitch of the ball and his partnership with Yardley—75 in seventy minutes—was the best for The Rest.

THE ARMY v. THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Played at LORD's, Wednesday, Thursday, August 8, 9.—In another good sporting match The Army tried to get 200 runs in ninety minutes despite poor light which became so bad that the umpires pulled up stumps at twenty past six. Yardley stood out as the great batsman of the game. He scored 180 runs and his century on the first day showed him sound in judging the ball to punish, powerful in the drive besides clever in hitting to leg in the genuine sweeping style, seldom seen in these days. Seventh out at 265 Yardley held his own for three hours and a half; he hit thirteen 4's. Equally good in the second innings Yardley received more consistent help, Nuttall, Bell and Pawle getting their runs well. Mayhew gave the most dashing display for The Schools, his 56 in forty-five minutes being quite brilliant after Walford had helped Yardley put on 89 in fifty-five minutes. When The Army lost two wickets for 21 runs Hudson and Packe set themselves to master the bowling. Their partnership realised 119, Hudson, very sure on the leg-side, hitting a dozen 4's in a fine innings. Packe, apart from a mistimed drive, did nothing wrong during two hours and thirty-five minutes; his thirteen 4's included some splendid on-drives and leg-hits. Hughes got his 51 runs at one a minute. Hudson and Hamilton began the final stage with 70 runs in half an hour, and, despite the difficulty in seeing the ball Hudson kept up his free form until the enforced abandonment of the struggle for quick runs. Stephenson did the best bowling with his rather fast swerving deliveries.
