SCHOOLS CRICKET IN 1988

Eight of the players selected for the English Schools Under-19 side in 1987 were available again in 1988, owing to younger players having been selected in place of those involved in the 1987 International Youth Tournament in Ireland. Of the internationals, only that against Irish Schools resulted in an outright win, although those against Welsh Schools and Scottish CU Colts might well have been won had the middle-order batting been positive enough to allow earlier declarations.

Including the two matches at Lord's, played under the appellation of MCC Schools, sixteen players appeared for the senior Schools side. They were: N. V. Knight (captain), M. C. J. Ball, N. A. Derbyshire, B. C. A. Ellison, D. A. Graham, N. J. Gregory, A. Habib, D. W. Headley, I. J. Houseman, M. C. Illott, M. J. Kellaway, J. J. Lewis, M. Patel, P. J. Rendall, N. Shahid and R. W. Sladdin. Their schools may be found in the scorecards of matches played at the MCC Festival, Oxford. Players eligible for the Under-17 matches against the Sri Lankan Schools were not considered for the games against Irish Schools and Scottish CU Colts.

The strength of the team lay in its top-order batsmen and spin bowlers, with a major factor in its success being the captaincy of Knight, the winner of the Gray-Nicolls Trophy, who was quietly efficient and astute in his bowling changes. He was also in fine form with the bat, scoring 369 runs in eight innings, and with his opening partner, Lewis, he always provided a positive start. If not quite reaching the heights of the previous season, Graham gave sound support, while Habib showed much flair and promise for the future. Shahid's best batting form eluded him, but his leg-spin always commanded respect and brought him seventeen wickets. He shared the majority of the 66 wickets taken with Ball, the off-spinner, who was the leading wicket-taker with nineteen, bowling an excellent line either over or round the wicket. Another thirteen were shared between two slow left-armers, Sladdin and Patel, although the latter played in only one match, owing to a school tour. With the efficient Kellaway setting an example behind the stumps, the catching and ground fielding were good.

A feature of the year was the number of schools players who appeared in first-class cricket. M. R. Ramprakash, although still eligible, was not considered for English Schools in view of his commitments with Middlesex. Ball played for Gloucestershire, P. C. L. Holloway, who was withdrawn from the MCC Schools Festival to stand by for Warwickshire, later played for the county, and Illott was released from the games against Irish Schools and Scottish CU Colts to make his Championship début for Essex.

Against Welsh Schools at Usk on July 24, 25, English Schools won the toss and elected to bat, as they did in all three home internationals. Well placed at 162 for four, they finally scored only 191 for eight from their 60 overs, the middle order having failed to build on their good start. The Welsh captain, R. D. B. Croft, bowled his off-spin intelligently to take six for 63. In reply, Welsh Schools managed 167 for six, thanks mainly to an innings of 67 from D. L. Hemp. The spinners, Shahid, Ball and Patel, bowled 48 of the 60 overs. England's second innings followed a similar pattern to the first; from 160 for three the required acceleration did not materialise, the declaration was delayed, and Welsh Schools were eventually set 226 in 100 minutes and twenty overs. They lost Hemp for 38, Patel took four wickets in four overs, and the tenth-wicket pair had to survive the last five balls to save the match at 101 for nine. Patel finished with four for 13 and Ball three for 17.

The side then went to Dublin for the first time in four years to play Irish Schools at Leinster CC on August 2, 3. Lewis (40), Knight (73) and Graham (48) again gave the innings substance, taking them towards 235 for five in 55 overs. When Irish Schools replied, Headley took the first two wickets, but the brunt of the bowling was borne by Shahid (four for 46) and Ball. At 129 for nine, Irish Schools were in danger of being asked to follow on, but after five tense overs this was averted and they were dismissed for 155. Led by Knight's 72, English Schools declared after 28 overs at 153 for three, a lead of 233. Following a hostile opening spell from Houseman (three for 32), Irish Schools again lost wickets to Shahid (three for 15) and Ball. Despite a brave 55 in 174 minutes from Dunn, the home side could manage only 104, leaving English Schools winners by 129 runs.

The final game, against Scottish CU Colts, was played at Edgbaston on August 4, 5. Knight (54) and Lewis (36) put on 111 for the first wicket, but apart from Shahid (46) the others made little of the slow left-arm duo of McKnight (two for 48) and Sheridan (five for 49). In reply to England's 197 for nine in 60 overs, the Scottish batsmen fared little better against the slow left-arm bowling of Sladdin (five for 23) and were dismissed for 149 in 59.1 overs. After an opening partnership of 78, Knight 35, Lewis 61, English Schools struggled to 172 for eight before declaring, again unable to cope with Sheridan (five for 41) and McKnight (three for 70). Set 221 to win, Scottish CU Colts were given an ideal start of 95 for the first wicket, but as wickets fell to Headley and Ball (four for 14), they settled for a draw at 141 for eight.

The first tour of England by an Under-17 Schools team saw Sri Lanka play two-day games against two different ESCA XIs, three one-day games and two three-day games against English Schools Under-17. The two-day games at Guildford and Molesey CC were both drawn. The Sri Lankans won the first one-day match, played at Uxbridge, by 123 runs after English Schools had collapsed from 61 for one to 92 all out. However, at Chelmsford the following day the Sri Lankans were dismissed for 161 in reply to England's 220 for four (A. Williams 112 not out, K. Jahangir 53). The deciding match at The Oval was abandoned without a ball bowled. Rain intervened again in the first three-day match, at Taunton, in which the Sri Lankans declared at 305 for seven and finished at 79 for one after English Schools, helped by an unbeaten century from Holloway, had in turn declared at 313 for five. The second three-day match, at Canterbury, was also drawn. The Sri Lankans made 174 from 92 overs (J. C. Hallett five for 35) and had English Schools 36 for four before T. Radford, with an unbeaten half-century, led a recovery to 187. Faring much better second time around, the visitors declared at 303 for six to set a target of 291 at 5 runs an over. A double-century partnership between Radford (107) and R. Warren (99) put them on course, but the later batsmen could not sustain the momentum and English Schools were 247 for six when bad light intervened.

Rain, which spoiled most of the Welsh Schools' international season, did not prevent their being outclassed by the Sri Lankan side at Pontarddulais. That they scored as many as 227 in reply to the Sri Lankans' 320 for two declared was due to a five-hour 112 from the captain, G. D. Lucas, who added 81 for the ninth wicket with G. Isaac. The match ended in a draw, with the Sri Lankans 183 for two in their second innings.

The Under-19 side, captained by the Glamorgan Colt, R. D. B. Croft, drew their matches against Irish Schools and Scotland Under-19, in addition to that against English Schools. Lucas again provided the only major score with 70.

The MCC Schools Festival at Oxford was again fortunate to lose only a small amount of time to the rain, mainly on the second of the four days. It did, however, cause the HMC game to be transferred hastily to the Lincoln College Ground from Magdalen College School.

HMC SOUTHERN SCHOOLS v THE REST

At Lincoln College, July 16, 17. Drawn. A wet wicket on the first day had all the batsmen struggling, with the notable exception of Knight. Not until Ellison came in with The Rest 80 for six was the initiative temporarily wrested from the bowlers. Long, slow left-arm, bowled with great accuracy on a wicket giving some help to take seven for 16. Southern Schools fared little better, and had Knight not been dropped early on, they would have been dismissed very cheaply by some tight seam bowling from Headley, Derbyshire and Ellison. Conditions were easier on the second day. Williams and Timm gave The Rest a sound start, Knight having declared 41 behind, and when Southern Schools were set a target of 200 in 48 overs, Shahid and Ecclestone put on 102 for the first wicket, the latter blossoming after a slow start. The loss of three wickets for 13 runs arrested their progress and with Headley and Ellison giving nothing away, the target was looking unattainable when rain ended play with eleven overs remaining. The wicket-keeping on both sides was sound; the fielding of Knight and Headley outstanding.

ESCA NORTH v ESCA SOUTH

At Keble College, Oxford, July 16, 17. ESCA North won by 4 runs. With only Goldthorp and Irani able to master the left-arm seam-spin combination of Ilott and Patel, the North were restricted to 158 in their 60 overs. Rain limited the South's reply to 37 overs on the first day, with Habib unbeaten on 53, scored in 62 minutes with nine fours. Further rain next morning delayed the start until after lunch, whereupon the South, having declared 21 behind at their overnight score, bowled out the North for 84. The spinners, Ball and Patel, shared the wickets on a helpful pitch. A target of 114 with ample time looked well within the South's grasp until four wickets fell for 1 run and at 66 for eight the balance had swung to the North. However, Ball and Kellaway added 19, and Ilott joined Kellaway to add another 24 before, with nine balls remaining, Houseman bowled Kellaway to bring his side an exciting victory.

Reports from the Schools

Despite the loss of many fixtures to the weather, five batsmen from the schools reviewed here passed 1,000 runs: N. A. Hunt of Nottingham HS (1,108), J. W. S. Porter of Dauntsey's (1,104), T. C. Nicholson of Eastbourne (1,056), S. Smyth of Foyle and Londonderry College (1,026) and N. V. Knight of Felsted (1,013). Porter's runs came in just thirteen innings at an average of 110.40, while Knight averaged 101.30. Four bowlers took 60 wickets or more: R. Cousins of Wellingborough (72), S. M. Aga of Arnold (69), N. Shahid of Ipswich (67) and C. G. Oswald of Warwick (62). Shahid was the leading all-rounder with 937 runs in addition to his 67 wickets, while others of note were A. J. Clarke of Victoria College, Jersey (947 runs, 42 wickets), P. J. Le Cornu from the same school (920 runs, 43 wickets) and P. D. Chrispin of King Edward VI, Southampton (712 runs, 48 wickets). Of the thirteen other bowlers who took 50 wickets, A. G. Webster of Bradford GS scored 618 runs, G. A. H. Awudu of Bedford Modern 599, and B. C. A. Ellison of Rugby 514. The only hat-trick reported was performed by P. McGowan of Brentwood.

At Aldenham, K. Jahangir headed the averages with 508 runs and 49 wickets and went on to play for English Schools Under-17 v Sri Lanka Schools. For Alley's, a young side, J. Papanastasiou (right-arm fast) and A. C. Winter (right-arm fast-medium) played a major part in their four victories, especially those v Highgate and Wilson's. But the batting relied too heavily on the HMC Under-15 player, P. C. Berglund. An encouraging feature in a disappointing season for Allhallows was the promise shown by P. Holland, a fifth former, who opened both the batting and bowling. Ampleforth opened with three wins in April, yet won only once more in the next eleven matches. Under the captaincy of J. R. Elliot, they were a happy side, and in D. H. Churton and W. H. Crichton-Stuart they had two spinners who bowled well in harness together. The absence through injury of R. Booth, a talented wicket-keeper, and the unavailability for academic reasons of another key player were handicaps not easily overcome. It is a matter of concern to learn that the English Schools opening bowler, N. A. Derbyshire, seemingly lacked motivation or commitment during the term, to the extent that the school did not put his name forward for the Oxford trials.

In Arnold's season of rebuilding, S. M. Aga's left-arm spin bowling brought him a school record of 69 wickets, including nine for 61 v Silcoates, and S. Taylor's leg-spin captured 23 wickets, including six for 38 v William Hulme's GS. The captain, A. D. Jones, scored 100 not out v Queen Elizabeth's GS, Wakefield, while B. S. Little had innings of 100 not out v Hutton GS and 107 v Bangor GS. A young Ashville College side did well, beating the XL Club, Mount St Mary's, Giggleswick, Batley GS, Scarborough College, Old Ashvillians, Harrogate GS, Dame Allan's and Queen Elizabeth GS, Wakefield. Their four defeats were at the hands of MCC, Pocklington, Bradford GS and Royal GS, Newcastle.

Another successful season for Ballymena Academy GS culminated in their winning the Ulster Schools Cup and being undefeated on a tour to Edinburgh. The team was built on a nucleus of experienced players under the captaincy of the all-rounder, J. T. Glass. P. S. Rainey (medium) led the attack with 51 wickets, and there was an encouraging return of 35 wickets for the young leg-spinner, C. B. Williams. Glass, Rainey and J. M. Kennedy, the school's most prolific batsman with 677 runs, were selected for Ulster Schools. A young Bancroft's side matured as the season progressed, showing commitment and enthusiasm under the captaincy of A. C. H. Knight and laying a foundation for future seasons. Knight's unbeaten 106 v the Royal Anglian Regiment was a highlight. G. P. Brown bore the brunt of the bowling, opening with genuine fire but suffering from some weak close-catching, R. Patel was an effective stock seamer, and P. Brown developed as an off-spinner, obtaining turn and fighting the ball intelligently. G. J. Maynard was a reliable opening bat but tended to lose his wicket once he looked set.

Bangor GS recovered from a mediocre start to record seven wins, including that v hitherto unbeaten King's Macclesfield. They were hampered by injuries to bowlers N. S. Taylor and R. G. Scott, as well as to the captain, S. C. McKenna, who none the less headed the batting averages. That Barnard Castle enjoyed a much better season than was expected resulted mainly from the consistent bowling of C. M. Fairey and J. G. H. Murphy. The latter also dominated the batting. Bedford, although without any old colours, were unbeaten by schools and had the better of most drawn games. Haileybury were beaten by 111 runs. Sensibly led by M. J. Simms, whose seam bowling improved with every match, the XI was characterised by an unselfish and enthusiastic attitude throughout. The Australian all-rounder, R. E. Sims, lent some welcome aggression to the side's performances.

Bedford Modern School enjoyed wins v Kimbolton, Stamford, Nottingham HS, Royal GS Colchester, Wolverhampton GS and the Gentlemen of Bedfordshire, the last-mentioned by one wicket in the penultimate over. G. A. H. Awudu, a right-hand batsman and fast bowler, virtually beat Stamford single-handed, scoring 109 and taking six for 54. Among other match-winning returns was seven for 37 v Royal GS, Colchester. N. R. Ali backed him well with the new ball and there was good support from M. T. Cavanagh, a leg-spinner, and the captain, G. C. Black (left-arm fast-medium). P. A. Simmonds, one of five batsmen to pass 300 runs, scored 77 in 50 minutes v Nottingham HS and 111 v Gentlemen of Bedfordshire. Beechen Cliff, beaten only in their last match, recorded six victories, the highlight being that by five wickets over a strong Bath CC side, achieving a target of 214. As many as 23 players appeared for the XI, which D. J. Adams led by example, ensuring that enjoyment remained a priority. The bowling honours were again shared by the spinners, S. M. Priscott (slow left-arm) and J. D. Colbourne (leg-spin).

Berkhamsted began promisingly with two draws and a win v Brentwood, only to suffer three successive defeats and endure three more draws before beating a strong Old Boys side and, in their last match, Kimbolton. A failure to score runs fast enough, and the bowlers' inability to contain consistently, were weaknesses in a season that nevertheless had its moments. A record of no wins does scant justice to an inexperienced Bishop's Stortford XI which improved markedly as the term progressed. In three of their drawn games, their opponents survived with nine wickets down. R. N. McIntyre and R. D. F. Wright were useful all-rounders, with the latter scoring the side's only hundred, v Framlingham. The bowling generally lacked penetration, and the spin attack was disappointing, but dropped slip catches merely compounded the problem.

Blundell's, who lost to Taunton, Sherborne, MCC, Clifton and the Devon Dumplings, also went without a win, although rain cost them a likely victory v King's, Taunton. The most consistent batsman was N. A. MacIver, who, with C. D. Bending, passed 300 runs, while R. S. Castle (left-arm medium) was the leading bowler. Bradfield, with an experienced XI, enjoyed one of their most successful seasons, beating Charterhouse, Westminster, Winchester and Wellington plus five club sides. R. W. F. Perry, an opening batsman scored 599 runs, including 109 not out v Radley, as well as heading the bowling averages. J. D. Pearce was the leading wicket-taker, his slow left-arm spin claiming 34 wickets, and the team's accurate bowling and outstanding fielding were features of the season. Bradfield took part in the Sir Garfield Sobers Schools Festival in Barbados in August, as did Bradford GS, whose first overseas tour it was. Consequently, 1988 was the longest and fullest season in Bradford's history, with 34 matches, of which they won eighteen. Schools beaten included Royal GS Lancaster, Bolton and William Hulme's GS, and in the Barbados tournament Sherborne, Tonbridge and Presentation College, Trinidad. A strong bowling attack dismissed its opponents 22 times, and although the batting averages were dented by some poor pitches in the Caribbean, the year saw a number of fine innings played.

Brentwood's cricket was dominated by their captain M. D. Wilkins, a left-hand bat and off-spin bowler. Even on slow pitches his power enabled him to pierce the field or hit over the top; his unbeaten 115 v Berkhamsted, for example, included six sixes. Fourteen-year-old G. K. Fletcher, a left-handed opening batsman, scored an excellent 50 against an attack that included the former Essex off-spinner, D. L. Acfield. Against Framlingham, P. McGowan, a leg-spinner, had a hat-trick in his return of seven for 59. For Brighton College, J. P. Gibson and the captain, C. P. Sweet, scored 701 and 601 runs respectively. C. M. Long's 53 wickets included seven for 17 v Hurstpierpoint. Their nine victories improved their record to 99 wins in the last nine years.

A young Canford side did better than expected, defeating the XL Club, King Edward VI Southampton, Bryanston, Sherborne and MCC. Their leading batsmen were J. A. Perry and the captain and wicket-keeper, J. P. Blissard-Barnes, while T. R. Murray-Walker (medium) headed the bowling. Caterham, showing excellent team spirit under the able captaincy of R. L. M. Mauger, compensated for any lack of remarkable individual performances by every member of the side contributing at some stage. Of the batsmen N. B. Driscoll, S. J. Dawes and D. N. Podbur were exciting to watch, but the bowling depended too heavily on the fast-medium opener, D. J. Paisey. Cheltenham College enjoyed some good wins, notably those v Shrewsbury and Dean Close. Chigwell's record of only one win – over Buckhurst Hill CC – did not reflect the overall standard of their cricket. Good bowling saw them dismiss many of their opponents, but not quickly enough for the batsmen to capitalise. The captain, D. Clark, hit eight sixes in his 126 v Woodford Wells CC; the season's best bowling return was A. Brandon's six for 14 v Forest.

Christ College, Brecon, were particularly badly hit by the weather with eight matches abandoned without a ball bowled. Of their four wins, the most exciting was at home v Royal GS, Worcester. Put in, the College struggled to 141 all out and in reply Royal GS cruised to 61 for one. However, R. T. W. Horne, having conceded 18 runs from his first two overs, found line, lift and movement to bowl out the visitors for 81 and finish with seven for 28. The side batted in depth, and a predominantly seam attack was well supported by splendid catching and ground fielding. Christ's Hospital, another generally strong fielding side, managed only two wins, but the introduction of several promising Colts during the season provided optimism for the future. The strength of the XI was their bowling, with T. K. W. Welch and T. A. Fooks, the openers, performing consistently.

A young, exciting Clayesmore side enjoyed their best season for many years, winning eight games and losing only to Sherborne. The captain, G. Owton, opening batsman and wicket-keeper, increased to nine his centuries for the XI, hitting five in 1988 – 113 v Canford, 132 v Fosters, 116 v Hardye's, 100 not out v Millfield and 106 v MCC. Fifteen-year-old J. C. Latimer (né Rumball) scored his maiden hundred, 112 not out v Bearwood College, having converted to opening batsman when a disc injury restricted his promising pace bowling. J. Dike's in-swing bowling brought him 50 wickets, including seven for 28 v Victoria College, Jersey, and five in an innings another four times. Clifton College, also a young side, began well by beating Cheltenham, Blundell's and Colston's, just failed to beat Marlborough in an exciting draw, and lost by 1 run to Rugby. Highlights were returns of nine for 37 by C. M. Spiro v Taunton and nine for 52 from R. J. W. Holdsworth, the captain, v Colston's, both bowlers swinging the ball at fast-medium. Hundreds were scored by four batsmen, of whom R. J. R. Clark was the most accomplished. J. R. A. Williams captained Wales Under-15 and M. G. N. Windows represented HMC Under-15.

Given the side's youth and inexperience, Colfe's had a successful season. Much depended on R. Harmer, the captain and an accomplished left-handed opening bat, but injuries to the opening bowler, M. Wainman, and to P. Whiteland, a right-hand bat and leg-spin bowler, restricted the side's prospects in the later part of the season. Colston's, too, were hampered in the second half of the season by an injury to a key bowler, J. C. Reice's accurate medium pace being much missed. They had begun well with wins over Bristol Cathedral School, Queen Elizabeth's Hospital, Wycliffe College and Kingswood. Coventry School – Bablake retained the Birmingham and Warwickshire Under-19 Cup for the third year in succession and the eighth time in ten years. Most of their six wins came in that competition. The two defeats were by Royal GS Worcester and King Henry VIII, Coventry, and some drawn games could have gone either way. The captain, D. J. Barr, a left-handed batsman, played for Warwickshire Under-19 and M. G. H. Sutton, slow left-arm, for Warwickshire Under-15.

Cranbrook could not live up to the high standards of the previous two XIs, but the young side were ably captained by R. P. T. Lisle and showed promise for 1989. S. P. France was the quickest bowler on their school fixture list, while K. Wookey looked to have the potential to develop into an excellent all-rounder. If suffering a lean season in terms of matches won, Cranleigh none the less played some exciting cricket. In the draw v King's, Canterbury, there was a century by each side (R. A. J. Grove 105) and Cranleigh, chasing 263, were 5 runs short with nine wickets down at the end. The Lancing match finished with the scores level. T. C. Crouch (slow left-arm) and N. C. Radbourne (off-spin) bore the brunt of the bowling and benefited from generally enthusiastic fielding. The season culminated in an enjoyable two-week tour of Canada.

Outstanding for Dauntsey's was the captain, J. W. S. Porter, who in thirteen innings scored 1,104 runs, nearly four times more than the next batsman and 230 more than his own school record of the previous year. His speed of scoring led to several victories when a target had been set, and there were memorable wins v MCC, beaten in the final over, and King Edward's, Bath, when the winning four was hit off the last ball. N. L. Jephson advanced both with the bat and behind the stumps, while the medium-pace bowling of A. R. Gilmour became more accurate and hostile as the season progressed. Dean Close enjoyed an increasingly successful season in which four matches were won and one tied. T. A. Edginton, the captain and leading batsman, included 101 not out v Monmouth among several high scores, and bowled his left-arm spin well at times. T. M. Churchill, another slow left-arter, saw the results of his dedication and application when he finished with the most wickets. In a season of rebuilding, with only three returning from the previous XI, Denstone recorded notable victories over Bromsgrove and Abbot Beyne. Against the latter, the medium-pace all-rounder, J. Snape, returned eight for 46 and went on to head both averages and to captain English Schools Under-15. Although Dover College were unable to overcome the handicap of a weak attack, the batting was sound, with twelve fifties being hit in addition to the two hundreds from J. D. Rowse, a Kent Schools Under-16 representative. The captain, S. P. Howkins, ended his four years in the XI with a total of 1,757 runs and 105 wickets, the second-best record since the war.

Downside put out one of their best XIs for many years. A varied, well-balanced attack provided the captain, D. P. Morris, with many options and bowled out the opposition in eight of their thirteen matches. Dismissed themselves only twice, the side batted in depth, with six batsmen scoring fifties and G. C. J. Barrington making 107 not out in 25 overs v Strathallan. The Duke of York's Royal Military School likewise enjoyed their most successful season of late, playing well as a unit and working enthusiastically in the field. A. P. Glasby, the captain, batted soundly and correctly and recorded the side's only hundred, while A. G. Wilkinson and S. Gale both bowled well. On tour they beat Abingdon by one wicket, and at Royal GS, High Wycombe, were beaten by 1 run off the last ball. An excellent season brought Dulwich College seven wins, with Whitgift, Mill Hill, Ampleforth, Strathallan and Royal GS, Lancaster among the teams beaten. In a drawn game, St Paul's, with whom they tied in 1987, finished just 1 run behind Dulwich's 206 for seven declared, while in the Founder's Day match v Merchant Taylors', Dulwich scored 303 in 54 overs for the loss of five wickets. The captain, T. D. J. Ufton (son of the former Kent player, D. G. Ufton), made 132 not out in two hours. N. K. M. Talonpoika, a Colt, scored two centuries and topped both averages. Although the bowling could not match the batting, the fielding was outstanding. D. V. Trivedi claimed 21 dismissals behind the stumps (19 ct, 2 st), and J. P. Howland held nine catches.

At Durham, fourteen-year-old W. P. C. Weston, a left-handed opening batsman and left-arm fast bowler, showed much promise, scoring 458 runs and topping the bowling averages with 31 wickets. The captain, A. G. Clayton, returned six for 52 in the tie v Pocklington and finished with 33 wickets. The School won the Barclays Under-17 Cup, beating Millfield on run-rate in a rain-affected final.

On Eastbourne College's tour of New Zealand at Easter, the left-handed T. C. Nicholson scored 420 runs at 52.50 and then amassed a further 1,056 at 55.57, a College record, in the school term. He scored centuries v MCC, Cranleigh, Ardingly and Hurstpierpoint – against whom he and A. J. T. Halliday put on 174 for the first wicket. Fast bowler E. S. H. Giddins took 56 wickets, including nine for 14 (all bowled) against an Indian Schools XI and eight for 32 v Brighton College. F. A. Ali's 34 wickets included seven for 41 against a South African Schoolboys XI. Two early wins by The Edinburgh Academy were followed by two losses and a series of draws, a general brittleness in the batting and a temporary loss of form by two bowlers contributing to the malaise. However, on the damp wickets of July, opponents were bowled out for under 120 in six successive innings, and a run of five consecutive victories brought the season to a pleasing conclusion. Elizabeth College, Guernsey, were unbeaten for the second time in three years in a season which saw them undertake a five-match tour of the mainland, followed by a four-school festival in Guernsey. Their better performances were achieved mostly when batting first. S. B. R. Mackay and D. J. Marshall formed the basis of the batting, well supported by the captain and left-hander, N. E. G. Garrett. Mackay's 121 v King Edward VI, Southampton, was the side's only century, and notable performances with the ball were P. J. A. Moody's five for 9 v Victoria College, Jersey, and Garrett's six for 36 v Tiffin. In an enthralling game which either school could have won, Millfield finished with 168 for nine, chasing 177 to win.

The season at Ellesmere College provided handsome pickings for the Marvell brothers, both of whom scored 400 runs. D. J., a sound wicket-keeper, hit 101 not out v Rydal School, sharing a stand of 181 with his younger brother, M. J., whose left-arm spin bowling claimed 45 wickets and was instrumental in most of the team's six victories. A moderate Eltham College side made a poor start to the season, losing six of their first seven matches. The second half saw a revival, led by the captain, S. J. Goodfellow, whose fast-medium bowling and aggressive batting confirmed him as a useful all-rounder. Emanuel, who won eight matches, were runners-up in the Surrey Cup and semi-finalists in the London Cup. M. D. Coe was an outstanding all-rounder with 42 wickets and 848 runs, while the captain, S. J. Legg, also totalled 800 runs and hit the side's only hundred. The bowling of Enfield GS was weak, but by the end of the season, their batting had become both attractive and effective. The last two matches were won when chasing runs against the clock. Three centuries were scored in consecutive matches, D. Bowen successively hitting 135 v Merchant Taylors' and the first hundred for the School v MCC, and O. White hitting 109 v Queen Elizabeth's, Barnet.

A successful Epsom College XI was built on a trio of medium-pace bowlers – P. J. Vickars, W. E. J. Crawford and D. A. George – who set up the situations which resulted in most of the six wins. KCS Wimbledon, Dulwich, Christ's Hospital and St John's, Leatherhead were the schools beaten; Lancing and King's, Canterbury inflicted the only defeats. Vickars took seven for 38 v Christ's Hospital and six for 41 v Dulwich. D. R. Bance and G. D. Saunders-Griffiths both played three-figure innings, but the batting rarely inspired long-term confidence. Eton, a relatively inexperienced side, benefited from their winter tour of Hong Kong and Australia to achieve five wins – Bradfield by seven wickets, Charterhouse by nine wickets, the touring King's School, Parramatta by six wickets, the Butterflies and MCC. They did, however, suffer their first defeats in two years – to Radley, by three wickets off the last ball, and to Eton Ramblers. J. K. Erith (fast-medium) and T. P. M. Fleming (slow left-arm) were again the pick of the bowlers, while the batting was characterised by consistency rather than great deeds. Against Bradfield the left-handed H. R. E. Petre, an exciting batsman, helped Eton score 29 from the last eleven balls to win the match. Exeter School's young side managed more wins than in recent years but were possibly fortunate to escape with just the one defeat, by Simon Langton GS. The left-handed C. L. Bawden, again the leading batsman, shared in an opening partnership of 161 v Wellington School with R. P. Corney, the captain. The bowling was average, the fielding commendable.

Felsted's unbeaten record, with nine victories, owed much to the outstanding all-round feats of their captain, N. V. Knight. He also captained the English Schools and played for Essex II. A left-handed opening batsman, he hit five hundreds to top 1,000 runs for the second successive season, averaging 101.30; this took his total for the XI in four seasons to more than 3,000 runs, including ten centuries. Two of his hundreds and 280 runs came in his last three matches. He made a brilliant unbeaten 168 v Winchester, scoring 109 of the last 112 runs and breaking the School record for an individual innings – 158 not out by his brother, A. V. Knight, in 1986. In addition, mixing right-arm seam and wrist-spin, he took the most wickets, including a match-winning spell of five for 8 from ten overs in the 2-run victory over Uppingham. A highlight for Fettes College was the return of seven for 30 v Loretto by J. R. S. Lloyd. Forest's captain, A. C. Richards, led his side by example, and whether batting or bowling his off-spin he had another fine season. His 104 in the win over the XL Club was the XI's only hundred. There were important contributions from P. I. O'Neill at No. 4, B. J. Barnett, a left-hander who was also an outstanding fielder, and A. R. Heyes, the wicket-keeper. P. Butler and L. Adenaike, the opening bowlers, had tremendous stamina, and it was a hostile spell of six for 32 from Adenaike that helped beat Brentwood.

A strong, all-round Foyle and Londonderry College XI gained thirteen wins, capturing the Gordon McCullough Memorial Cup and reaching the final of the Northern Bank Schools Cup. The batting was dominated by S. Smyth, the captain, whose 1,026 runs included five centuries. He also captained Ulster Schools, for whom the bowlers, M. Simpson and S. Baldrick, were likewise selected, although injury prevented Baldrick from playing. Framlingham reported an encouraging season, with their young side enjoying a run of four consecutive wins against schools. In the eight-wicket victory v Bishop's Stortford, 201 was added for the second wicket by S. E. Iliffe (106 not out) and S. C. Giller (92). Giller, as well as heading the batting averages, was the leading wicket-taker.

Giggleswick, beaten in all five games on a three-city pre-season tour of Australia, began well at home by defeating Oakwood and the XL Club. However, lacking consistency, especially in their batting, they managed only one more win. The captain, M. P. Kaye, a left-handed batsman and spin bowler, enjoyed another good all-round season. Glenalmond, beaten only by Merchiston Castle, had schools wins v Fettes, Kelvinside, The Edinburgh Academy and Strathallan. Though out for seven weeks owing to injury, the captain, J. P. Brown, scored the most runs, including the side's only hundred. The bowling was impressive in its depth and variety, reflecting perhaps the amount of cricket played at the school. While a young side struggled to score runs on the North Lawn, Gordonstoun's bowlers were a dominant factor in a season which saw the XI win seven of their eleven matches. At Grenville College the wicket-keeper, G. S. Dermody, dominated the batting, C. P. Ely took the most wickets, and S. Wait, a fifteen-year-old who represented Devon in that age group, opened the bowling to good effect in his first season. Gresham's, beaten only by Ipswich in schools matches, were indebted to their seam bowling and the batting of T. Allison, H. E. M. Spence and S. Mussellwhite, a strong captain.

A winter tour of the Far East provided Haberdashers' Aske's with valuable experience and engendered a good team spirit which stood them in good stead for the 1988 season. They played entertaining cricket and were unbeaten, the most exciting of their eleven wins being v Queen Elizabeth's, Barnet, when they scored 124 in 12.3 overs. In a strong batting line-up, A. V. Spencer, the captain, and D. I. Chippeck batted superbly to score more than 600 runs apiece, Chippeck's including 120 v Enfield GS. The penetrative attack had three good seamers in D. A. Jordan, D. G. Musgrave and B. V. Arumugam, with D. B. Quinn (leg-spin) and M. I. Yeabsley (off-spin) lending contrast. Haileybury also benefited from a winter tour, the experience gained in Australia being a factor in their nine victories. Fine leg-spin bowling brought M. C. Goodson 45 wickets, with his return of six for 37 instrumental in the defeat of Harrow. He also scored 431 runs. D. C. L. Beynon, in his first year as captain, showed much promise and scored 619 runs.

Hampton enjoyed a successful, satisfying season with ten wins, only one loss, and a memorable draw v MCC in which they finished 1 run short of victory. The bowling, generally penetrative, was built around the left-arm spin of S. J. Patel, well supported by seamers S. A. H. Cochrane and R. A. F. Hall, each in his first season. J. P. Diprose scored two centuries and C. R. Westaway one, but the batting proved more solid when setting rather than chasing a target. A. J. B. Sales combined captaincy with wicket-keeping to good effect. Highgate's four wins included one by ten wickets v the XL Club and another by nine wickets v Westminster. D. N. Amato, the captain, was a consistent all-rounder, with 40 wickets and 451 runs, including four consecutive fifties. Also noteworthy was the match-winning bowling of R. N. A. Davenport, who took seven for 23 when Abingdon were bowled out for 59 – the only time they were dismissed by another school. Fielding an experienced side, Hipperholme GS had hoped for better results than one win and eight defeats, though three of these were by the narrowest of margins. On the bright side, there were some good bowling performances, particularly J. Hemingway's six for 39 v Habergham and J. F. Holt's six for 20 v Read. Hurstpierpoint could not repeat their success of 1987, although their Colts did win the Lord's Taverners' Trophy final in which M. Semmence took five for 9 v Oundle. M. J. Hastwell, who headed the XI's batting averages, played for Sussex II.

Ipswich had an outstanding season, winning eleven of their sixteen matches and losing only to the Old Boys in the last over after a declaration. N. Shahid was again their key player, scoring 937 runs and taking 67 wickets with his leg-spin. In all schools and representative games, he took 103 wickets. Shahid and the captain, N. J. Gregory, shared three century opening partnerships, two of which ensured ten-wicket wins v Gresham's and the Gentlemen of Suffolk, and both represented English Schools. Shahid also played for Essex II. T. Young's eleven catches and nineteen stumpings were another fine effort. Kelly College lost only one schools match, beat Wellington School in a close finish, and had the better of draws v Allhallows and Plymouth College. A. Adebayo, the captain and left-hand bat, hit a hundred and three fifties, while J. R. Wigley, another left-hander, usually gave the innings a good start. Adebayo, L. R. Shapcott and D. B. Broughton, all medium-pacers, were the pick of the bowlers but had to work for their wickets on the hard, flat pitches of May and June. A relatively young Kent College XI provided the school's most successful season for more than a decade, winning six games and losing only once. A strong batting side, they were captained by J. Barker, who opened the batting with S. Warley, the leading run-scorer, and kept wicket. In a balanced attack, G. Jenkins and R. Grove (both fast-medium) combined with fourteen-year-old E. McCabe (slow left-arm) to take most wickets.

King Edward VI College, Stourbridge, missed out on potential wins because of bad weather and unfavourable declarations. S. Mees and the captain, G. R. Haynes, who broke his own College record with an innings of 155 not out, scored consistently and quickly but lacked support. J. I. Hill (slow left-arm) took the most wickets in an attack which struggled at times on good pitches. The positive captaincy of M. Treherne, if sometimes costing matches by his declarations, brought King Edward VI, Southampton eleven wins. The mainstay of the team was P. D. Chrispin, left-hand bat and opening bowler, who collected 48 wickets and 712 runs. M. L. Tidby bowled his off-spin tenaciously and J. D. Stanley, opening the batting, scored 709 runs. King Edward's, Birmingham, lost only to MCC. The captain, P. N. J. Inglis, scored 116 v Camp Hill, M. J. Goodall's leg-breaks reaped six for 54 v Warwick, and M. M. Dean (fast-medium) took seven for 24 v Royal GS, Worcester. King Henry VIII, Coventry, enjoyed their best season for many years. Fine fielding supported an attack in which J. N. Plevin (fast-medium) was outstanding. His return of eight for 14 was the significant contribution in the six-wicket defeat of Coventry School, Bablake, the Warwickshire Under-19 champions. K. P. Street scored a maiden century v J. B. Vent's XI, and Colts P. H. Harrison, M. D. Scott and G. Gascoyne all made promising contributions.

King William's College, Isle of Man, reported cricket varying from excellent to dreadful. The former resulted in victories v Solihull, Aldenham, MCC and Queen Elizabeth GS, Wakefield. The captain, A. P. Woodward, bowled at a useful pace for long spells to take 43 wickets, as well as making a considerable contribution with the bat. M. L. Craine, an opening batsman, headed the averages in his first full season. King's College, Taunton, beat Canford, Monmouth and the XL Club, and with all except the captain expected to return, hopes are high for 1989. N. K. L. Coulson led his young side well and had an excellent year personally with 577 runs and 30 wickets. The left-arm spinner, D. J. G. Dowsett looked a good prospect, as did A. F. Lacy-Smith, an opening bowler, and M. F. D. Robinson, a batsman who bowled tidily. Indifferent results for King's College School, Wimbledon, stemmed from some inconsistent and diffident batting, even from experienced players. The steadiest batting came from the fifteen-year-old J. Parrish, and D. W. Talbot turned in consistently good all-round performances.

King's School, Bruton, reported a much more rewarding season than in 1987, with victories over Compton House, Allhallows, the Old Boys, Sexeys School, Bristol GS and – in the final over – King's, Taunton. Leading the side maturely and with some vision, J. Petrie had a good term with bat and ball, while wicket-keeper-batsman N. Allison produced an array of scoring strokes to head the batting averages. Unbeaten in schools matches, King's, Canterbury, defeated Epsom, Highgate, Eastbourne and St Lawrence College. They batted first in every match, winning the toss only once, and might have won more games with another strike bowler to support J. R. Davies. His 48 wickets included a return of seven for 54 which nearly brought victory v Sutton Valence, the only school to bowl them out. Runs were plentiful, with four century opening partnerships. The left-handed opening batsman, N. V. Daley, scored 145 not out in King's 262 for two declared v Cranleigh (258 for nine). King's, Chester, recorded six wins and only one loss, but their July was frustrating with seven fixtures completely rained off and three washed out soon after starting. If anything, the XI missed a depth in bowling to support the powerful batting line-up and the off-spin of the captain, C. P. Goodier.

An inexperienced side, King's, Ely, worked well together to produce a series of excellent wins, many in close finishes. The batting was dominated by the captain, T. D. Gallop, and R. J. Claxton, a left-hander who opened for Cambridgeshire Under-19, while D. Hindle, who captained Cambridgeshire Under-17, took 44 wickets bowling his left-arm slows. King's, Macclesfield, having drawn their first match, then set a school record by winning eight in succession before their fortunes changed and they won only one of the last ten. Schools beaten were Cheadle Hulme, William Hulme's GS, Arnold, Bolton, Stockport GS, Birkenhead, Rossall and Abbot Beyne. Their strong point was the leg-spin bowling of S. J. White, who took 50 wickets for the second successive season, and played for The Rest at Oxford, while there was positive batting from the captain and wicket-keeper, S. R. Swindells. After a predictably shaky start, the young King's, Rochester, XI played well and were unlucky not to win many of their drawn games. M. J. Walker, a fourteen-year-old left-handed opening batsman, was an outstanding prospect whose 818 runs included 124 v Chatham House. A possible weakness was the lack of penetrative bowling to support the captain, I. J. Nightingale, who captured 58 wickets.

Another school fielding an inexperienced side, King's, Worcester, struggled to score enough runs for a useful attack to bowl at. Some valuable all-round performances came from D. A. W. Hughes, whose century against a Jersey Schools XI ended the season on a high note. Kingston GS only once scored more than 150. With the senior players falling below expectations, the junior players took a long time to find their feet, although E. S. Gratton and M. E. Bendel hinted at better times ahead. Kingswood, with a stronger batting side than for many years, were dismissed only once. On the other hand, only one school side, Dauntsey's, was bowled out; set 194, they collapsed to 37 all out as J. M. Thompson took seven for 14. The captain, R. W. Lewis, increased his career aggregate to a new school record.

Lancing's single defeat was by Tonbridge in the first match of the season; thereafter they won ten and drew five games in probably the College's longest unbeaten sequence. They beat Brighton College, Hurstpierpoint and Eastbourne to win the Langdale Cup, and in other fixtures defeated Sussex Schools, Free Foresters, Ardingly, Epsom, Sussex Martlets, Hurstpierpoint and Charterhouse. A tight, accurate attack was spearheaded by A. S. Puddephatt (fast), with R. H. D. Spink (medium) and A. R. Hewitt (off-spin) supporting admirably. Bowling first and chasing low scores left few opportunities for heavy scoring, but five batsmen scored 300 runs. Of these, the captain, A. A. Gosden, with 374 runs, achieved Lancing's highest recorded average, 93.50. For Leeds GS T. C. Walton had an outstanding season, scoring 632 runs at 126.40 and taking 41 wickets at medium pace, which culminated in his selection for England Schools Under-15. Equally significant were the all-round contributions of J. R. Goldthorp (leg-spin and googlies) and G. O. J. Hill (medium), who put on four century opening stands, including 216 in the win v Bradford GS and 195 in the defeat by Nottingham HS. Both played for Yorkshire Senior Schools and Goldthorp for ESCA North. Other schools beaten were Ermsyld's GS, Hipperholme GS, Hymer's College, Bradford GS and Woodhouse Grove.

Leighton Park went without a win, although twice they were close to victory. They lacked bowlers to support the medium-paced openers, P. Wall and I. Dhajoo, and a batsman to complement the run-scoring of the captain, J. Thomas, who represented Berkshire Schools Under-19. The Leys fielded their strongest batting side for some years. The wicket-keeper, D. O. Solomon, scored 124 v Felsted, and notable contributions came from the captain, C. W. Barker, P. R. Searle and N. R. Lankester. However, Searle (fast-medium) and Lankester (leg-breaks) were the only bowlers to take ten wickets, and at least four likely victories eluded the side because they failed to prise out the last batsmen. The Leys participated in the schools festival in Barbados. Liverpool College, with a young side, managed only one victory, but it was an impressive one, achieving a target of 225 to beat Manchester GS. The batting was grittier than in 1987, but the bowlers, suffering from inexperience and often lacking control, failed to dismiss any school side. Lord Wandsworth College had five wins over schools. Their strength lay in the batsmen's ability to chase a target, with eleven fifties coming from the top four. The stylish batting of M. J. Critchley was a delight to watch. Although lacking penetration, the attack was sufficiently containing.

Lord Williams's School, Thame, failed to live up to their pre-season promise, especially with the bat. With the captain, T. Jordan, not striking form until well into the season, much depended on the all-rounders, M. Bateman and G. Stanbury. In schools matches they beat Aylesbury GS by six wickets and drew close games v Magdalen College School (the scores were level) and Wellingborough School. Against Loretto's economical attack, only Glenalmond passed 150. The captain, M. C. Eglinton, took the most wickets, while S. S. Hodgson's slow-medium in-swingers brought him returns of four for 6 v Dollar Academy and five for 1 v Kelvinside Academy. The batting was at times brittle, too much depending on Hodgson, who opened the innings. A right-arm bowler, he batted left-handed. They were unbeaten at the St Peter's, York, festival and finished with a good win v Cranleigh. Loughborough GS reported another successful season; their one defeat by Uppingham was the first by a school for some years. They bowled better than they batted, but there was a fine unbeaten 111 v Union HS by the captain, I. Bell, who also captained Midlands Schools. The slow left-armed, C. J. Hawkes, took 34 wickets and went on to play for English Schools v Sri Lanka Under-17; S. Pickering took eight for 36 v King Henry VIII, Coventry.

It was a season of rebuilding for Magdalen College School, but they had many exciting finishes, including one tied match. Although several inexperienced players developed well, the batting understandably lacked the depth to back up the captain, J. A. Turner, and M. B. Bixby, an outstanding Colt. The leading wicket-taker was again S. N. Webb (slow left-arm). J. R. Wileman and the Malvern College captain, was pre-eminent, with 31 wickets bowling medium-fast and 783 runs, including 106 not out in his first match of the season and 133 not out v Marlborough. Against Clifton, he and B. C. Usher reached three figures off consecutive balls and he also took five for 36. Manchester GS did better before half-term, when good team performances resulted in wins v Bolton, Stockport GS, Shrewsbury and Birkenhead. Later, doubts over the quality of the bowling were realised and only two more matches were won – v Newcastle-under-Lyme and King Edward VII, Lytham. The batting was excellent, with J. P. Crawley, opener and also wicket-keeper, scoring 900 runs, including 152 not out v Royal GS, Lancaster, and 160 not out v Liverpool College in successive matches. His opening partner, the left-handed D. J. Worsley, while more circumspect, hit a delightful unbeaten 124 v Arnold and M. J. P. Ward, striking a rich vein late in the season, hit an unbeaten 100 v Bury. C. F. Sinton, a thirteen-year-old leg-spinner brought in to balance the attack, was the discovery of the season and finished with the most wickets, including six for 55 v Bradford GS.

Marlborough College were undefeated; but unable to bowl sides out on good pitches, and rarely set a realistic target because of their strong batting line-up, they managed only four wins. Opposing captains invariably recalled their 296 in 55 overs v Free Foresters. J. S. Kerr, a positive captain, was the most prolific batsman, D. M. A. Bevan (medium) the most consistent wicket-taker, and M. A. Foulds was outstanding in the field. T. C. Marcon showed promise behind the stumps. Merchant Taylors', Crosby, overcame the absence through injury for much of the season of their captain and wicket-keeper-batsman, R. W. Glynn-Jones. They lost just the once and had a ten-wicket win v King William's College, Isle of Man, as one of two victories. I. G. Sutcliffe, opening bat and off-spinner, impressed in his first full season, scoring 109 v Leeds GS, and I. K. Wright, the acting-captain, batted with patience and application. Merchant Taylors', Northwood, batted vigorously to beat St Albans, Enfield GS, University College School, Westminster, Mill Hill and Bryanston in schools matches and lost only to Highgate. With 867 runs, including 140 not out v Westminster, A. J. Brand scored more than anyone since the legendary Raphael and Dennis in 1901. Bowling off-spin, he also took 35 wickets, six of them for 20 v Highgate. With the seam bowling disappointing, much depended on Brand and the fifteen-year-old slow left-arm spinner, R. A. Hawkey, who took 52 wickets.

Merchiston Castle won their first five schools matches, and after defeats by Ballymena Academy GS and The Edinburgh Academy, they finished by beating Denstone and Nottingham HS on a tour of the Midlands. S. J. Elworthy, 32 wickets at 8.03 apiece, and S. D. L. Francis (left-arm) comprised an effective seam bowling partnership that gave little away and was supported by admirable fielding. The side batted all the way down the order. The season was made memorable by D. M. Streek's innings of 242 in a two-day match v Fettes College. He hit his first hundred in 80 minutes before lunch and batted in all for three and a quarter hours, hitting 37 fours and one six. With A. H. W. Boyle he added 237 for the fourth wicket and Merchiston Castle declared at 379 for six. It is believed that Streek's innings, the total and the partnership are all records for Scottish schoolboy cricket. Millfield, unbeaten by schools for the third successive season, were a powerful batting side who recorded six centuries. D. L. Hemp hit three of them. With the England Under-17 strike bowler, J. C. Hallett, frequently unavailable because of injury, the bowling was steady rather than penetrative. G. D. Lucas captained Welsh Schools Under 17 and along with Hemp played for the Under-19 side. [Note: In the Millfield report in the 1988 Wisden it states incorrectly that G. D. Lucas batted with P. C. L. Holloway in an unbroken opening partnership of 252. The stand, worth 250, was between Holloway (103 not out) and D. Luckes (132 not out).]

Mill Hill had a disappointing season; they beat MCC but lost seven schools matches. Milton Abbey's young side enjoyed an exciting season, with strong batting and good fielding to support their spinners, H. E. Panter (slow left-arm) and H. G. H. Groves (off-breaks). R. S. Padmore, 121 not out v Allhallows, and S. J. E. Courage, the captain and wicket-keeper, with 121 v King's, Bruton, played the outstanding innings. Monkton Combe's season was their most successful for some years. They won seven matches – five against schools – and lost only to MCC. The opening partnership of R. S. Deacock and R. J. Payne, well supported by the captain, M. P. Davis, underpinned the batting; the bowling was spearheaded by N. F. Robb, who took 36 wickets at medium pace.

Newcastle-under-Lyme School found that batting could be an embarrassingly difficult business. Only M. H. Colclough, a third-former and Staffordshire Under-17 representative, demonstrated an ability to build an innings. Consequently, the hostile bowling of D. J. Brock was often wasted. A young Norwich School side acquitted themselves well, achieving good wins v Holbrook RHS, St Joseph's and King Edward VI, King's Lynn, and coming close in other encounters. The pace bowling of N. R. Temperley brought him 32 wickets, while the batting potential shown by A. J. Rushmer, R. F. Blackburn, A. J. R. Williamson and S. E. Jessup, augurs well for 1989. Although disappointing in terms of results, the season of Nottingham HS was memorable for the batting of the captain, N. A. Hunt, whose 1,108 runs included five centuries, three of them in consecutive games.

As expected, The Oratory's experienced XI excelled, going through the season unbeaten. Nine wins included those v Douai by 193 runs, St Edmund's College, Pangbourne College and Shiplake College, all by four wickets, and MCC by five wickets. Few sides could cope with the all-round attack, spearheaded by S. R. Wright, who bowled fast and well for his 42 wickets at 8.64, including six for 31 v Leighton Park. The batting, headed by P. J. Coverdale, the captain, was strong, with fifteen-year-old J. Clarke an outstanding prospect. Oundle were rewarded for playing positive cricket. In schools matches they lost only to Stowe, following a declaration, and beat Mill Hill, The Leys, Uppingham, Oakham and St Edward's. Batting through the order, they were able to achieve targets, often against the clock. The captain, R. Jenkins (fast-medium) bowled exceptionally well for his 52 wickets, including six for 58 v Rugby, and took his total in three years to 133. Oakhams looked a useful side in the field, with I. Forsyth a particularly effective medium-pace bowler, but the batting was weak. An exception was the opening batsman, U. Malhotra, an exchange student from Delhi, who scored 500 runs.

The Perse beat Culford, Chigwell and a Cambridgeshire County Club XI, and went close in a number of drawn games. Despite the presence of several attacking batsmen, and expectations aroused by the captain, N. M. Law's 100 not out in the first match v Framlingham, the batting disappointed in the latter part of the season. Off-spinner D. L. Young, the leading bowler, took seven for 81 v Old Perseans, and there were sustained spells of hostile fast bowling by R. M. C. Scott. An enjoyable and successful season for Plymouth College culminated in a tour to Denmark, where the Danish Under-18 side inflicted their only defeat of the summer. The attack was well led by C. Vinson, whose return of seven for 12 in nine overs v Warwick was a highlight. The first six batsmen did all that was expected of them, usually at a brisk rate, and there were hundreds from S. Summers and A. Kerr, the wicket-keeper, whose 25 dismissals included six stumpings.

Pocklington won ten of their first fourteen matches before rain affected six. The outstanding game was a tie v Durham. The opening partnership of A. T. Pettinger and M. J. Wood, who scored 1,406 runs between them, provided a strong base from which to set a target or chase one. Wood was also the leading bowler, his leg-spin accounting for 51 batsmen. Prior Park College had a mixed season. Although batting collapses led to two of their defeats, the team's real weakness was an inability to bowl sides out and capitalise on winning positions. M. Woodhouse topped the batting averages for the third year, to finish his career with 1,600 runs for the XI, and G. Lee, an off-spinning all-rounder, is expected to be the mainstay in 1989.

In a season which saw a return to home matches, Queen Elizabeth GS, Wakefield, were hampered both by injuries and by a negative attitude on the part of some players. Too often heads were allowed to drop under pressure. Notable exceptions were the captain, P. Maynard, G. Millman and G. Littlewood. With no one batsman capable of holding the innings together, it required three or four to make moderate scores to give the bowlers a chance and this did not always eventuate. Victories were achieved over Hipperholme GS, William Hulme's GS, Oakwood, Batley GS and Old Savilians. Despite their lack of a penetrative attack, Queen's College, Taunton, reported a satisfactory season, in which they lost only to Wesley College from Perth, Australia. The captain, B. C. Wixey, headed the averages, and M. Knight and M. E. Gibson played valuable supporting innings. A more penetrative attack might have led to fewer draws.

Unbeaten by schools, Radley owed much to their captain, M. J. Lowrey, whose 686 runs included an innings of 144 v Winchester. Ratcliffe College, lacking any depth of batting, were carried by their captain, R. J. Adcock, who scored the side's only hundred – v Robert Smyth – and was the most penetrative bowler with his left-arm swing. Reading's young side was built around O. D. Beckett and T. J. C. Dance – left-hand opening bat and right-arm opening bowler – who scored nearly 1,000 runs between them. Beckett hit 119 not out v Royal GS, Colchester, and 102 not out v Reading Blue Coat; Dance scored 111 v his old school, Lord Wandsworth College, and took six for 36 v Reading Blue Coat and seven for 22 v Leighton Park. Dismissing Pangbourne College for 25, Dance took six for 12 and B. D. Hall, a leg-spinner, four for 11. The failure of the senior batsmen in the Reed's XI to score consistently placed a heavy burden on two promising all-rounders, J. R. Dharmasena and J. R. Ovenden. Five of the sixteen fixtures were won. A talented Reigate GS side developed a frustrating tendency to squander winning positions, although there were eight good victories, including those by eight wickets v Emanuel and Caterham. The captain, C. S. Bates, J. P. Jackson and M. M. G. Wright led the way with the bat, and J. S. Hudson made 100 v Hampton. The main back-up for the XI's outstanding left-arm seam bowler, D. F. Rowlinson, whose 49 wickets were the best return in recent times, came from the left-arm spin of D. M. Gregory.

Under the captaincy of J. Fellows, Reidcomb played some fine cricket to win six matches, losing just one. The attack was well-balanced with pace from C. Huck, seam support from C. Bannister and N. Suffolk, and contrasting spin from A. Jones (left-arm) and H. Le Fleming (off-breaks). Early in the season, runs were not scored quickly enough, but the rate improved later. Repton beat Rugby, Oakham, Malvern, Wrekin and the Repton Pilgrims, losing only to MCC and Royal GS, Worcester. They had the upper hand in many of their nine draws, but struggled to bowl out the opposition. There were some notable batting performances, with three-figure innings from the captain, C. E. Wall, R. F. Williamson, R. A. C. Jerman and A. E. Jordan. Rossall's bowlers similarly lacked the ability to force a win, which resulted in eleven draws and just three wins – v Merchant Taylors' Crosby, the XL Club and Old Rossallians. The captain, D. M. Indo, led the batting by example, becoming the first Rossall player for several years to top 500 runs, while fourteen-year-old J. Elliott did well to head the batting averages in his first season.

Royal GS, Guildford, frequently bowling sides out cheaply, won ten of their last thirteen matches. P. Challinor, who also scored the side's only century, and M. Gore provided the edge to an incisive attack. Royal GS, Worcester, followed an Easter tour of Zimbabwe with an excellent domestic season. D. W. Headley was often too quick for schoolboy batsmen, and the leg-spin of the captain, J. S. Waters, gave contrasting support. G. T. G. Burrow and M. J. N. Taylor, who made two hundreds, provided a solid start to the batting, and M. J. Walker invariably made runs when it mattered. Headley represented English Schools, as did the Rugby captain, B. C. A. Ellison, who had an outstanding all-round season for his school. Against Marlborough he scored 104 not out and took six for 93; in the 1-run victory over Clifton, his figures were nine for 81. Another highlight was the opening partnership of 128 v Stowe between R. R. Montgomerie and G. A. D. Whittaker. Rugby's Under-15s were runners-up in the Lord's Taverners' Trophy, which augurs well for the future. Rydal put behind them an early defeat by Birkenhead to develop into a useful side, beaten thereafter only by MCC. The high point was a first win v William Hulme's GS, in which the captain, A. G. Moore, scored a fine century. The bowling revolved around P. J. Acheson (leg-spin) and the opener, R. L. Stewart, who returned six for 5 v Ruthin.

St Albans began a run of six consecutive wins with the stuff of schoolboy fiction. H. E. Sherman, having had his nose broken during fielding practice beforehand, took six for 5 in his first match in the XI to help defeat local rivals, St Columba's. The sequence ended with victory over the Old Boys for the first time in 25 years. The batting had depth and wickets were easier to come by than in recent years. In their centenary year, St Dunstan's enjoyed their second successive season unbeaten by schools. They lost only to a strong Old Boys side. The opening batsman, M. J. Dowse, scored consistently, but the outstanding batting came from G. R. S. Scovell, who hit three hundreds in the last five matches: 104 not out v Royal GS, Guildford, 100 not out v the XL Club, and 100 v Barnard Castle. The last two were scored in successive matches, with the second fifties coming from eleven and thirteen balls respectively. Bowling leg-breaks and googlies, Scovell was also the leading wicket-taker. A tour of Australis was planned for December. St Edmund's, Canterbury, had an enjoyable season of positive cricket played under the intelligent and selfless captaincy of M. J. E. Horton. J. D. Bowden, a fourteen-year-old left-hander, came within 40 runs of the school record and hit 162 v the XL Club. Another highlight was the ten-wicket win v the Old Boys.

The results of St Edward's, Oxford, failed to do justice to their potential. There were particularly good performances v Abingdon, Eton and MCC. Although generally lacking the penetration to achieve positive results, the bowlers stuck to their task well and particular improvement was shown by J. M. E. Lawes (off-spin) and M. S. Ghalib (leg-break/googly). The batting was always explosive, if occasionally irresponsible, but A. C. Dobson was a dependable opening bat. T. H. C. Hancock's all-round contribution revealed him as a player of considerable promise. St George's, Weybridge, beaten only by MCC, defeated Kingston GS, St Benedict's, Tiffin and St John's, Leatherhead. I. D. Turner, who scored the most runs and captured 28 wickets with his off-breaks, took six for 46 v St John's, Leatherhead – and later kept wicket for HMC Southern Schools at Oxford. J. Sayers's 101 not out v Tiffin was the side's only hundred, and the left-arm spinner, T. Clark's 34 wickets included six in an innings v St Benedict's.

St John's, Leatherhead, beat the XL Club, KCS Wimbledon and Whitgift to win more matches than in 1987, but defeats still outnumbered victories. Nor could they take comfort from any outstanding individual performances. The young players of St Joseph's, Ipswich, made pleasing progress, and could have won more games with greater experience in the middle-order batting. At St Lawrence College much depended on L. M. Willsmer, right-hand bat and medium-pace swing bowler, but R. J. Elliott looked a fine prospect. Their three wins came v Dover College, Framlingham and Old Lawrentians. St Paul's, for whom seven batsmen passed 150 runs, reported an unremarkable season in which they were unbeaten by schools. Following their tied match v Dulwich v 1987, they finished the 1988 fixture on 205 for seven in reply to Dulwich's 206 for seven declared. St Peter's, York, drew twelve of their eighteen matches. In a batting line-up boasting depth and ability, W. J. Robinson played some fine, aggressive innings, including 125 not out v Pocklington. P. F. Wand bowled his slow left-arm spin impressively and N. P. Durham kept to a consistently high standard. At the end of term, St Peter's hosted a successful six-school festival.

Sedbergh's season did not quite live up to the expectations inspired by a successful tour of Trinidad at Christmas. No batsman scored heavily, and only S. D. Gawthorpe with any consistency. A well-balanced attack proved too strong for most opposition, but too many sides were content to settle for a draw from an early stage. Highlights for Sevenoaks were innings of 100 not out v Brentwood by J. D. Fry and 100 v Ardingly by D. E. Neil-Dwyer. Sherborne, ably captained by T. R. Ashworth, beat Bradfield, Clifton, Blundell's and Haileybury, and in schools matches lost only to Canford. There were fine innings by P. Hodges and S. J. Leeke, particularly their unbroken fifth-wicket partnership of 150 v Millfield, and M. C. Evans. The bowling, built on the pace of R. P. O. Springfield and the off-spin of Hodges, was backed up profitably in the field and by the excellent wicket-keeping of J. de la Hey. Shrewsbury's relatively inexperienced XI recorded encouraging wins v Malvern, Uppingham and Ellesmere, thanks mainly to the batting and astute captaincy of J. M. Jones. The runs (435) and wickets (40) of D. J. Bowett proved valuable, as did the bowling of his left-arm opening partner, D. M. W. Roberts, whose 27 wickets included six for 22 v Malvern.

In a highly successful season, Simon Langton GS won ten times, losing only to Exmouth CC. The batting was strong, founded on the first three – N. S. Cox (left-hand), D. G. Newton and N. R. Henn. P. C. Relf captained the XI efficiently and bowled his off-breaks with considerable success, often in tandem with A. D. Judge (slow left-arm). Solihull's early-season pattern was rather like the weather's – scattered showers and sunny intervals. They lost three times through poor batting and then produced an opening stand of 160 v King's, Worcester, with a century from E. J. M. Jones. A tour of the Isle of Man heralded an improvement with victory by 193 runs over an island Under-19 XI, P. Wheeler scoring an unbeaten 100 in a total of 273 for two. Subsequently, Bromsgrove, Old Sils, University College School and Barnard Castle were also beaten. An unbroken seventh-wicket partnership of 119 between D. C. Pritchard (93) and M. Bevins (44) carried Solihull to victory when Barnard Castle's 228 for nine looked out of reach.

Stamford, who beat only Nottingham HS, were disappointed not to do better. The batsmen too often failed to build on a start of 20 or 30, while in turn the bowlers struggled to maintain a consistent line and length. A tie v the Old Boys, resulting from enterprising batting by the school, was one of the season's few highlights. Although winning only three matches, Stockport GS enjoyed their cricket. The captain, I. Millner (left-hand), several times held the innings together and won selection for Cheshire Under-19. R. Patel, when he recovered from injury, was the most reliable bowler, and his seven for 53 v William Hulme's GS was a major factor in Stockport's most convincing victory. P. Duckworth, slow left-arm bowler and left-handed batsman, contributed a number of valuable all-round performances.

Stonyhurst remained unbeaten by a school for the second successive season, although Sedbergh came close to upsetting their record. While the lack of penetrative bowling was a handicap, the splendid example set by the captain, G. O'Driscoll, with the bat made the school difficult to beat. His two impressive unbeaten centuries, the highest 146 v Royal GS, Lancaster, were the best innings by a Stonyhurst cricketer for some time. Strathallan, a weak side on paper, performed better than expected and won five times. Their success owed much to the consistent batting of the opener, R. B. Moffat, and the effective strike bowling of R. A. Hatfield and R. G. Brown. A highlight for Sutton Valence, who won nine matches, was J. Barr's return of seven for 23 v the XL Club.

For Taunton, with eight wins and only one defeat, two players were outstanding. P. C. L. Holloway, the captain and wicket-keeper, who had joined the school from Millfield, scored 568 runs, including 152 not out v Fettes. In addition, he was called up by his county, Warwickshire, to make his first-class debut and represented English Schools Under-17. A Habib, who headed the batting averages, represented English Schools Under-17 and Under-19, having been the leading run-scorer at the MCC Schools Festival. Had Tiffin's ability to score runs been matched by a similar ability to take wickets, they would have had a wonderful season. N. J. B. Howell, opening bat and captain, amassed 902 runs, with two hundreds and seven fifties, and J. Matthews, a forcing middle-order left-hander, also hit two hundreds. Both played for Surrey Young Cricketers. With D. K. Jones, Howell put on a record-breaking opening partnership of 250 v St Benedict's, each reaching three figures. Their five victories were all against school sides. Trent College, a young side, played attractive, attacking cricket and an encouraging season resulted. T. C. White's three hundreds equalled the school record, and I. R. Birch's 32 wickets indicated that there is still a place in the game for the leg-spinner.

Trinity beat eight sides, among them Eltham College, King's Rochester, Caterham, Emanuel and KCS Wimbledon, but with a fixture list of 21 games they had hoped for more wins. The bowling, if somewhat disappointing, possessed an effective medium-pacer in J. D. Good, who took 50 wickets; J. D. Morley was the leading batsman with more than 700 runs. The season was rounded off with a tour of Holland. A highlight for University College School was an innings of 103 not out v Westminster by fourteen-year-old R. J. Ayre. The only other player to reach three figures was A. J. Stewart, who headed the batting. Missing key players through injuries, Uppingham could manage wins only v Bishop's Stortford, Trent and Loughborough GS. The major innings was an excellent unbeaten 104 by J. H. Renison v Repton. Victoria College, Jersey, were dominated by two outstanding all-rounders: A. J. Clarke (947 runs, 42 wickets) and the captain, P. J. Le Cornu (920 runs, 43 wickets). Le Cornu finished five seasons in the XI with an aggregate of 3,105 runs, beating W. Jenner's record by 77, while Clarke's 111 v Elizabeth College, Jersey, was only the third post-war century for Victoria against their Channel Islands rival.

Prompted by the attacking captaincy of C. G. Stanton, Warwick School were involved in some close finishes, with four matches being decided off the last ball. Stanton scored centuries v the XL Club and Royal GS, Worcester, but the most successful player was the all-rounder, C. G. Oswald, whose well-controlled off-spin brought him 62 wickets, seven more than the school record set by G. J. Lord in 1979. Watford GS, while competently captained by M. Kendall, had a lean season, beating only Tiffin and drawing eleven games. Often, victory was but a few runs or wickets away when stumps were drawn. A. Griffin set a school record of 613 runs, 532 of them coming before the end of May.

Wellingborough beat Wisbech GS, Watford GS, Alleyn's, Trent College, Kimbolton and Ratcliffe in an excellent season; their only defeat was by Millfield at a festival in Guernsey. R. Cousins had an outstanding season, bowling with genuine pace at times to finish with 72 wickets, while J. M. Atfield confirmed his promise with 608 runs and 35 wickets, bowling off-breaks. Wellington College beat Winchester, lost to Bradfield and MCC, and drew the other twelve matches played. M. C. K. Hodgson, a left-hander, hit a hundred v Stowe and was the mainstay of the batting. But the middle order was fragile. The bowling, steady if unspectacular, was not helped by vital catches being dropped, although the ground fielding was keen. Wellington School, too, suffered from the dropping of critical catches. They lacked the batting and bowling to achieve many positive results, but a young side gained valuable experience.

Despite hopes of something better following a winter tour of India, Westminster's performances were maddeningly uneven, four victories being interspersed with overwhelming defeats. The captain, J. Hyam's failure to score runs haunted others, and without the aggressive contribution of D. J. Cogan, who scored 104 not out v Lords and Commons, the record would have been dire. The bowling was similarly nondescript, with A. Lancaster, the most promising bowler, missing much of the season through injury. Whitgift won four matches, including those v Trinity and Christ's Hospital, but in other schools matches lost to Brighton, Dulwich, KCS Wimbledon and St John's, Leatherhead. The batting tended to be unreliable, with the exception of N. S. Auer, who passed 600 runs for the second season. William Hulme's GS maintained their reputation for positive cricket, with only one match drawn, apart from the three curtailed by rain. The win at Birkenhead, chasing 215, was a highlight, and an innings of 144 not out from the opening batsman and captain, D. M. J. Timm, resulted in a splendid victory v King Edward's, Lytham. On tour, their out-cricketer was of the highest standard and ensured wins v Pocklington, Hymers and Bolton Abbey CC. However, A. D. Cleary's six wickets were just not enough to prevent Bradford GS from winning off the last ball.

Woodhouse Grove, with a relatively inexperienced side, played positive cricket and were rewarded with wins v Bootham, Bradford GS, Hymers and Queen Elizabeth GS, Wakefield. Their only defeat was at the hands of Leeds GS. J. L. Gomersall's sound technique stood him in good stead at the start of the innings and, a more forceful batsman than in 1987, he was selected for Yorkshire Senior Schools. S. N. Lee, who played for Yorkshire Schools Under-15, took 28 wickets with well-controlled, well-flighted leg-spin and googlies, including seven for 58 v Bootham and six for 48 v Bradford GS. Worksop's young side improved as the season progressed. The batting relied on fourteen-year-old R. A. Kettleborough, although others, especially J. D. Goode, played useful innings. The bowling was steady but often lacked the penetration to force a win. Wrekin College, also with a young side, achieved some excellent results, including wins v MCC, Wellington CC, Shropshire Gentlemen and Liverpool College. S. R. Jackson led by example with both bat and ball, and C. C. P. Davies, a junior Colt, revealed some good stroke-play when scoring 116 runs in his two appearances.

Wycliffe College reported a generally disappointing season, not least because of the weather, but their young players did gain valuable experience. J. F. P. Tovey and G. M. Collins opened the batting with some consistency, M. H. Workman and R. M. Clements provided fleeting moments of class, and the captain, S. G. Cady, put together some hard-hitting innings towards the end of the season. J. M. Thomas deserved more wickets from his canny medium pace, but the one bowler capable of working his way through a side was Cady with his left-arm quicks. Wyggeston and Queen Elizabeth I Sixth Form College were unbeaten, winning five of their seven matches. Another five were abandoned. The captain, J. L. Green (fast-medium), had figures of seven for 30 and nine for 11 in the defeats of King Edward's, Stourbridge and Lawrence Sheriff respectively. They won the Leicestershire Under-19 Cup for the third consecutive year, beating John Cleveland College in the final as they had in 1987.
